IAS 39 Meryem Önüt, 2017-10-16 Master s Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject Business economics Accounting and Taxes grade 2 0 University of Hohenheim language English abstract The purpose of this thesis is to provide direct empirical evidence on the use of the Amendment according to IAS 39 regarding the reclassification of financial instruments It therefore reviews what happened when the accounting policies were switched from fair value accounting to historical accounting during the financial crisis in 2008 Using a sample of manually collected data from Western European banks the thesis empirically examines which banks used this reclassification option to deal with problematic financial assets and how these reclassification activities are correlated with other firm characteristics Furthermore the thesis shows the influence of the amount of assets in each fair value level on the fair value hierarchy and the impact of the banks regulatory capital during the height of the financial crises on the use of the relaxation option The final aim is to analyze the economic consequences of this option and to determine how beneficial it is for the global financial system considering that banks will again make use of this sort of permission in other future crises After the development of the International Financial Reporting Standards IFRS by the International Accounting Standard Board IASB in 2001 the European Union EU decided to unify the jurisdictions for all listed corporations and therefore decreed a mandatory adoption of IFRS in the EU The EU reasoned that common accounting standards improve capital market efficiency and reduce information processing and auditing costs However the decisive reason for the adoption of IFRS was that today s global economy requires global standards to ensure transparency accountability and comparability of financial accounts IFRS was preferred because of its focus on a fair value based method of accounting compared to historical cost accounting and the EU claimed that adopting IFRS would bring financial stability while serving the interests of the public
