Frontier Intimacies Paola Canova, 2020-10-20 Set in a Mennonite colony of Paraguay's remote Chaco region this book tracks the lives and contested practices of indigenous Ayoreo women who commodify their sexuality exposing the fractured workings of frontier capitalism

Human Rights Encounter Legal Pluralism Giselle Corradi, Eva Brems, Mark Goodale, 2017-05-18 This collection of essays interrogates how human rights law and practice acquire meaning in relation to legal pluralism ie the co existence of more than one regulatory order in a same social field As a social phenomenon legal pluralism exists in all societies As a legal construction it is characteristic of particular regions such as post colonial contexts Drawing on experiences from Latin America Sub Saharan Africa and Europe the contributions in this volume analyse how different configurations of legal pluralism interplay with the legal and the social life of human rights At the same time they enquire into how human rights law and practice influence interactions that are subject to regulation by more than one normative regime Aware of numerous misunderstandings and of the mutual suspicion that tends to exist between human rights scholars and anthropologists the volume includes contributions from experts in both disciplines and intends to build bridges between normative and empirical theory

Violence Against Women in Legally Plural settings Anna Barrera, 2015-11-19 This book addresses a growing area of concern for scholars and development practitioners discriminatory gender norms in legally plural settings Focusing specifically on indigenous women this book analyses how they often in alliance with supporters and allies have sought to improve their access to justice Development practitioners working in the field of access to justice have tended to conceive indigenous legal systems as either inherently incompatible with women's rights or alternatively they have emphasised customary law's advantageous features such as its greater accessibility familiarity and effectiveness Against this background and based on a comparison of six thus far underexplored initiatives of legal and institutional change in Ecuador Peru and Bolivia Anna Barrera Vivero provides a more nuanced ethnographic understanding of how women navigate through context specific constellations of interlegality in their search for justice In so doing moreover her account of ongoing political debates and local struggles for gender justice grounds the elaboration of a comprehensive conceptual framework for understanding the legally plural dynamics involved in the contestation of discriminatory gender norms
