no politician can hope to win an electoral majority without building a coalition among these classes Based on a four fold analysis Urban and Liberal Creatives Suburban Middle Class White Working Class and the Millennials this book shows that while many have focused on a supply side vision of politics to explain the upheavals in our political party systems a vision centred on demand and the Weberian take on political parties as vehicles for class interests is more compelling In 2016 our political world was changed forever by the victories of Brexit in the UK and Donald Trump in the USA Far from being confined to the Anglosphere however changes have also rocked the political landscapes in Europe As the crisis of 2008 has shaken the foundations of Western societies shrinking the size of the previously all powerful middle class new classes have emerged and with them a new political demand that new or old parties have tried to satisfy This book will be of key interest to political practitioners politicians advisors consultants journalists political pundits party builders and government officials and more broadly to academics students and readers of European and Western politics political sociology party politics and political parties and electoral demographics
