Neo-Ottomanism and the Politics of Emotions in Turkey

Nagehan Tokdoğan,2024-06-17 This open access book explores the politics of emotions under the ruling Justice and Development Party in Turkey and the leadership of President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan. It examines how emotional politics and particularly the use of a Neo Ottomanist narrative created a new national mood and contributed to the durability of Erdoğan's rule. The author analyses the interactions between national narratives, symbolic politics and emotions. She argues that these interactions have formed the basis of Erdoğan's popular support for more than 20 years. The book is a valuable resource for scholars of political science and sociology as well as policymakers interested in the rise of authoritarianism in Turkey.

Populism and Passions Paolo Cossarini, Fernando Vallespín, 2019-05-29 There is a consensus that right and left wing populism is on the rise on both sides of the Atlantic from Donald Trump in the United States to Spain's leftist Podemos. These may utilize different kinds of populist mobilizations but the fact remains that elite and mass opinion is fuelling a populist backlash. In Populism and Passions twelve scholars engage with discourse analysis, democratic theory and post structural political thought to study the political logic of passion for contemporary populism. Together these interdisciplinary essays demonstrate what emotional engagement implies for the spheres of politics and the social and how it governs and mobilizes individuals. The volume presents theoretical and empirical implications for political analysis. Chapters on the current rise of populism, both right and left wing trends, their different ideological features and their relationship with the logic of passion. Theoretical implications for the future study of populism and democratic legitimacy. A timely analysis of this political phenomena in contemporary Western democracies. Populism and Passions is ideal for students and scholars in political theory, comparative politics, social theory, critical theory, cultural studies and global studies.

Affective Communities in World Politics Emma Hutchison, 2016-03-11 Emotions underpin how political communities are formed and function. Nowhere is this more pronounced than in times of trauma. The emotions associated with suffering caused by war, terrorism, natural disasters, famine and poverty can play a pivotal role in shaping communities and orientating their politics. This book investigates how affective communities emerge after trauma. Drawing on several case studies and an unusually broad set of interdisciplinary sources, it examines the role played by representations from media images to historical narratives and political speeches. Representations of traumatic events are crucial because they generate socially embedded emotional meanings which in turn enable direct victims and distant witnesses to share the injury as well as the associated loss in a manner that affirms a particular notion of collective identity. While ensuing political orders often re-establish old patterns, traumatic events can also generate new emotional cultures that genuinely transform national and transnational communities.

The Palgrave Handbook of Global Political Psychology H. Dekker, 2016-04-30 This collection recalibrates the study of political psychology through detailed and much needed analysis of the discipline's most important and hotly contested issues. Decency and Difference Steven C Roach, 2019-11-08 Decency remains one of the most prevalent yet least understood terms in today's political discourse. In evoking respect, kindness, courage, integrity, reason, and tolerance, it has long expressed an unquestioned duty and belief in promoting and protecting the dignity of all persons. Today, this unquestioned belief is in crisis. Tribalism and identity politics have both hindered and threatened its moral stability and efficacy. Still, many continue to undertheorize its political character by isolating it from the effects of identity politics. Decency and Difference argues that decency is a primary source of the political tension that has long shaped the struggles for power, identity, and justice in the global arena. It distinguishes among basic conservative and liberal strands of decency to critically examine the many conflicting and competing applications of decency in global politics. Together, these different strands reflect a long and uneven evolution from the British and American empires to a global network of justice. This powerful book exposes the gaps of decency and the disparate ways it is practiced, thus addressing the global challenge of configuring a diverse political ethic of decency.

Constitutional Semiotics Martin Belov, 2022-06-30 This book offers an outline of the foundations of a theory of constitutional semiotics. It provides a systematic account of the concept of constitutional semiotics and its role in the representation and signification of meaning in constitution, constitutional law, and constitutionalism. The book explores the constitutional signification of meaning that is stretched between rational entrenchment and constitutional imagination. It provides a critical assessment of the rationalist entrapment of constitutional modernity and justifies the need to turn to shadow constitutionalisms: textual, symbolic, imaginary, and visual constitutionalism. The book puts forward innovative incentives for constitutional analysis based on constitutional semiotics as a paradigm for representation of meaning in rational, textual, symbolic, imaginary, and visual constitutionalism. The book focuses on the textual, imaginative, and visual discourse of constitutionalism, which is built upon collective constitutional imaginaries and on the peculiar normativity of constitutional geometry and constitutional mythology as borderline phenomena entrenched in rational, textual, symbolic, imaginary, and visual constitutionalism. The book analyses concepts such as constitutional text and texture, authoritative constitutional narratives and authoritative constitutional narrators, constitutional semiotic community, constitutional utopia, constitutional taboo, normative ideology and normative ideas, constitutional myth and mythology, constitutional symbolism, constitutional code, and constitutional geometric form. It explores the textual entrenchment of constitutionalism and its repercussions for representation and signification of meaning.

