Caring for Older People Christine Brown Wilson, 2012-11-19. Caring for Older People is a timely and welcome addition to the nursing and health care literature. The book introduces and describes collaborative ways of working with older people ensuring that students and practitioners are better equipped to provide consistently high quality care that can make a positive difference to the lives of older people and their families. Providing an accessible evidence based framework and a wealth of practical strategies which can be implemented on a daily basis. Christine Brown Wilson takes the reader step by step through different approaches to nursing care and shows clearly how that care can move from being a task focused to a person focused experience. Case based scenarios threaded throughout the book also illustrate how the quality of care can be enhanced and how students and practitioners can work effectively with older people while balancing the competing demands of the health and social care system. The author also shows how nurses can influence current practice equipping the reader with key skills that can be used to challenge poor ways of working and to identify methods through which inadequate provision can be turned around. This book will be indispensable reading for all nursing and healthcare students and practitioners who want to improve the quality of life for older people.

Care of Older Adults Wendy Moyle, Deborah Parker, Marguerite Bramble, 2014-10-09. Care of Older Adults is a comprehensive introduction to aged care for the nursing profession in clinical practice. By taking a strengths based approach the book encourages practice with a focus on individuals potential and capacities rather than their limits. Theories of ageing are linked with the older individual's strengths to ensure the text is well framed from an evidence base as well as a clinical orientation. The book presents the topic from a healthy ageing perspective through to chronic illness frailty and end of life. Each chapter includes discussion and reflective questions and concludes with a list of key points summarising the central content. Case studies combine evidence based knowledge with practical examples in a number of aged care settings. Written by internationally renowned authors with extensive practical experience in aged care. Care of Older Adults provides undergraduate students in Australia and New Zealand with local content with a nursing focus.
