Fado and the Urban Poor in Portuguese Cinema of the 1930s and 1940s Michael Colvin, 2016 A compelling account of the role of Fado and the fadista in Portuguese film and the wider culture Colvin studies the evolution of Fado music as the soundtrack to the Portuguese talkie He analyzes the most successful Portuguese films of the first two decades of the Estado Novo era showing how directors used the national song to promote the values of the young Regime regarding the poor inhabitants of Lisbon's popular neighborhoods He considers the aesthetic technological and social advances that accompany the progress of the Estado Novo Futurism the development of sound film the inception of national radio broadcast access to the automobile and urban renewal within a historical context that considers Portugal's global profile at the time of Antnio de Oliveira Salazar's rise to power and the inauguration of Antnio Ferro's Secretariado da Propaganda Nacional Portugal's role as a secret ally of the Falange during the Spanish Civil War Lisbon's role as a neutral refuge during World War II and the Portuguese colonial empire as an anachronism in the post World War II years Colvin argues that Portuguese directors have exploited the growing popularity of the Fado and Lisbon's fadistas to dissuade citizens from alien values that promote individual ambitions and the notion of an easy life of poverty in the capital As the public image of the Fado evolves the fadista's role in film becomes more prominent and eventually the fadista is the protagonist and the Fado the principal concern of national film The author exposes the irony that as the social profile of the Lisbon fadista improves with the international fame of singer Amália Rodrigues Portuguese film perpetuates and validates the outdated characterization of the fadista as a social pariah that Leitão de Barros proposed in the first Portuguese talkie A Severa 1931 Michael Colvin is Associate Professor of Hispanic Studies at Marymount Manhattan College

Subjectivity at Latin America's Urban Margins Moisés Kopper, Matthew A. Richmond, 2024-10-01 Extreme inequalities uneven planning and unruly environments have long shaped individual and collective subjectivities at Latin America's urban margins Yet these same margins have frequently given rise to new forms of community organization cultural practice and social mobilization This volume frames the urban margins as complex and multi-layered sites where ongoing translocal histories of exploitation and marginalization meet distinctly local and interpersonal forms of sociability subjective belonging and political agency Through nuanced ethnographic work and cross-disciplinary theoretical insights Subjectivity at Latin America's Urban Margins unpacks this complexity investigating how margins are upheld negotiated and challenged

Bloomsbury Encyclopedia of Popular Music of the World, Volume 11 David Horn, 2017-10-05 See The Routledge Companion to the Study of Local Musicking Suzel A. Riley, Katherine Brucher, 2018-03-14 WINNER OF THE 2019 SOCIETY OF ETHNOMUSICOLOGY ELLEN KOSKOFF PRIZE FOR EDITED COLLECTIONS The Routledge Companion to the Study of Local Musicking provides a reference to how cross-culturally musicking constructs locality and how locality is constructed by the musicking that takes place within it that is how people engage with ideas of community and place through music The term musicking has gained currency in music studies and refers to the diverse ways in which people engage with music regardless of the nature of this engagement By linking musicking to the local this book highlights the ways in which musical practices and discourses interact with people's everyday experiences and understandings of their immediate environment their connections and commitment to that locality and the people who exist within it It explores what makes local musicking local By viewing musicking from the perspective of where it takes place the contributions in this collection engage with debates on the processes of musicking identity construction community building and network formation competitions and rivalries place and space making and local/global dynamics On Earth or in Poems Eric Calderwood, 2023-05-16 With extraordinary linguistic range Calderwood brings us the voices of Arabs and Muslims who have turned to the distant past of Spain to imagine their future Hussein Fancy Yale University How the memory of Muslim Iberia shapes art and politics from New York and Cordoba to Cairo and the West Bank During the Middle Ages the Iberian Peninsula was home not to Spain and Portugal but rather to al-Andalus Ruled by a succession of Islamic dynasties al-Andalus came to be a shorthand for a legendary place where people from the Middle East North Africa and Europe Jews Christians and Muslims lived together in peace That reputation is not entirely deserved yet as On Earth or in Poems shows it has had an enduring hold on the imagination especially for Arab and Muslim artists and thinkers in Europe the Middle East and North Africa From the vast and complex story behind the name al-Andalus Syrians and North Africans draw their own connections to history's ruling dynasties Palestinians can imagine themselves as Moriscos descended from Spanish Muslims forced to hide their identities. A Palestinian flamenco musician in Chicago no less than a Saudi women's rights activist can take inspiration from al Andalus. These diverse relationships to the same past may be imagined but the present day communities and future visions those relationships foster are real. Where do these notions of al Andalus come from? How do they translate into aspiration and action? Eric Calderwood traces the role of al Andalus in music and in debates about Arab and Berber identities, Arab and Muslim feminisms, the politics of Palestine and Israel, and immigration and multiculturalism in Europe. The Palestinian poet Mahmud Darwish once asked: Was al Andalus Here or there? On earth or in poems? The artists and activists showcased in this book answer: it was there, it is here, and it will be.

Choral Voices Sebanti Chatterjee, 2023-02-09. Choral Voices: Ethnographic Imaginations of Sound and Sacrality is about sacred and secular choirs in Goa and Shillong across churches, seminaries, schools, auditoriums, classrooms, reality TV shows, and festivals. Voice and genre emerge as social objects annotated by tradition, nostalgia, and innovation. Piety, literally and metaphorically, shapes the Christian lifeworld, predominantly those belonging to the Presbyterian and Catholic denominations. Indigeneity structures the political and cultural motifs in the making of the Christian musical traditions. Located at the intersection of Sociology, Anthropology, and Ethnomusicology, the choral voices enmesh affect and the visual-aural dispatch. Thus, sonic spectrum holds space for indigenous and global musicality. This ethnographic work will be useful for scholars researching music and sound studies, religious studies, cultural anthropology, and sociology of India.
