American Modernist Fiction John Dolis, 2023-07-31 American Modernist Fiction Psychoanalytic Recitations of Identity addresses five American Modernist novels in light of Lacanian psychoanalytic theory Nathanael West's Miss Lonelyhearts Kay Boyle's Process Djuna Barnes's Nightwood Thornton Wilder's The Cabala and F Scott Fitzgerald's Tender Is the Night Dolis's dynamic readings constitute a spirited performance of the narrative deploying his own innovative form of literary analysis what he calls performance criticism These psychoanalytic studies simultaneously stage the narrative and re enact its putative significance provoke and question its intent thereby establishing a dialectics of desire what both affects the body of the narrative and equally the critic's subjectivity

Sound Effects: The Object Voice in Fiction, 2015-09-01 Sound Effects combines literary criticism and psychoanalytic theory in eleven original articles which explore the potential of the object voice as an analytic tool to approach fiction Alongside the gaze the voice is Jacques Lacan's original addition to the set of partial objects of classical psychoanalysis and has only recently been theorised by Mladen Dolar in A Voice and Nothing More 2006 With notable exceptions like Garrett Stewart's Reading Voices 1990 the sonorous element in fiction has received little scholarly attention in comparison with poetry and drama Sound Effects is a contribution to the burgeoning field of sound studies and sets out to fill this gap through selective readings of English and American fiction of the last two hundred years Contributors Fred Botting Natalja Chestopalova Mladen Dolar Matt Foley Alex Hope Phillip Mahoney Sylvia Mieszkowski Jorge Sacido Romero Marcin Stawiariski Garrett Stewart Peter Weise and Bruce Wyse

Female Performers in British and American Fiction Barbara Straumann, 2018-05-22 The female performer with a public voice constitutes a remarkably vibrant theme in British and American narratives of the long nineteenth century The tension between fictional female performers and other textual voices can be seen to refigure the cultural debate over the voice of women in aesthetically complex ways By focusing on singers actresses preachers and speakers this book traces and explores an important tradition of feminine articulation Drawing on critical approaches in literary studies gender studies and philosophy the book conceptualizes voice for the discussion of narrative texts Examining voice both as a thematic concern and as an aesthetic effect the individual chapters analyse how the actual articulation by female performers correlates with their cultural visibility and agency What this study

foregrounds is how women characters succeed in making themselves heard even if their voices are silenced in the end

Joycean Legacies Martha C. Carpentier, 2015-04-28 These twelve essays analyze the complex pleasures and problems of engaging with James Joyce for subsequent writers discussing Joyce's textual stylistic formal generic and biographical influence on an intriguing selection of Irish British American and postcolonial writers from the 1940s to the twenty-first century

The Making of English Popular Culture John Storey, 2016-05-20 The Making of English Popular Culture provides an account of the making of popular culture in the nineteenth century While a form of what we might describe as popular culture existed before this period John Storey has assembled a collection that demonstrates how what we now think of as popular culture first emerged as a result of the enormous changes that accompanied the industrial revolution Particularly significant are the technological changes that made the production of new forms of culture possible and the concentration of people in urban areas that created significant audiences for this new culture Consisting of fourteen original chapters that cover diverse topics ranging from seaside holidays and the invention of Christmas tradition to advertising music and popular fiction the collection aims to enhance our understanding of the relationship between culture and power as explored through areas such as race ethnicity class sexuality and gender It also aims to encourage within cultural studies a renewed historical sense when engaging critically with popular culture by exploring the historical conditions surrounding the existence of popular texts and practices Written in a highly accessible style The Making of English Popular Culture is an ideal text for undergraduates studying cultural and media studies literary studies cultural history and visual culture

