Social Web Artifacts for Boosting Recommenders Cai-Nicolas Ziegler,2013-04-23
Recommender systems software programs that learn from human behavior and make predictions of what products we are expected to appreciate and purchase have become an integral part of our everyday life They proliferate across electronic commerce around the globe and exist for virtually all sorts of consumable goods such as books movies music or clothes At the same time a new evolution on the Web has started to take shape commonly known as the Web 2.0 or the Social Web Consumer generated media has become rife social networks have emerged and are pulling significant shares of Web traffic In line with these developments novel information and knowledge artifacts have become readily available on the Web created by the collective effort of millions of people This textbook presents approaches to exploit the new Social Web fountain of knowledge zeroing in first and foremost on two of those information artifacts namely classification taxonomies and trust networks These two are used to improve the performance of product focused recommender systems While classification taxonomies are appropriate means to fight the sparsity problem prevalent in many productive recommender systems interpersonal trust ties when used as proxies for interest similarity are able to mitigate the recommenders scalability problem

Stairs for Breakfast Patrick Souiljaert,2017-01-03 This is the kind of book you should read when you think you have had a bad day Patrick Souiljaert was deprived of oxygen for the first 4 minutes of his life and consequently denied the gift of easy movement and speech for the remainder of it It means that this brutally frank autobiography of someone with Cerebral Palsy who needs crutches for walking and eats stairs for breakfast when he falls should be a depressing experience for the reader It isn't Patrick's sense of humour and love of his fellow human beings shines through His recall is amazing his perception stunning You the reader will share what it is like to have a profound physical disability what it is like to have people patronise you when your IQ is several notches above those patronising you You will laugh you will cry and you will never feel sorry for yourself again Patrick's purpose in life is to help and inspire people and make a difference in the world Stairs For Breakfast is giving Patrick a platform as an inspirational speaker He lives in southern England and is well travelled
