PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES FOR TRANSLATORS AND INTERPRETERS Zhiqing Zhang, Youbin Zhao, Xinjie Wang, 2020-05-26 With the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative and the development of Guangdong Hong Kong Macao Greater Bay Area the demand for translators and interpreters continues to grow in China The breakthrough in artificial intelligence which has contributed to an enormous improvement in the quality of machine translation means challenges and opportunities for translators and interpreters as well as studies of translation and interpreting Studies of translation and interpreting have been further expanded and diversified in the era of globalized communications The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world's languages and cultures By focusing on the connection between the two various researches have been conducted in all forms of communication between languages including translation interpreting cross cultural communication language teaching and the various specializations involved in such activities This has resulted in The Third International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters co organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University on its Zhuhai campus and South China Business College Guangdong University of Foreign Studies November 16 17 2019 The response to the conference was once more overwhelming which was partly attributed to the previous two conferences held successfully under the same title Apart from five keynote speakers over one hundred and fifty participants came from universities institutions or organizations from mainland China Spain New Zealand as well as Hong Kong and Macao to attend the event contributing over 130 papers in total Among the keynote speakers are internationally renowned scholars in translation studies such as Dr Roberto Valde n professor of English Linguistics at the University of Oviedo Spain and the Chief Editor of Perspective Studies in Translatology Dr Sun Yifeng chair professor of Translation Studies and head of the English Department at the University of Macau Dr Tan Zaixi distinguished professor of Shenzhen University and Chair Professor of Beijing Foreign Studies University and Professor Emeritus of Hong Kong Baptist University After careful evaluation and compilation 90 papers have been selected for this conference proceedings which was summarized into the following four topics Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice Translation and Cross cultural Studies Evaluation of Translation and Interpretation and Studies on the Teaching of Translation By no means is it difficult to find some interesting and thought provoking papers under each topic For example concerning Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice To Translate or not to Translate That is the Question On Metaphor Translation in Chinese Political works by Dong Yu explains that in judging whether or not a Chinese metaphor can be translated into English an indispensable step is to decide whether or not the two cultural connotations can be connected But this can easily be influenced by subjective factors Yu has suggested some ways in which subjective factors could be controlled to some extent so that the translator

could be more confident in his or her decision He has also suggested three steps The first step is to assume that the cultural connotation of the Chinese metaphor can be connected with that of its English version For example the metaphor in could be translated as rain or shine The second step is to find out whether or not this translated version is acceptable both linguistically and culturally in English The third step is to consider the systematicity of the metaphor in regard with the context in both the source and target texts This involves a process of recontextualization When it comes to Translation and Cross cultural Studies On Translation of the English Guide interpreter from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication by Fengxia Liua and Xiaoning Bi points out that inbound tourism serves as a window through which foreign tourists get to know China so the interaction between the guide interpreters and foreign tourists are the typical activity of cultural communication Foreign language speaking guides are usually regarded as people to people ambassadors or cultural ambassadors who have played an essential role in the international tourist industry Therefore they argue that it is extremely important for tourist guides to cultivate their cross cultural communication awareness enhance their overall communicative competence observe and distinguish east and west differences with multi dimensional perspective transcend cultural barriers and learn to use translation skills Studies on the Teaching of Translation is another interesting topic that has attracted enormous attention such as Business Translation Teaching from the Perspective of Metaphors by Dandan Li which explores application of conceptual metaphor theory in the translation process of business lexicons business discourse and business English culture so as to provide a new perspective in business English pedagogy Another study entitled Cognitive Studies in Translation by Xin Huang analyzes the cognitive studies of translation interpreting processes over the past three decades with focus on the issues examined the findings reached as well as the recent development She explains that cognitive studies of translation process examine the translation competence on line translation behaviors such as how the eye gazes and how the words are typed and the brain activities when doing translation Special interests are paid to the working memory problem solving the executive function and some linguistic relative factors such as text difficulty Over the past thirty years the interest in the field has been gaining considerable momentum and increasing issues have been involved Finally she concludes that with the advancement of technologies and interdisciplinary approaches the black box the previously unforeseeable cognitive activities of how human process translation can be unfolded Considering the importance of integrating theory with practice the proceedings are therefore compiled in such a way as to be balanced and inclusive in the hope of summarizing current accomplishments as well as providing certain insights for teaching and further research in the field of translation and interpretation studies

