Australian Environmental Planning Jason Byrne, Neil Sipe, Jago Dodson, 2014-04-16 Winner of the Planning Institute of Australia s 2015 Cutting Edge Research and Teaching Award Australians from all walks of life have begun to realise the nation s cities cannot sustain profligate growth indefinitely Dwindling water supplies failing food bowls increased energy costs more severe bushfires severe storms flooding coastal erosion rising transport expenses housing shortages and environmental pollution are now daily news headlines Australia s cities may have reached their ecological limits a new model for planning the places we live is needed Understanding the natural cycles of the city is just as important to planning our cities as knowledge of local ordinances indeed much more so A profound knowledge of environmental processes is critical for successful planning in today s world Environmental planners take as their guiding principle the concept of designing with nature approaching cities as living organisms that consume water energy and raw materials and produce waste This metabolic view of cities means we can find new solutions to old problems and steer our cities towards a more sustainable form of planning Written specifically for students and professionals working in city planning in Australia this ground breaking new book enables Australian planners architects and developers to get a better understanding of the fundamental principles of environmental planning for cities showing how land water air energy wildlife and people shape our built environments and how in turn environmental processes must be better understood if we are to make informed decisions about developing cities that are more sustainable The book s coverage is comprehensive from an overview of the concepts and theories of environmental planning through analysis of governance systems and urban environmental processes to agendas and policies for the future all the key topics are covered in depth with recommendations for supporting reading and an unrivalled selection of additional materials Ideal for students essential for professionals Australian Environmental Planning is vital reading for more sustainable cities in a more sustainable world Rural Change in Australia John Connell,2016-04-08 New twenty first century economic social and environmental changes have challenged and reshaped rural Australia They range from ageing populations youth out migration immigration policies that seek to place skilled migrants in rural Australia tree changers agricultural restructuring and new relationships with indigenous populations Challenges also exist around the patchwork economy and the wealth that the mining boom offers some areas while threatening regional economic decline in others Rural Australia is increasingly not simply a place of production of agriculture and minerals but an idea that individuals seek and are encouraged to consume The socio economic implications of drought water rights and changing farming practices have prefaced new social cultural and economic reforms This book provides a contemporary perspective on rapidly evolving population economic and environmental changes in rural and regional Australia itself a significant concept Bringing together a range of empirical studies the book builds on established rural studies themes such as population change economic restructuring and globalisation in agriculture but links such changes to environmental change culture class gender and ethnic diversity Presenting original and in depth interventions on these issues and their intersections this book assembles the best of contemporary research on rural Australia Advancing Social Purpose in Organizations: An Interdisciplinary Perspective Monica Thiel,Gabriele Giorgi,Antonio Ariza-Montes,Nicola Mucci,2021-08-17 Delivering Value with BIM Adriana Sanchez,Keith Hampson,Simon Vaux,2016-03-31 Building Information Modelling BIM is a global phenomenon which is gaining significant momentum across the world Currently there is little information on how to realise and monitor benefits from implementing BIM across the life cycle of a built environment asset This book provides a practical and strategic framework to realise value from implementing BIM by adapting Benefit Realisation Management theory It presents an approach for practitioners aiming to implement BIM across the life cycle of built environment assets including both buildings and infrastructure Additionally the book features wide ranging information about BIM the challenges of monitoring progress towards benefit goals and the greater context of implementation a set of dictionaries that illustrate how benefits can be achieved what the benefit flows are and the enabling tools and processes that contribute to achieving and maximising them a suite of measures that can serve to monitor progress with examples of how they have been used to measure benefits from BIM real world examples from across the world and life cycle phases that show how these benefits can be achieved and information on international maturity and competency measures to complement the value realisation framework Including a blend of academic and industry input this book has been developed in close collaborative consultation with industry government and international research organisations and could be used for industry courses on BIM benefits and implementation for asset management or by universities that teach BIM related courses Building Governance and Climate Change Richard Lorch, Jacques Laubscher, Edwin Hon-wan Chan, Henk Visscher, 2019-10-23 The contribution of buildings to climate change is widely acknowledged This book investigates how building regulatory systems are addressing the current and future effects of climate change and how these systems can be improved After presenting a comprehensive overview of how the current building regulatory system developed some of the inadequacies are identified The largest part of the book examines the potential for innovative policy solutions to address the real world problem of mitigating and adapting buildings to climate change This publication contributes significantly to our understanding of the complexities of long term energy efficiency in buildings This book was originally published as a special issue of the Building Research Information journal Sustainable Land Sector

Development in Northern Australia Jeremy Russell-Smith, Glenn James, Howard Pedersen, Kamaljit K. Sangha, 2018-09-03 Key Features Provides clear and authoritative recommendations for managing fire in ecological and social contexts Authors are all international leaders in their fields and include not only academics but also leaders of Indigenous communities Explains Indigenous cultural and knowledge systems to a degree that has rarely been accessible to lay and academic readers outside specialized disciplines like Anthropology Responds to growing need for new approaches to managing human ecological systems that are in greater sympathy with Australia's natural environments climate and value the knowledge of Indigenous people Timely for scholarly and interest groups intervention as the Australian government is again looking to develop the north Sustainable Land Sector Development in Northern Australia sets out a vision for developing North Australia based on a culturally appropriate and ecologically sustainable land sector economy This vision supports both Indigenous cultural responsibilities and aspirations as well as enhancing enterprise opportunities for society as a whole In the past well meaning if often misguided policy agendas have failed and continue to fail North Australians This book helps breach that gap by acknowledging and harnessing Indigenous cultural strengths and knowledge systems for looking after the country and its people as part of a smart novel and diversified ecosystem services economy Environmental Planning and Management in Australia A. J. Conacher, Jeanette Conacher, 2000 This is the first comprehensive text on environmental planning and management in Australia Taking a critical approach this accessible book shows an urgent need for improving environmental management in Australia Local Economic and Employment Development (LEED) Community Capacity Building Creating a Better Future Together OECD, 2009-11-17 This book presents and analyses interesting recent developments in the field of community capacity building in a variety of OECD and non OECD countries The focus is on how
