Face To Face Ocean Portraits:

Face to Face Huw Lewis-Jones, 2010 A lavish collection of spectacular photography above and below the ocean waves this book is a stunning visual celebration of the explorers and scientists naval officers and yachtsmen fishermen and divers who have harnessed surveyed and investigated the great oceans of the world Face to Face, 1974 Face to Face Huw Lewis-Jones, 2008 A lavish account of pioneering polar photography and modern portraiture Face to Face Polar Portraits brings together in a single volume both rare unpublished treasures from the historic collections of the Scott Polar Research Institute SPRI University of Cambridge face to face with cutting edge modern imagery from expedition photographer Martin Hartley This unique book by Huw Lewis Jones is the first to examine the history and role of polar exploration photography and showcases the very first polar photographs of 1845 through to images from the present day It features the first portraits of explorers some of the earliest photographs of the Inuit the first polar photographs to appear in a book and rare images never before published from many of the Heroic Age Antarctic expeditions Almost all the historic imagery daguerreotypes magic lantern slides glass plate negatives and images from private albums that have been rediscovered during research for this book have never been before the public eye Set within a gallery of 100 double page spreads are 50 of the world's finest historic polar portraits from the SPRI collection alternated with 50 modern day images by Martin Hartley who has captured men and women of many nations exploring working and living in the Polar Regions today Each gallery spread dedicated to a single individual gives a sense of the isolation and intense personal experience each face has had in living or travelling through the polar wilderness whether they be one of the world's greatest explorers or a humble cook In addition to this remarkable collection is a foreword written by Sir Ranulph Fiennes a fascinating exploration into photography then the history of photography and its role in shaping our vision of the polar hero by historian and curator of art at SPRI Dr Huw Lewis Jones a discussion between Dr Lewis Jones and Martin Hartley about photography now focusing on the essential role that photography plays in modern polar adventuring and an afterword entitled The Boundaries of Light by the best selling author Hugh Brody

Imagining the Arctic Huw Lewis-Jones, 2017-03-13 Imagining the Arctic explores the culture and politics of polar exploration and the making of its heroes Leading explorers the celebrity figures of their day went to great lengths to convince their contemporaries of the merits of polar voyages Much of exploration was in fact theatre a series of performances to capture public attention and persuade governments to finance ambitious proposals The achievements of explorers were promoted celebrated and manipulated whilst explorers themselves became the subject of huge attention Huw Lewis Jones draws upon recovered texts and striking images many reproduced for the first time since the nineteenth century to show how exploration was projected through a series of spectacular visuals helping us to reconstruct the ways that heroes and the wilderness were imagined Elegantly written and richly illustrated Imagining the Arctic offers original insights into our understanding of exploration and its pull on the public imagination and Cook Counties, Illinois, Containing Biographical Sketches of Prominent and Representative Citizens of the County, Together with Biographies and Portraits of All the Presidents of the United States ,1894 Photography and Exploration James R. Ryan,2013-07-15 When Ferdinand Magellan set out to circumnavigate the globe in 1519 he wasn't able to bring a digital camera or a smartphone with him Yet as the eagerly awaited images from the Mars rover prove modern exploration is inconceivable without photography Since its invention in 1839 photography has been integral to exploration used by explorers sponsors and publishers alike and the early twentieth century advances in technology and photography's newfound cultural currency as a truthful witness to the world made the camera an indispensable tool In Photography and Exploration James R Ryan uses a variety of examples from polar journeys to space missions to show how exploration photographs have been created circulated and consumed as objects of both scientific research and art Examining a wide range of photographs and expeditions Ryan considers how nations have often employed images as a means to scientific advancement or territorial conquest He argues that because exploration has long been bound up with the construction of national and imperial identity expeditionary photographs have often been used to promote claims to power especially by the West These images also challenge the way audiences perceive the world and their place within it Featuring one hundred images Photography and Exploration shines new light on how photography has shaped the image of explorers expeditions and the worlds they discovered Portraits of places Henry James,2023-09-22 Reproduction of the original

Plastic Ocean: Art and Science Responses to Marine Pollution Ingeborg Reichle,2021-07-05 Our oceans are in an ecological crisis due to their contamination with millions of tons of toxic microplastic particles In just a few years the volume of microplastic particles will exceed that of plankton in our oceans and turn them into a huge sea of plastic This publication brings together numerous international art projects related to environmental activities DIY biotechnology and science and draws attention to the irreversible destruction of our marine ecosystems the current threat posed by the loss of marine animal biodiversity for example or the decline in oxygen production due to massive plankton loss It also presents current scientific findings on sustainable alternatives to plastic Nora Heysen: A Portrait Anne-Louise Willoughby,2019-04-01 Hahndorf artist Nora Heysen was the first woman to win the Archibald Prize and Australia's first female painter to be appointed as an official war artist A portraitist and a flower painter Nora Heysen's life was defined by an all-consuming drive to draw and paint In 1989 aged 78 Nora re-emerged on the Australian art scene when the nation's major art institutions restored her position after years of artistic obscurity Extensively researched and containing artworks and photographs from the painter's life this is the first biography of the artist and it has been enthusiastically embraced by the Heysen family This authorized biography coincides with a major retrospective of the works of Nora and her father landscape painter Hans Heysen to be held at the National Gallery of Victoria in March 2019 The Antiquarian ,1927 Ocean Art Helen Scales,2025-09-26 From a leading writer of the sea an exquisitely illustrated deep dive into the beauty and meaning of art inspired by the life of the watery depths Artists have captured the marvels of ocean life throughout history From fine art to scientific illustrations these portrayals help us to appreciate and interpret the diversity of shapes colors and patterns of the remarkable organisms that inhabit the oceans of the world In Ocean Art marine biologist and writer Helen Scales takes readers on a tour of ocean art looking for the most striking and meaningful depictions of sea creatures from ancient times to modern and from the coast to the deepest abyss reflecting on how these works influence our view of life beneath the waves This richly illustrated celebration of the beauty and wonders of ocean life is also a call to cherish and protect the endangered living seas

Photographers and Research Shirley Read, Mike Simmons, 2016-12-19 This ground breaking book situates research at the heart of photographic practice asking the key question What does research mean for photographers Illuminating the nature and scope of research and its practical application to photography the book explores how research provides a critical framework to help develop awareness extend subject knowledge and inform the development of photographic work The authors consider research as integral to the creative process and through interviews with leading photographers explore how photographers have embedded research strategies into their creative practice

Women, Power and Politics in 21st Century Iran Tara Povey, 2016-02-17 This book examines the women s movement in Iran and its role in contesting gender relations since the 1979 revolution Looking at examples from politics law employment environment media and religion and the struggle for democracy this book demonstrates how material conditions have important social and political consequences for the lives of women in Iran and exposes the need to challenge the dominant theoretical perspectives on gender and Islam A truly fascinating insider s look at the experiences of Iranian women as academics political and civil society activists this book counters the often inaccurate and misleading stereotyping of Iranian women to present a vibrant and diverse picture of these women s lives A welcome and unique addition to the vibrant and growing literature on women Islam development democracy and feminisms
