

The image features a horizontal sequence of seven ovals, each representing a different stage in the Earth's history. From left to right: the first oval is a colorful, abstract representation of a protoplanet; the second is a bright orange-red molten sphere; the third is a brownish, cratered sphere; the fourth is a blue and white sphere with visible continents; the fifth is a green and brown sphere with prominent landmasses; the sixth is a blue and white sphere with a more complex continental layout; and the seventh is a detailed, modern Earth showing continents and oceans. The background is a dark, starry space with various galaxies and nebulae visible. The text "Evolution of the Earth?" is centered over the middle of the sequence.
