

Q-1. What methods are used for handling deadlock?

A-1. There are mainly four methods for handling deadlock.

1. Deadlock ignorance- It is the most popular method and it acts as if no deadlock and the user will restart. As handling deadlock is expensive to be called off a lot of codes need to be altered which will decrease the performance so for less critical jobs deadlock are ignored. Ostrich algorithm is used in deadlock ignorance. Used in windows, Linux etc.

2. Deadlock prevention- It means that we design such a system where there is no chance of having a deadlock.

3. Deadlock avoidance- Here whenever a process enters into the system it must declare maximum demand. To the deadlock problem before the deadlock occurs. This approach employs an algorithm to access the possibility that deadlock would occur and not act accordingly. If the necessary condition of deadlock is in place it is still possible to avoid feedback by allocating resources carefully.

Q-2. Explain the 4 conditions of deadlock handling.

A-2. (a) Mutual exclusion: It can't be resolved as it is the hardware property. For example, the printer cannot be simultaneously shared by several processes. This is very difficult because some resources are not sharable.

(b) Hold and wait: Hold and wait can be resolved using the conservative approach where a process can start it and only if it has acquired all the resources.

(c) Active approach: Here the process acquires only requires resources but whenever a new resource requires it must first release all the resources.

(d) Circular wait: In order to remove circular wait, we assign a number to every resource and the process can request only in the increasing order otherwise the process must release all the high number acquires resources and then make a fresh request.