Sarah Waters: Gender and Sexual Politics Claire O'Callaghan, 2017-01-26 Sarah Waters Gender and Sexual Politics uniquely brings together feminist and queer theoretical perspectives on gender and sexuality through close analysis of works by Sarah Waters This timely study examines topics ranging from heterosexuality homosexuality masculinities femininities sex pornography and the cultural effects of othering and domination across her work The book covers each of Waters's published novels to date including Tipping the Velvet Fingersmith and The Paying Guests and also considers her non-fiction and academic writing as well as the television adaptations of her texts O'Callaghan situates Waters's writing as an important textual space for the examination of contemporary gender and sexuality studies and locates her as an astute commentator and contributor to twenty-first-century gender and sexual politics

Anna Bernard,Ziad Elmarsafy,Stuart Murray,2015-08-11 This book reclaims postcolonial theory addressing persistent limitations in the geographical disciplinary and methodological assumptions of its dominant formations It emerges however from an investment in the future of postcolonial studies and a commitment to its basic premise namely that literature and culture are fundamental to the response to structures of colonial and imperial domination To a certain extent postcolonial theory is a victim of its own success not least because of the institutionalization of the insights that it has enabled Now that these insights no longer seem new it is hard to know what the field should address beyond its general commitments Yet the renewal of popular anti imperial energies across the globe provides an important opportunity to reassert the political and theoretical value of the postcolonial as a comparative interdisciplinary and oppositional paradigm This collection makes a claim for what postcolonial theory can say through the work of scholars articulating what it still cannot or will not say It explores ideas that a more aesthetically sophisticated postcolonial theory might be able to address focusing on questions of visibility performance and literariness Contributors highlight some of the shortcomings of current postcolonial theory in relation to contemporary political developments such as Zimbabwean land reform postcommunism and the economic rise of Asia Finally they address the disciplinary geographical and methodological exclusions from postcolonial studies through a detailed focus on new disciplinary directions management studies international relations disaster studies overlooked locations and perspectives Palestine Weimar Germany the commons and the necessity of materialist analysis for understanding both the contemporary world and world literary systems Mid-century women's writing Melissa Dinsman,Megan Faragher,Ravenel Richardson,2024-07-09 The traditional narrative of the mid century 1930s 60s is that of a wave of expansion and constriction with the swelling of economic and political freedoms for women in the 1930s the cresting of women in the public sphere during the Second World War and the resulting break as employment and political opportunities for women dwindled in the 1950s when men returned home from the front But as the burgeoning field of interwar and mid century women s writing has demonstrated this narrative is in desperate need of re examination Mid century women s writing Disrupting the public private divide aims to revivify studies of female writers journalists broadcasters and public intellectuals living or working in Britain or under British rule during the mid century while also complicating extant narratives about the divisions between domesticity and politics Parents and Children in the Mid-Victorian Novel Madeleine Wood,2020-10-30 This book produces an original argument about the emergence of trauma in the nineteenth century through new readings of Dickens Emily and Charlotte Bronte Collins Gaskell and Elliot Madeleine Wood argues that the mid Victorian novels present their protagonists in a state of damage provoked and defined by the conditions of the mid century family the cross generational relationship is presented as formative and traumatising By presenting family relationships as decisive for our psychological state as well as our social identity the Victorian authors pushed beyond the contemporary scientific models available to them Madeleine Wood analyses the literary and historical conditions of the mid century period that led to this new literary emphasis and which paved the way for the emergence of psychoanalysis in Vienna at the fin de siècle Analysing a series of theoretical texts Madeleine Wood shows that psychoanalysis shares the mid Victorian concern with the unequal relationship between adult and child focusing her reading through Freud's early writings and Jean Laplanche's general theory of seduction

Dramatic Disgust Sarah J. Ablett, 2020-07-30 Aesthetic disgust is a key component of most classic works of drama because it has much more potential than to simply shock the audience This first extensive study on dramatic disgust places this sensation among pity and fear as one of the core emotions that can achieve katharsis in drama The book sets out in antiquity and traces the history of dramatic disgust through Kant Freud and Kristeva to Sarah Kane's in yer face theatre It establishes a framework to analyze forms and functions of disgust in drama by investigating its different cognates miasma abjection etc Providing a concise argument against critics who have discredited aesthetic disgust as juvenile attention grabbing Sarah J Ablett explains how this repulsive emotion allows theatre to dig deeper into what it means to be human