The New American Poetry and Cold War Nationalism Stephan Delbos, 2021-08-20 This book examines Donald M Allen s crucially influential poetry anthology The New American Poetry 1945 1960 from the perspectives of American Cold War nationalism and literary transnationalism considering how the anthology expresses and challenges Cold War norms claiming post war Anglophone poetic innovation for the United States and reflecting the conservative American society of the 1950s Examining the crossroads of politics social life and literature during the Cold War this book puts Allen s anthology into its historical context and reveals how the editor was influenced by the volatile climate of nationalism and politics that pervaded every aspect of American life during the Cold War Reconsidering the dramatic influence that Allen s anthology has had on the way we think about and anthologize American poetry and recontextualizing The New American Poetry as a document of the Cold War this study not only helps us come to a more accurate understanding of how the anthology came into being but also encourages new ways of thinking about all of Anglophone poetry from the twentieth century and today

Sources of Holocaust Insight John K.

Roth, 2020-01-29 Sources of Holocaust Insight maps the odyssey of an American Christian philosopher who has studied, written, and taught about the Holocaust for more than fifty years. What findings result from John Roth's journey? What moods pervade it? How have events and experiences, scholars and students' texts and testimonies, especially the questions they raise, affected Roth's Holocaust studies and guided his efforts to heed the biblical proverb: "Whatever else you get, get insight." More sources than Roth can acknowledge have informed his encounters with the Holocaust. But particular persons among them—Elie Wiesel, Raul Hilberg, Primo Levi, and Albert Camus—loom especially large. Revisiting Roth's sources of Holocaust insight, this book does so not only to pay tribute to them but also to show how the ethical, philosophical, and religious reverberations of the Holocaust confer and encourage responsibility for human well-being in the twenty-first century. Seeing differently, seeing better, sound learning and teaching about the Holocaust aim for what may be the most important Holocaust insight of all: Take nothing good for granted.

Borges, the Jew Ilan Stavans, 2016-05-18 Explores Borges's infatuation with Jewish history and culture. In this volume, award-winning cultural critic and controversial public intellectual Ilan Stavans focuses his attention on Jorge Luis Borges's fascination with Jewish culture. Despite not being Jewish himself, Borges wrote essays, poems, and stories dealing with various aspects of Jewish history and culture, from the Holocaust to Kabbalah and from Franz Kafka to the creation of the State of Israel. In periods when anti-Semitism in Argentina was on the rise, Borges was clear in his refutation of such xenophobia, and when Jewish writers were hardly available in Spanish, he was among the first to translate them. Throughout Stavans's discussion of these topics, he weaves in personal anecdotes on reading Borges for the first time, hearing him read in Mexico, and looking for him in Buenos Aires. No fan of Borges's classic oeuvre will ever see his legacy in the same way after reading this book. At long last, our magisterial Jorge Luis Borges is given his full due as Jewish creator. With a prose that sings, Stavans invites us on a spectacular intellectual odyssey into the mind of Borges as honorary Jew, as outsider whose poetry, prose, and philosophical mediation has swept so many of us to the very edges of reason, the self, culture, and the world. Frederick Luis Aldama, author of Why the Humanities Matter: A Commonsense Approach. This deeply personal, playful, and unexpected meditation on the Jewishness of Jorge Luis Borges illuminates not just Borges's Jewish sensibilities but also Ilan Stavans's somewhat contrary approach to his own Jewishness. It is also an affectionate love letter to a literary lion whose love for Jewish ideas, literature, and culture was not always returned. Imagining Borges as the luminary writer imagined himself opens a wonderful new window onto Borges's rich and beautiful soul. Can a non-Jewish writer like Borges write Jewish literature? In this case, as Stavans suggests so convincingly, the answer is a resounding Si. James E. Young, University of Massachusetts Amherst.

Masters of Mathematics Robert A. Nowlan, 2017-05-13 The original title for this work was Mathematical Literacy: What Is It and Why You Need It. The current title reflects that there can be no real learning in any subject unless questions of who, what, when, where, why, and how are raised in the minds of the learners. The book is not a mathematical text, and there are no assigned exercises or exams. It is written for reasonably intelligent and curious individuals both those who value mathematics aware of its many important applications and others who have been inappropriately exposed to mathematics leading to indifference to the subject fear and even loathing These feelings are all consequences of meaningless presentations drill rote learning and being lost as the purpose of what is being studied Mathematics education needs a radical reform There is more than one way to accomplish this Here the author presents his approach of wrapping mathematical ideas in a story To learn one first must develop an interest in a problem and the curiosity to find how masters of mathematics have solved them What is necessary to be mathematically literate It s not about solving algebraic equations or even making a geometric proof These are valuable skills but not evidence of literacy We often seek answers but learning to ask pertinent questions is the road to mathematical literacy Here is the good news new mathematical ideas have a way of finding applications This is known as the unreasonable effectiveness of mathematics

