Existential and Spiritual Issues in Death Attitudes Adrian Tomer, Grafton Eliason, Paul T. P. Wong, 2008 In this new volume death is treated both as a threat to meaning and as an opportunity to create meaning

Positive Existential Psychology for the Prevention of Extremism Alain Ruffion, 2025-07-30 Many scientific works and studies have focused on the phenomena of extremism and violent radicalization However very few resources exist to effectively address this issue from an educational perspective The diagnoses are often fragmented and give prominence to geopolitical and socio-political factors Yet an interdisciplinary analysis of the processes of extremism and radicalization indicates the central role of biographical psychological or even psychopathological variables and traumas How can we draw deep lessons from this to innovate in education and truly give ourselves the means to prevent these processes of extremism and radicalization This book deliberately choosing positive and existential psychology as a resource proposes to answer this question with the support of scientific and creative resources that finally address and respond to the root causes These resources are adapted to socio-educational professions and understandable by parents They finally restore courage ideas and motivating and positive approaches for all those who want to take up this increasingly widespread and threatening challenge within our societies At the same time these resources make it possible to work on the transmission of values strengths and to contribute to the mental health and fulfilment of our youth a capital theme if there ever was one

Assessment of Mental Health, Religion and Culture Christopher Alan Lewis, 2018-10-08 Assessment of mental health religion and culture The development and examination of psychometric measures focuses on questionnaires that are of practical value for researchers interested in examining the relationship between the constructs of mental health religion and culture Three particular areas of development and evaluation are represented within this volume firstly the psychometric properties of recently developed new questionnaires secondly the psychometric properties of established questionnaires that have been translated into other languages and thirdly the psychometric properties of questionnaires employed in various cultural contexts and religious samples The research in this book is authored by a wide range of international scholars working on diverse samples and in a variety of different cultures In doing so the book facilitates future research in the area of mental health religion and culture This book was originally published as two special issues of Mental Health Religion Culture Prisoners of Our Thoughts Alex Pattakos, Elaine Dundon, 2017-01-09 7 Principles for Finding Meaning in Life Work World renowned psychiatrist Viktor Frankl's Man's Search for Meaning is one of the most important books of modern times Frankl's extraordinary personal story of finding meaning amid the horrors of the Nazi concentration camps has inspired millions Frankl vividly showed that you always have the ultimate freedom to choose your attitude you don't have to be a prisoner of your thoughts Dr Alex Pattakos who was urged by Frankl to write Prisoners of Our Thoughts and Elaine Dundon a personal and organizational innovation thought leader show how Frankl's wisdom can help readers find meaning in every moment of their lives Drawing on the entire body of Frankl's work they identify seven core principles and demonstrate how they can be applied to everyday life and work This revised and expanded third edition features new stories practical exercises applications and insights from the authors new work in MEANINGology Three new chapters outline how we all can benefit by putting meaning at the core of our lives work and society And a new chapter on Viktor Frankl's legacy illustrates how his work continues to influence so many around the world Finding Meaning in Life, at Midlife and Beyond David Guttman, 2008-09-30 Having been mentored by Viktor E Frankl the founder of logotherapy Emeritus Professor David Guttman authored this book so general readers may understand this approach to finding meaning in life at the point when most of us begin deeply wondering over that question at midlife and beyond Especially in this day and age of multiple demands on our time and seemingly non stop obligations we too often find that it is only when the dust settles after a work day or work week or even after retirement when we begin to wonder What is the meaning of life The purpose This book is a new millennium venture into those questions and their answers using logotherapy written by a sage understudy who recalls Frankl with his logotherapy as the epitome of his theory even at 80 years old wise and witty exuding an energy enthusiasm and youthful spirit that belied his years by decades Aging does not diminish our power our energy and our quest for life but reshapes it with new understandings goals and needs But says Guttman we live in a technical and machine based world now in which there is a danger of losing our souls Here readers find a new creative perspective on aging and a fresh spiritual outlook This book will be of interest not only to general readers especially those at midlife and beyond but also to their families friends and students or professionals in the helping professions This unique work provides knowledge to find meaning in life derived from the fields of philosophy psychology religion and gerontology with case illustrations and vignettes to give readers both intellectual pleasure and practical guidance COVID-19 and Existential Positive Psychology (PP2.0): The New Science of Self-Transcendence Paul T. P. Wong, Claude-Hélène Mayer, Gökmen Arslan, In the era of COVID 19 many people have suffered high levels of stress and mental health problems To cope with the widespread of suffering physical psychological social and economical the positive psychology of personal happiness is no longer the sole approach to examine personal wellbeing Other approaches such as Viktor Frankl s theory of self transcendence provide a promising framework for research and intervention on how to achieve resilience wellbeing and happiness through overcoming suffering and self transcendence The existential positive psychology of suffering complements the positive psychology of happiness which is championed by Martin Seligman as two equal halves of the circle of wellbeing and optimal mental health This Research Topic aims to examine the different approaches to Positive Psychology and their influence on individual wellbeing during the COVID 19 era One of the exciting development in the positive psychology of wellbeing is the mounting research on the adaptive benefits of negative emotions such as shame guilt and anger as well as the dialectical process of balancing negative and positive emotions As an example based on all the empirical research and Frankl s self transcendence model Wong has developed the existential positive psychology of suffering PP2 0 as the foundation for flourishing Here are a few main tenets of PP2 0 1 Life is suffering and a constant struggle throughout every stage of development 2 The search for self transcendence is a primary motive guided by the meaning mindset and mindful mindset 3 Wellbeing cannot be sustainable without overcoming and transforming suffering In this Research Topic we welcome diverse approaches discussing the following points The dialectic process of overcoming the challenges of every stage of development as necessary for personal growth and self transcendence The role of self transcendence in resilience virtue meaning and happiness The upside of negative emotions The new science of resilience based on cultivating the resilient mindset and character How to make the best use of suffering to achieve out potentials mental health
