The Ecologies of the Building Envelope

Alejandro Zaera-Polo,Jeffrey Anderson,2021-05-11 The Ecologies of the Envelope theorizes the building envelope as a literal embodiment of the social political technological and economic contingencies which have become embedded within it over the last century analyzing the historical lineages heroes and villains that helped define the complex material ecologies we see within the envelope today While the fa ade is one of the most thoroughly theorized elements of architecture it is also one of the most questioned since the end of the 19th century Within the discipline of architecture the traditional understanding of the fa ade focuses primarily on semiotic and compositional operations such as proportional laws and linguistic codes which are deployed on the building s surface In contrast to this our material and environmental theory of the envelope proposes that the exponential development of building technologies since the mid 19th century coupled with new techniques of management and regulation have diminished the compositional and ornamental capacities of the envelope in favor of material quantitative and technical performances Rather than producing a stylistic analysis of the fa ade we investigate the historical lineages of the performances components assembly types and material entanglements that constitute the contemporary building envelope

Inclusive Theory and Practice in Special Education

van Rensburg, Henriette, O'Neill, Shirley, 2020-01-03 Inclusive education retains significant complexity associated with creating a definition and there is significant importance within the surrounding narratives reflecting the broader definitions. Due to the flexibility within the definition investigating current practices across an array of definitions becomes essential to developing best practices in special education. Inclusive Theory and Practice in Special Education is an essential research book that examines current shifts in the field within the overarching philosophy of inclusion and inclusive education. It reports recent research that focuses on the experiences of teachers and students in classrooms and ways of enhancing the practices of inservice teachers and early career teachers as well as the preparation of preservice teachers. Besides presenting research from these perspectives it also addresses a selection of broader issues that impact on policy and curriculum thus identifying related concerns including those of the wider community. Highlighting a wide range of topics such as learning disabilities, student mobility and early childhood education this publication is ideal for researchers, professionals, administrators, curriculum designers, academicians, policymakers and students.
