Victor Hugo's oration. Candide. Poetical dissertations* Voltaire,1901      The Works of Voltaire Voltaire,1901      The Works of Voltaire: Introductory and biographical Voltaire,1901      THE WRITINGS OF VOLTAIRE ,1901      Situatedness and Place Thomas Hünefeldt,Annika Schlitte,2018-10-23 This book explores the ways in which the spatio temporal contingency of human life is being conceived in different fields of research Specifically it looks at the relationship between the situatedness of human life the situation or place in which human life is supposed to be situated and the dimensions of space and time in which both situation and place are usually themselves supposed to be situated Over the last two or three decades the spatio temporal contingency of human life has become an important topic of research in a broad range of different disciplines including the social sciences the cultural sciences the cognitive sciences and philosophy However this research topic is referred to in quite different ways while some researchers refer to it in terms of situation emphasizing the situatedness of human experience and action others refer to it in terms of place emphasizing the power of place and advocating a topological or topographical turn in the context of a larger spatial turn Interdisciplinary exchange is so far hampered by the fact that the notions referred to and the relationships between them are usually not sufficiently questioned This book addresses these issues by bringing together contributions on the spatio temporal contingency of human life from different fields of research

Memories of Belonging: Descendants of Italian Migrants to the United States, 1884-Present Christa Wirth,2015-02-11 Memories of Belonging is a three generation oral history study of the offspring of southern Italians who migrated to Worcester Massachusetts in 1913 Supplemented with the interviewees private documents and working from U S and Italian archives Christa Wirth documents a century of transatlantic migration assimilation and later generation self identification Her research reveals how memories of migration everyday life and ethnicity are passed down through the generations altered and contested while constituting family identities The fact that not all descendants of Italian migrants moved into the U S middle class combined with their continued use of hyphenated identities points to a history of lived ethnicity and societal exclusion Moreover this book demonstrates the extent of forgetting that is required in order to construct an ethnic identity      The Atlas William T. Vollmann,1997-06-01 Winner of the PEN Center USA West Award for Fiction a collection of fifty three interconnected stories by the National Book Award winning author of Europe Central Hailed by Newsday as the most unconventional and possibly the most exciting and imaginative novelist at work today William T Vollmann has also established himself as an intrepid journalist willing to go to the hottest spots on the planet Here he draws on these formidable talents to create a web of fifty three interconnected tales what he calls a piecemeal atlas of the world I think in Set in locales from Phnom Penh to Sarajevo Mogadishu to New York and provocatively combining autobiography with invention fantasy with reportage these stories examine poverty violence and loss even as they celebrate the beauty of landscape the thrill of the alien the infinitely precious pain of love The Atlas brings to life a fascinating array of human beings an old Inuit walrus hunter urban aborigines in Sydney a crack addicted prostitute and even Vollmann himself Science and American Literature in the 20th and 21st Centuries Frédéric Dumas, Ronan Ludot-Vlasak, Claire Maniez, 2011-11-15 Since its origin American literature has always had an uneasy relationship with science born at a time when science was becoming a profession it repeatedly referred to it implicitly or explicitly in order to assert its difference or on the contrary to gain a certain form of legitimacy The purpose of this book is to show how scientific discourse informs literary writing and to consider the relationship the two types of discourse have maintained mutual metaphorization questioning or legitimating Focusing on the literary production of the United States in the 20th and 21st centuries the book is organized in four parts the first one which concerns the works of Henry Adams and Thomas Pynchon examines the way in which literature writes a history of science the second deals with the relationship between literature and the developing field of neurosciences first from a theoretical perspective then through the study of science fiction novels the third one includes essays which one way or another raise the issue of the ethics of science and offer a literary answer to the dilemmas raised by scientific progress the two essays in the last part analyze how digital technology has influenced recent American writing and the consequences of this new mode on reading procedures The Theory of Primes Mark Meek, 2000-12 The Theory of Primes is about an entirely new field as yet undocumented There is a simple formula a four part sequence that everything in existence invariably conforms to It has always been assumed that the counting numbers are the most fundamental branch of mathematics but down through the centuries there was an even more primal branch the primes defining the limits and process sequence of reality before the numbers could quantify anything Before the big bang happened and brought the universe into existence the primes were there to define what could exist and could happen We could say that the primes are the constitution of reality The Oxford Guide to the Atlantic Languages of West Africa Friederike Lüpke, 2025-06-17 This volume presents the first book length overview of the Atlantic languages a small family of languages spoken mainly on the Atlantic coast of West Africa Languages in this area have been used in diverse multilingual societies with intense language contact for the whole of their known history and their genealogical relatedness and the impact of language contact on their lexicon and grammar have been widely debated The book is divided into four parts The first provides an introduction to language ecologies in the area and includes two accounts of the genealogical classification of Atlantic languages Chapters in the second part offer grammatical overviews of individual languages including the most important non Atlantic contact languages Casamance Creole and Mandinka while the third part explores Atlantic languages from a typological perspective with chapters that explore formal and semantic aspects of their nominal classification systems nominalization strategies their rich system of verbal extensions and the stem initial consonant mutation that is attested in a subset of languages The final part of the book investigates Atlantic languages in their social environments including the creation of creole identities secret languages Ajami writing practices language acquisition the spread and use of Fula as a lingua franca digital language practices and language ideologies The volume is an essential tool for linguists interested in the languages of West Africa language history and classification patterns of language use in Atlantic societies and typology and language contact more broadly