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SECOND INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES FOR TRANSLATORS AND INTERPRETERS Youbin Zhao, Wei Lin, Zhiqing Zhang, 2017-07-04 This two volume book contains the refereed proceedings of The Second International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China on its Zhuhai campus October 27-29 2016 The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world s languages and cultures The past decade or so in particular has witnessed remarkable progress concerning research on issues related to this topic Given this dynamic The Second International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China was held at the Zhuhai campus of Jinan University on October 27-29 2016 This conference attracts a large number of translators interpreters and researchers providing a rare opportunity for academic exchange in this field The 135 full papers accepted for the proceedings of The Second International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China were selected from 350 submissions For each paper the authors were shepherded by an experienced researcher Generally all of the submitted papers went through a rigorous peer review process

Roald Dahl Damian Walford Davies, 2016-08-15 Published to mark the centenary of Roald Dahl s Welsh birth Roald Dahl Wales of the Unexpected breaks new ground by revealing the place of Wales in the imagination of the writer known as the world s number one storyteller Exploring the complex conditioning presence of Wales in his life and work the essays in this collection dramatically defamiliarise Dahl and in the process render him uncanny Importantly Dahl is encountered whole his books for children and his fiction for adults are read as mutually invigorating bodies of work both of which evidence the ways in which Wales and the author s Anglo Welsh orientation demand articulation throughout the career Recognising the impossibility of constructing a monolithic Welsh Dahl the contributors explore the compound and nuanced ways in which Wales signifies across the oeuvre Roald Dahl Wales of the Unexpected takes Dahl studies into new territory in terms of both subject and method showing the new horizons that open up when Dahl is read through a Welsh lens Locating Dahl in illuminating new textual networks resourcefully offering fresh angles of entry into classic Dahl texts rehabilitating neglected Dahl texts and analysing the layered genesis of seemingly familiar works by excavating the manuscripts this innovative volume brings Dahl home in order to render him invigoratingly unhomey The result is not a parochialisation of Dahl but rather a new internationalisation

Istwa across the Water Toni Pressley-Sanon, 2022-01-03 Honorable Mention Latin American Studies Association Haiti Dominican Republic Section Isis Duarte Book Prize Gathering oral stories and visual art from Haiti and two of its motherlands in Africa Istwa across the Water recovers the submerged histories of the island through methods drawn from its deep spiritual and cultural traditions Toni Pressley Sanon employs three theoretical anchors to bring together parts of the African diaspora that are profoundly fractured because of the slave trade The first is the Vodou concept of marasa or twinned entities which she uses to identify parts of Dahomey the present day Benin Republic and the Kongo region as Haiti's twinned sites of cultural production Second she draws on poet Kamau Brathwaite's idea of tidalectics the back and forth movement of ocean waves as a way to look at the cultural exchange set in motion by the transatlantic movement of captives Finally Pressley Sanon searches out the places where history and memory intersect in story expressed by the Krey l term istwa Challenging the tendency to read history linearly this volume offers a bold new approach for understanding Haitian histories and imagining Haitian futures

Mothership Greg Wrenn, 2024-03-26 A dazzling evidence based account of one man's quest to heal from complex PTSD by turning to endangered coral reefs and psychedelic plants after traditional therapies failed and his awakening to the need for us to heal the planet as well Professor Greg Wrenn likes to tell his nature writing students The ecological is personal and the personal is ecological What he's never told them is how he's lived out those correspondences to heal from childhood abuse at the hands of his mother Weaving together memoir and cutting edge science Mothership is not just a queer coming of age story It's a deeply researched account of how coral reefs and a psychedelic tea called ayahuasca helped Greg heal from complex PTSD a disorder of trust which makes the very act of bonding with someone else panic inducing From the tide pools in Florida where he grew up to Indonesia's Raja Ampat archipelago and the Amazon rainforest this is his search for wholeness when talk therapy and pharmaceuticals did little to help Along the way as his ecological conscience wakes up he takes readers underwater to the last pristine reefs on earth and into the psyche Written with prophetic urgency Mothership ultimately asks if doses of nature will be enough to save us before it's too late
