Developing Disaster Resilient Housing in Vietnam: Challenges and Solutions Tuan Anh Tran, 2015-12-21 This book provides a comprehensive understanding on disaster resilient housing within the Vietnam context particularly and the developing world generally The book has identified the root causes of housing vulnerability restrictions to safe housing development concepts of disaster resilient housing key issues factors implementers and building designers need to consider and ways of achieving resilient housing outcomes in actual design projects The design and development of disaster resilient housing has been framed into three main themes i community consultation ii the role of built environment professionals and iii design responses for resilience To achieve these themes there is a variety of contextual and intervening conditions that need to be addressed and met to provide an enabling environment for promoting disaster resilient housing These three themes are among the most arguable issues in recent debates and discussions academically and practically regarding disaster risk reduction and safe housing development In addition this book also provides the evidence based design framework for disaster resilient housing upon which design ideas and solutions for safe and resilient housing can be generated and shaped

Enhancing Disaster Preparedness A. Nuno Martins, Mahmood Fayazi, Faten Kikano, Liliane Hobeica, 2020-10-07 Enhancing Disaster Preparedness From Humanitarian Architecture to Community Resilience relates to the fourth priority of the UNDRR's Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015-2030 Taking a wide understanding of disaster preparedness the book deals with resilient responses and building capacities related to hazardous events bringing some practical experiences and theoretical insights in this regard Mostly based on field research conducted in the Global South by architects and other built environment professionals the book covers both post disaster interventions rebuilding and recovery and development related processes Its three parts address the interlinkages between humanitarian design community resilience and inclusive governance which are crucial for fostering effective disaster preparedness Part I discusses the changing roles of architects and urban designers involved in the humanitarian sphere Part II concentrates on resilience as a socioecological capacity to enhance preparedness within community based spatial processes Focused on global dynamics Part III covers topics emphasizing the link between the management of crises whether political or economic at different levels of governance and the vulnerability of communities and structures on the national and local scales As such the book approaches rising global priorities and brings timely lessons to support building a more equitable safe and resilient environment in a rapidly urbanized world Explores Sendai's fourth priority through a spatial lens Examines the role of humanitarian design in building resilience Critically revisits concepts such as incremental housing and building back better Provides examples of methodological tools for community engagement in resilience building processes

Disaster Risk Reduction for Resilience Saeid Eslamian, Faezeh Eslamian, 2022-04-08 This book is part of a six volume series on Disaster Risk Reduction and Resilience The series aims to fill in gaps in theory and practice in the Sendai Framework and provides additional resources methodologies and communication strategies to enhance the plan for action and targets proposed by the Sendai Framework The series will appeal to a broad range of researchers academics students policy makers and practitioners in engineering environmental science and geography geoscience emergency management finance community adaptation atmospheric science and information technology This volume offers the international guidelines and global standards for resilient disaster risk reduction and lessons learned from disasters particularly the COVID 19 and Cholera pandemics A resilient health system and an effective disaster risk management Index are then suggested The book further emphasizes urban resilience strategies with local authorities adaptation strategies for urban heat at regional city and local scales and lessons from community level interventions Also addressed are coastal erosion displacement and resettlement strategies Land use planning and green infrastructure are suggested as tools for natural hazards reduction Human security in times of climate change and urban heat at regional city and local scales is discussed for an integrated action with case studies based in Manila Burkina Faso Chad Mauritania Niger Senegal Nigeria India Spain and Ghana Structure design for cascading disasters resulting from mining and flooding is presented and sustainable smart city planning using spatial data is recommended

Urban Disasters and Resilience in Asia Rajib Shaw, Atta-ur-Rahman, Akhilesh Surjan, Gulsan Ara Parvin, 2016-01-06 Urban Disasters and Resilience in Asia presents the latest information on the intensity and frequency of disasters Specifically the fact that in urban areas more than 50% of the world's population is living on just 2% of the land surface with most of these cities located in Asia and developing countries that have high vulnerability and intensification The book offers an in depth and multidisciplinary approach to reducing the impact of disasters by examining specific evidence from events in these areas that can be used to develop best practices and increase urban resilience worldwide As urban resilience is largely a function of resilient and resourceful citizens building cities which are more resilient internally and externally can lead to more productive economic returns In an era of rapid urbanization and increasing disaster risks and vulnerabilities in Asian cities Urban Disasters and Resilience in Asia is an invaluable tool for policy makers researchers and practitioners working in both public and private sectors Explores a broad range of aspects of disaster and urban resiliency including environmental economic architectural and engineering factors Bridges the gap between urban resilience and rural areas and community building Provides evidence based data that can lead to improved disaster resiliency in urban Asia Focuses on Asian cities some of the most densely populated areas on the planet where disasters are particularly devastating