(In)Visible Signs of Gender-Based Violence Anne Wagner, Angela Condello, 2025-04-07 The edited volume explores the causes forms and cultures of gender based violence in society including how children are educated how games art and even language promote differences stereotypes neutrality between men and women It is a place to reflect on the growing importance of tolerance diversity and acceptance of others The book focuses on many facets whether in a confined or public space with a series of empirical and theoretical chapters from around the world The volume provides key contemporary commentary on the changing dynamics of gender based violence It unveils a range of contexts and spaces in which gender based violence happens showcasing its scale and impact worldwide The discussions presented in the book encourage a critical reflection on the global pandemic of gender based violence prompting a vital question about the sufficiency and effectiveness of responses to this global crisis Professor Olga Jurasz The Open University Law School

The Tidings Nick Mezins, 2005 How was the universe created and why What is the role of man on Earth and that of intelligent beings on other planets in it What is life like on some other planets Why is man here what is expected of him These are some of the questions that this book answers The translator considers the material in this book as religion and philosophy of life for people who are searching for the full truth and are willing to think for themselves and to question commonly accepted beliefs It tells how man should live so that it would be good for everyone and so that Christ's statement about Paradise on Earth would indeed come true The part dealing with religion can be divided into two broad categories The first one explains clarifies and in a few cases supplements the concepts which the Prophets of the past such as Buddha Christ Indra Mohammed Moses Zoroaster and others proclaimed The second part tells what the Prophets of the past could not tell back then because the humanity of that time would not have understood them Now that humanity's science is much further advanced The Almighty has decided to reveal the complete truth about the universe Here the latest scientific knowledge is brought in and hints are given beyond the current knowledge of science This book tells about and explains The Almighty's religion of the universe This in turn entails the reason for the creation of the universe how the universe is being created and governed and yes the very significant role which man on Earth is expected to play in this process Examples are given from intelligent life on other planets and much is said about how man should live and what he should not do There are stories that help to illustrate the points The Almighty's religion differs dramatically from all other religions currently practiced on Earth It recognizes and acknowledges all other religions it does not require an individual to join it It does not threaten or condemn the nonbelievers it permits it insists on each individual choosing freely for himself or herself It merely provides some truly thought provoking material to ponder Fifty Years of English Studies in Spain (1952-2002) Asociación Española de Estudios Anglo-Americanos. Memories of Odysseus François Hartog, 2001-08 The conception of the Other has long been a problem for philosophers Emmanuel Levinas best known for his attention to precisely that issue argued that the voyages of Ulysses represent the very nature of Western philosophy His adventure in the world is nothing but a return to his native land a complacency with the Same a misrecognition of the Other In Memories of Odysseus François Hartog examines the truth of Levinas' assertion and in the process uncovers a different picture Drawing on a remarkable range of authors and texts ancient and modern Hartog looks at accounts of actual travelers as well as the way travel is used as a trope throughout ancient Greek literature and finds that instead of misrecognition the Other is viewed with doubt and awe in the Homeric tradition In fact he argues the Odyssey played a crucial role in shaping this attitude in the Greek mind serving as inspiration for voyages in which new encounters caused the Greeks to revise their concepts of self and other Ambitious in scope this book is a sophisticated exploration of ancient Greece and its sense of identity Yiddish Writers in Weimar Berlin Marc Caplan, 2021-01-05 In Yiddish Writers in Weimar Berlin Marc Caplan explores the reciprocal encounter between Eastern European Jews and German culture in the days following World War I By concentrating primarily on a small group of avant garde Yiddish writers Dovid Bergelson Der Nister and Moyshe Kulbak working in Berlin during the Weimar Republic Caplan examines how these writers became central to modernist aesthetics By concentrating on the character of Yiddish literature produced in Weimar Germany Caplan offers a new method of seeing how artistic creation is constructed and a new understanding of the political resonances that result from it Yiddish Writers in Weimar Berlin reveals how Yiddish literature participated in the culture of Weimar era modernism how active Yiddish writers were in the literary scene and how German speaking Jews read descriptions of Yiddish speaking Jews to uncover the emotional complexity of what they managed to create even in the midst of their confusion and ambivalence in Germany Caplan's masterful narrative affords new insights into literary form Jewish culture and the philosophical and psychological motivations for aesthetic modernism The Broken Promise of Agricultural Progress Cameron Muir, 2014-06-05 Food and the global agricultural system has become one of the defining public concerns of the twenty first century Ecological disorder and inequity is at the heart of our food system This thoughtful and confronting book tells the story of how the development of modern agriculture promised ecological and social stability but instead descended into dysfunction Contributing to knowledge in environmental cultural and agricultural histories it explores how people have tried to live in the aftermath of ecological imperialism The Broken Promise of Agricultural Progress An environmental history journeys to the dry inland plains of Australia where European ideas and agricultural technologies clashed with a volatile and taunting country that resisted attempts to subdue and transform it for the supply of global markets Its wide ranging narrative puts gritty local detail in its global context to tell the story of how cultural anxieties about civilisation population and race shaped agriculture in the twentieth century It ranges from isolated experiment farms to nutrition science at the League of Nations from local landholders to high profile moral crusaders including an Australian apricot grower who met Franklin D Roosevelt and almost fed the world This book will be useful to undergraduates and postgraduates on courses examining international comparisons of nineteenth and twentieth century agriculture and courses studying colonial development and settler societies It will also appeal to food concerned general readers      Dominoes: Two.