The Medieval Presence in the Modernist Aesthetic Simone Celine Marshall, Carole M. Cusack, 2017-11-01 In The Medieval Presence in the Modernist Aesthetic Unattended Moments editors Simone Celine Marshall and Carole M Cusack have brought together essays on literary Modernism that uncover medieval themes and tropes that have previously been unattended that is neglected or ignored A historical span of a century is covered from musical modernist Richard Wagner's final opera Parsifal 1882 to Russell Hoban's speculative fiction Riddley Walker 1980 and themes of Arthurian literature scholastic philosophy Irish legends classical philology dream theory Orthodox theology and textual exegesis are brought into conversation with key Modernist writers including T S Eliot Ezra Pound Samuel Beckett Marcel Proust W B Yeats Evelyn Waugh and Eugene Ionesco These scholarly investigations are original illuminating and often delightful

Angela Carter and Folk Music Polly Paulusma, 2022-12-01 From her unique standpoint as singer songwriter scholar Polly Paulusma examines the influences of Carter's 1960s folk singing unknown until now on her prose writing Recent critical attention has focused on Carter's relationship with folk fairy tales but this book uses a newly available archive containing Carter's folk song notes books LPs and recordings to change the debate proving Carter performed folk songs Placing this archive alongside the album sleeve notes Carter wrote and her diaries and essays it reimagines Carter's prose as a vehicle for the singing voice and reveals a writing style imbued with songfulness informed by her singing praxis Reading Carter's texts through songs she knew and sang this book shows from influences of rhythm melodic shape thematic focus imagery voice and breath how Carter steeped her writing with folk song's features to produce canorography song infused prose Concluding with a discussion of Carter's profound influence on songwriters focusing on the author's interview with Emily Portman this book invites us to reimagine Carter's prose as aural event dissolving boundaries between prose and song between text and reader between word and sound in an ever-renewing act of sympathetic resonance

Victorian Metafiction Tabitha Sparks, 2022-11-17 Critics agree in the abstract that metafiction refers to any novel that draws attention to its own fictional construction but metafiction has been largely associated with the postmodern era In this innovative new book Tabitha Sparks identifies a sustained pattern of metafiction in the Victorian novel that illuminates the art and intentions of its female practitioners From the mid-nineteenth century through the fin de siècle novels by Victorian women such as Charlotte Brontë Rhoda Broughton Charlotte Riddell Eliza Lynn Linton and several New Women authors share a common but underexamined trope the fictional characterization of the woman novelist or autobiographer Victorian Metafiction reveals how these novels systemically dispute the assumptions that women wrote primarily about their emotions or were restricted to trivial sentimental plots Countering an established tradition that has read novels by women writers as heavily autobiographical and confessional Sparks identifies the literary technique of metafiction in numerous novels by women writers and argues that women used metafictional self-consciousness to draw the reader's attention to the book and not the novelist By dislodging the narrative from these cultural prescriptions Victorian Metafiction effectively argues how these women novelists presented the business and art of writing as the subject of the novel and wrote metafiction in order to establish their artistic integrity and professional authority

Sound and Literature Anna Snaith, 2020-06-18 What does it mean to write in and about sound How can literature seemingly a silent visual medium be sound-bearing This volume considers these questions by attending to the energy generated by the sonic in literary studies from the late nineteenth century to the present Sound whether understood as noise music rhythm voice or vibration has long shaped literary cultures and their scholarship In original chapters written by leading scholars in the field this book tunes in to the literary text as a site of vocalisation rhythmics and dissonance as well as an archive of soundscapes modes of listening and sound technologies Sound and Literature is unique for the breadth and plurality of its approach and for its interrogation and methodological mapping of the field of literary sound studies
