Nicholson Harland COULTAS, 1874 Animal Intelligence George John Romanes, 1901 Animals in the Anthropocene Edited by the Human Animal Research Network Editorial Collective, 2015-06-16 Much of the discussion on the Anthropocene has centred upon anthropogenic global warming and climate change and the urgency of political and social responses to this problem Animals in the Anthropocene critical perspectives on non human futures shows that assessing the effects of human activity on the planet requires more than just the quantification of ecological impacts towards the categorisation of geological eras It requires recognising and evaluating a wide range of territories and terrains full of non human agents and interests and meanings exposed to the profound forces of change that give their name to the Anthropocene It is from the perspective of the animal question asking how best to think and live with animals that Animals in the Anthropocene seeks to interrogate the Anthropocene as a concept discourse and state of affairs The term Anthropocene is a useful device for drawing attention to the devastations wreaked by anthropocentrism and advancing a relational model for human and non human life The effects on animals of human political and economic systems continue to expand and intensify in numerous domains and in ways that not only cause suffering and loss but that also produce new forms of life and alter the very nature of species As anthropogenic change affects the more than human world in innumerable ways we must accept responsibility for the damage we have caused and the debt we owe to non human species     Animal intelligence (treatise). George John Romanes,1882

An Engraved Landscape: Rock carvings in the Wadi al-Ajal, Libya Tertia Barnett,2023-02-23 An Engraved Landscape is a contextual analysis of a substantial new corpus of engravings from the Wadi al Ajal situated in the Central Saharan region of south west Libya The wadi is renowned as the heartland of the Garamantian civilization which emerged from local mobile Pastoral communities in the 1st millennium BC and dominated trans Saharan trade and politics for over a thousand years Extensive archaeological and palaeoenvironmental investigations in recent years have provided detailed insight into the later prehistory and protohistory of the wadi and surrounding areas However prior to the fieldwork detailed in this work only a handful of carvings had been recorded in the wadi This work is based on systematic survey conducted between 2004 and 2009 which recorded around 2 500 previously unknown or unpublished engraved and inscribed rock surfaces All forms of engraving whether figurative or surface markings were viewed as significant residues of human interaction with the rock surface and were recorded The resulting database provides an opportunity to analyze the engravings in relation to their changing physical and cultural contexts and the discussion offers a fresh interpretation of Saharan rock art based on this substantial new evidence An Engraved Landscape also captures in detail a unique heritage resource that is currently inaccessible and threatened This record of the fragile engravings provides an important source of information for researchers and students     Plantation Worlds Maan Barua,2024-07-26 In Plantation Worlds Maan Barua interrogates debates on planetary transformations through the histories and ecologies of plantations Drawing on long term research spanning fifteen years Barua presents a unique ethnography attentive to the lives of both people and elephants amid tea plantations in the Indian state of Assam In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries nearly three million people were brought in to Assam s plantations to work under conditions of indenture Plantations dramatically altered the region s landscape plundered resources and created fraught worlds for elephants and people Their extractive logics and colonial legacies prevail as durations forging the ambit of infrastructures labor habitability and conservation in the present And yet as the perspectives of the Adivasi plantation worker community and lifeworlds of elephants show possibilities for enacting a decolonial imaginary of landscape remain present amid immiseration From the margins of the Global South Barua offers an alternative grammar for articulating environmental change In so doing he prompts a rethinking of multispecies ecologies and how they are structured by colonialism and race     Face to Face with Elephants Beverly Joubert,Dereck Joubert,2008 Close up photographs and personal stories of encounters with elephants     Gazetteer Bombay (India : State),1883

Gazetteer of the Bombay Presidency Bombay (Presidency),1883     The Illustrated London News ,1929     Love and Friendship Across Cultures Soraj Hongladarom,Jeremiah Joven Joaquin,2021-01-10 This collection brings together

Speaking of Animals Robert Palmatier, 1995-04-30 No other nonhuman source has served as the basis for more metaphors than animals Speaking of Animals is a dictionary of animal metaphors that are current in American English It is comprehensive historical and metaphor based Each entry refers to the other dictionaries that catalog that same metaphor and the dates of first appearance in writing are supplied where possible for both the metaphor and the name of the source The main text is organized alphabetically by metaphor rather than by animal or animal behavior all the metaphors are classified according to their animal source in a list at the end of the book An animal metaphor is a word phrase or sentence that expresses a resemblance or similarity between someone or something and a particular animal or animal class True metaphors are single words such as the noun tiger the verb hog and the adjective chicken Phrasal metaphors combine true metaphors with other words such as blind tiger hog the road and chicken colonel Other animal metaphors take the form of similes such as like rats leaving a sinking ship and prickly as a hedgehog Still others take the form of proverbs such as Don t count your chickens before they hatch and Let sleeping dogs lie The horse is the animal most frequently referred to in metaphors followed closely by the dog The Bible is the most prolific literary source of animal metaphors followed closely by Shakespeare