Climate Change and Cities Cynthia Rosenzweig, William D. Solecki, Patricia Romero-Lankao, Shagun Mehrotra, Shobhakar Dhakal, Somayya Ali Ibrahim, 2018-03-29 Climate Change and Cities bridges science to action for climate change adaptation and mitigation efforts in cities around the world

Slope Safety Preparedness for Impact of Climate Change Ken Ho, Suzanne Lacasse, Luciano Picarelli, 2017-06-01 Many countries are increasingly threatened by major landslide disasters and fatalities due to extreme weather events which have major implications for public safety and the sustainability of infrastructure and the built environment A further increase in such a trend could come from climate change This book helps to fill in the gap due to the fact that landslide hazards are commonly not covered under the policy debate on climate change The book highlights the importance of raising awareness to the challenges of landslide hazards due to climate impact It provides a holistic frame for understanding the key issues and new tools that could be used to assess and manage the landslide risks The book gathers contributions from 21 countries and regions in the form of national reports or summaries with respect to four key aspects a the methods used for evaluating changing weather and changing landslide patterns b the changing weather patterns c the changing landslide patterns and hazard scenarios d the applications to risk management and the formulation of adaptation measures Recommendations are made for enhanced preparedness and resilience Improved crisis management and areas for future work are suggested

The Fabric of Peace in Africa Pamela Aall, Chester A. Crocker, 2017-06-05 Africa has experienced dozens of conflicts over a variety of issues during the past two decades Responding to these conflicts requires concerted action to manage the crises the violence the political discord and the humanitarian consequences of prolonged fighting It is also necessary to address the long term social and economic impacts of conflict to rebuild communities societies and states that have been torn apart To accomplish this requires the involvement of institutions and groups rarely considered in formal official African conflict management activities schools universities religious institutions media commercial enterprises legal institutions civil society groups youth women and migrants These groups and organizations have an important role to play in building a sense of identity fairness shared norms and cohesion between state and society all critical components of the fabric of peace and security in Africa This volume brings together leading experts from Africa Europe and North America to examine these critical social institutions and groups and consider how they can either improve or impede peaceful conflict resolution The overarching questions that are explored by the authors are What constitutes social cohesion and resilience in the face of conflict What are the threats to cohesion and resilience And how can the positive elements be fostered and by whom The second of two volumes on African conflict management capacity by the editors The Fabric of Peace in Africa Looking beyond the State opens new doors of understanding for students scholars and practitioners focused on strengthening peace in Africa the first volume Minding the Gap African Conflict Management in a Time of change focused on the role of mediation and peacekeeping in managing violence and political crises

Climate Crisis, Social Responses and Sustainability Uttam Mukhopadhyay, Subhasis Bhattacharya, Pradip Chouhan, Suman Paul, Indrajit Roy Chowdhury, Uday Chatterjee, 2024-05-28 This proposed book aims to present an analysis of several crisis issues induced by global climate changes and implications at the micro level particularly from the perspective of ground based study Climate crisis leads to several socio ecological issues which need to discuss with some empirical case studies from the contextual global evidences Climatic crisis generates several social responses which are associated with mitigating issues in addition to sustainable development goals Under these circumstances several loopholes interlinked with climatic crisis need to expose in the present day context This book argues that it is important to understand the issues from multiple dimensions It identifies some important dimensions to discuss in the process Themes we purpose to cover are several field based studies are included for which micro level field based data would incorporate to understand current crisis induced by climate change thus exposing the vulnerabilities of the communities which would be incorporated in different chapters with adequate representation of qualitative methods modelling based geospatial approach Therefore some secondary data based studies have also been included to provide a broader picture Additionally this book aims to provide an interdisciplinary understanding of the issues mainly from the lenses of Geography Economics and Sociology as well as Environmental Studies too Given the focus of this study it is believed that an approach that harmonizes the cognitive domain from different discipline is appropriated A combination of chapters using qualitative as well as quantitative methods also made this book exclusive from others We believe that this edited book surely contributes the knowledge domain with some relevant chapters discussion in the contemporary time and leads to reduce the gap of knowledge