Political Communication and Cognition D. Lilleker, 2014-07-29 Political Communication and Cognition draws on a range of theories from communication psychology to explain how citizens receive communication about politics, how communication might make a citizen think, and importantly, what stimulates political participation, whether simply paying attention, chatting online, or going to vote.

The Politics of Extreme Austerity G. Karyotis, R. Gerodimos, 2015-03-24 This volume investigates the policies and politics of extreme austerity, setting the crisis in Greece in its global context. Featuring multidisciplinary contributions and an exclusive interview with former Greek Prime Minister George Papandreou, this is the first comprehensive account of the economic crisis at the heart of Europe The Making of Anti-Muslim Protest Joel Busher, 2015-10-23 Activism in any social movement group is as Deborah Gould observes a project of collective world making It is about changing the world out there by influencing policy and public opinion but is also about the way it transforms the lives of participants activists generate new identities cultures social ties rich and varied emotional experiences and interpretations of the world around them Movements are more likely to be able to attract and sustain support when as projects of collective world making they feel compelling to activists and would be activists In this book Busher explores what has made activism in the English Defence League EDL an anti Muslim protest movement that has staged demonstrations across the UK since 2009 so compelling to those who have chosen to march under its banner Based on sixteen months of overt observation with grassroots activists he explores how people became involved with the group how they forged and intensified belief in the EDL cause how they negotiated accusations that they were just another racist far right group and how grassroots EDL activism began to unravel during the course of 2011 but did not do so altogether Providing a fresh insight as to how contemporary anti minority protest movements work on the inside this book will be of interest to students scholars and activists working in the areas of British politics extremism social movements community relations and current affairs more generally Personalization of Politics and Electoral Change D. Garzia, 2019-03-27 Using an innovative framework for the study of voting behavior in parliamentary democracies this book sheds new light on the ongoing personalization of politics The analysis makes use of national election study data from Britain Germany and The Netherlands and shows that party leaders can often be the difference between victory and defeat Empathetic Policy Design Piyapong Boossabong, 2025-01-17 This book sets out to develop a policy design process that is more inclusive by creating space for emotions and feelings Rather than focus solely on expert knowledge it places the fears and hopes of citizens at the heart of policy design to facilitate meaningful interactions between policymakers and the citizens they serve Focusing particularly on evidence from Thailand but drawing on case studies from around the world the book argues that empathetic policy design is crucial to foster social learning and better informed policies It also focuses on how emotions can be incorporated into policy design and how policymakers of the future might use these design processes to create and implement policies that will benefit all The book will appeal to all those interested in public policy and policy design Political Engagement of the Young in Europe Peter Thijssen, Jessy Siongers, Jeroen Van Laer, Jacques Haers, Sara Mels, 2015-12-14 Although many scholars are convinced of the apparent civic disengagement of youth others suggest that civic participation of young people is stable and increasingly expressed through non institutionalized forms of practicing politics This book makes a key contribution to this discussion by asking whether the decline or shift paradigm is sufficient in understanding political participation of the youth It argues that we need to move beyond this framework and develop a renewed reflection on the meaning of civic and political engagement It asks crucial questions such as How can the young be educated into assuming civic and political responsibility Why and how do young people engage in social and political action How do the principal mediating institutions education media and the family contribute to new or different forms of youth civic engagement This text contains contributions from acknowledged specialists such as Constance Flanagan Mark Elchardus Marc Hooghe and Bert Klandermans and will be of key interest to students and scholars of youth and young citizens civic political involvement European politics youth studies sociology political participation and electoral behaviour