Sustainable Housing Reconstruction Esther Charlesworth, Iftekhar Ahmed, 2015-06-05 Through 12 case studies from Australia, Bangladesh, Haiti, Sri Lanka, Vietnam, and the USA, this book focuses on the housing reconstruction process after an earthquake, tsunami, cyclone, flood, or fire. Design of post-disaster housing is not simply replacing the destroyed house but, as these case studies highlight, a means to not only build a safer house but also a more resilient community, not to simply return to the same condition as before the disaster but an opportunity for building back better. The book explores two main themes: Housing reconstruction is most successful when involving the users in the design and construction process; Housing reconstruction is most effective when it is integrated with community infrastructure services and the means to create real livelihoods. The case studies included in this book highlight work completed by different agencies and built environment professionals in diverse disaster-affected contexts. With a global acceleration of natural disasters often linked to accelerating climate change, there is a critical demand for robust housing solutions for vulnerable communities. This book provides professionals, policy makers, and community stakeholders working in the international development and disaster risk management sectors with an evidence-based exploration of how to add real value through the design process in housing reconstruction. Herein, then, is the knowledge we need to build an approach to improve our processes, a window to understanding the complex domain of post-disaster housing reconstruction.

Project for Building Disaster Resilient Societies in Vietnam Phase 2, 2016 The Project for Building Disaster Resilient Societies in Central Region in Vietnam [unclear], 2012 Disaster Resilient Housing (2), 2023 Resilient Shores Jun Rentschler, Sophie de Vries Robb , Johannes Braese, Dzong Huy Nguyen, Mathijs van Ledden, Beatriz Pozueta Mayo, 2020 Coastal Development Between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Johannes Braese, Mathijs van Ledden, Sophie de Vries Robb , Tran Thanh Tung, Dzong Huy Nguyen, Jun Rentschler, Long Thanh Nguyen, 2020 Coastal Development Between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Johannes Braese, Sophie de Vries Robb , Jun Rentschler, 2020 This paper presents a multisectoral risk assessment analyzing natural risks faced by key drivers of socioeconomic development in coastal Vietnam. The analysis quantifies the exposure of assets and economic activity to the following natural hazards: riverine flooding, coastal flooding, typhoon winds, coastal erosion, and saline intrusion. These hazards are analyzed according to their impact on agricultural production, aquaculture, human settlements, industrial zones, tourism, health care facilities, schools, and the electricity transmission network. Overall, the results show the complex nature of natural risk in Vietnam with significant exposure of key economic sectors, public services, and assets. The estimates suggest that exposure varies greatly between hazards sectors and provinces This paper provides detailed technical descriptions of the methodologies data sources and analytical assumptions employed to obtain the estimates and acts as a technical background paper to Resilient Shores Vietnam s Coastal Development between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Rentschler and others 2020

Bracing for Typhoons ,2015 The Central Coast of Vietnam has had a long history of severe typhoons and flooding Efforts have been made to minimize the effects of these natural disasters on both people and properties There are many approaches in minimizing the effects including early warning and better evacuation plans helping local residents prepare better for typhoons and living with them while a typhoon is going through an area and building more resilient systems This project focuses on analyzing the effects of a Type 13 typhoon on a single family house commonly found along the Central Coast of Vietnam The design of the winner of ISET s Resilient Housing Design Competition was selected to be constructed and analyzed in SAP2000 version 15 a structural analysis software The ASCE 7 05 Design Manual and particularly Chapter 6 Wind Loads were consulted in determining the wind pressure distribution on the house of a wind generated from a Type 13 typhoon After constructing the model in SAP2000 and running the analysis several conclusions were drawn from the model The dead load effects including the dead weight and the gutter loads dominated over the wind loads This was not the expected results The maximum deflection on the model occurred at the connection between the top of the lower roof and the bottom of the emergency access window The maximum stress concentration occurred at the exterior horizontal girder at the back of the house where the upper roof tips down

Policies and Practices on Maintenance for Resilient Houses, A Case Study from the GCF Coastal Resilience Project in Vietnam Dinh Tuan Hai,2022 Vietnam is considered as the country at extreme climate condition with the annual accumulated damage due to typhoons and floods that seriously destroyed houses and caused many deaths The GCF Coastal Resilience Project GCF project comprises a component to build 4 000 storm and flood resistant houses for five coastal provinces in the central of Vietnam The paper is carried out to review existing policies and practices related to the maintenance of resilient houses as well as to propose feasible maintenance solutions for houses to ensure the sustainability of the GCF project The result shows currently there are no technical instructions or a manual on maintenance and repair of individual houses in general or GCF houses in particular Most of the households in the project themselves also have very low and unstable income Besides they do not have knowledge of construction works and subsequently they also know little to nothing about the maintenance of the house
