The International Social Survey Programme 1984-2009 Max Haller, Roger Jowell, Tom W Smith, 2009-09-11 The social sciences rely more on the comparative method than on experimental data mainly because the latter is difficult to acquire amongst human populations The International Social Survey Programme has played a pioneering role in creating and sustaining methodologically sophisticated mass attitude surveys across the globe Starting in 1984 with five nations it now encompasses forty five nations spread over five continents each administering an identical annual survey to a random sample of their population Analyses of the data or descriptions of the methodology already appear in over 3 000 publications This book contains new contributions from three dozen eminent scholars who analyse and compare the perceptions and attitudes of citizens across all five continents nations and over time Subjects range from inequality and the role of the state ethnic national and global identities

Rethinking the Value of Democracy Renske Doorenspleet, 2018-07-21 This book is the first comprehensive analysis of the instrumental value of democracy in a comparative perspective Based on extensive analyses of quantitative studies from different disciplines it explores both the expected beneficial and harmful impact of democracy Democracy's reputation as delivering peace and development while controlling corruption is an important source of its own legitimacy Yet as this book acutely demonstrates the arguments tend to be normatively driven interventions in ideologically charged policy debates The book argues that we need neither a utopian framing of democracy as delivering all good things in politics nor a cynical one that emphasizes only the dangerous underbelly of this form of government The author also raises critical questions about the value of the study of democracy the choice for particular concepts and measures the unknown mechanisms and the narrow focus on specific instrumental values This volume will be necessary reading for anyone interested in debates on democracy in the contemporary global context

Reconsidering Israel-Diaspora Relations Eliezer Ben-Rafael, Judit Bokser Liwerant, Yosef Gorny, 2014-06-19 In this era of globalization Jewish diversity is marked more than ever by transnational expansion of competing movements and local influences on specific conditions One factor that still makes Jewish communities one is the common reference to Israel Today however differentiations and discrepancies in identification and behavior generate plurality and ambiguities about Israel Diaspora relationships Moreover the Judeophobia now rife in Europe and beyond as well as the spread of the Palestinian cause as a civil religion make Israel the world's Jew among nations. This weighs heavily on community relations despite Israel's active presence in the diaspora. In this context the contributions to this volume focus on Jewish peoplehood, religiosity and ethnicity, gender and generation, Israelophobia and world Jewry and debate the perspectives that are most pertinent to confront the question: how far is the Jewish Commonwealth? Klal Yisrael still an important code of Jewry today.

Food Practices and Social Inequality Jennifer Smith Maguire, 2017-08-10. Policy-related academic and populist accounts of the relationship between food and class tend to reproduce a dichotomy that privileges either middle class discerning taste or working class necessity. Taking a markedly different approach, this collection explores the classed cultures of food practices across the spectrum of social stratification. Eschewing assumptions about the tastes or lack thereof of low income consumers, the authors call attention to the diverse complex forms of critical creativity and cultural capital employed by individuals, families and communities in their attempts to acquire and prepare food that is both healthy and desirable. The collection includes research carried out in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Denmark and covers diverse contexts from the intense insecurity of food deserts to the relative security of social democratic states. Through quantitative and qualitative cross-class comparisons and ethnographic accounts of low income experiences and practices, the authors examine the ways in which food practices and preferences are inflected by social class alone and in combination with gender, ethnicity and urban/rural location. The collection underlines the simultaneous need for the development of a more nuanced dynamic account of the tastes and cultural competences of socially disadvantaged groups and for structural critiques of the gross inequalities in the degrees of freedom with which different individuals and groups engage in food practices. This book was originally published as a special issue of Food Culture Society.

Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Anders Bäckström, Grace Davie, Ninna Edgärth, Per Pettersson, 2016-02-24. Historically, European churches have played a large part in the provision of welfare. Responsibility, however, has gradually shifted to the state, a shift that forms an integral part of the process of secularization and one that has been readily accepted by European populations. But what happens when the state itself begins to recede, a process that is occurring in most if not all European societies for a wide variety of reasons? The implications for welfare are considerable, not least for the role of the churches which begin to resume the responsibilities previously shed but in new and different ways. This book looks at the connections between religion and welfare in Europe, exploring in detail eight European societies: Finland, Norway, Sweden, England, Germany, France, Italy and Greece. The different theological traditions, different church-state relationships and different welfare regimes are all examined. The analysis is based on first-hand empirical research which considers not only the changing situation on the ground but attitudes towards this within a range of different constituencies: the churches, local government and the general public. Particular attention is paid to the significance of gender in both the process of change and in attitudes towards this.

A Road to Nowhere? Julius H. Schoeps, Olaf Glöckner, 2011-02-07. Europe is in the midst of a rapid political and economic unification. What does this mean for the Jewish minority numbering less than 2 million people and still suffering from the aftermath of the Shoah? Will the Jewish communities participate in Europe's bold venture without risking total assimilation? Are they vibrant enough to form a new Jewish center alongside Israel and the American Jewish community or are they hopelessly divided and on a Road to Nowhere? Different perspectives are predicted relating to demographical, cultural and sociological aspects. This volume provides exciting, thorough and controversial answers by renowned scholars from Europe, Israel, North and Latin America, many of them also committed to local Jewish community building.

Administração: Gestão, empreendedorismo e marketing Elói Martins Senhoras, 2022-02-02. O campo científico da Administração tem passado por uma crescente renovação epistêmica nas últimas décadas em função da emergência de discussões ligadas a macrotransformações socioeconômicas e seus reflexos nas organizações por meio das temáticas mercadológicas e de empreendedorismo, bem como de novas agendas sobre gestão estratégica e de contato multidisciplinar com outras áreas. Partindo destes avanços científicos, o objetivo deste livro Administração: Gestão e Empreendedorismo e Marketing é 1) analisar o estado da arte sobre a Administração a partir de um conjunto de estudos que valorizam a combinação de revisões da literatura especializada e estudos de caso possibilitando assim a decodificação de novos conhecimentos existentes na realidade. Organizada em vinte e dois capítulos, a presente obra ao mesmo tempo um trabalho acadêmico e um livro de reflexão para instigar os leitores, o qual foi desenvolvido de modo colaborativo entre pesquisadoras e pesquisadores brasileiros e estrangeiros comprometidos com o campo epistemológico da Administração a despeito de suas diferentes formas acadêmicas e expertises. Advindos de instituições de ensino superior e de pesquisa públicas e privadas, os autores produziram um conjunto de discussões que se aglutinam dentro de quatro eixos temáticos os quais são identificados respectivamente por abordagens empíricas sobre a gestão em instituições de ensino superior, b) empreendedorismo e gestão de microempresas, c) gestão mercadológica e d) gestão contábil e controladoria. Com base nestes eixos temáticos, a presente obra coaduna diferentes prismas do complexo caleidoscópico administrativo caracterizando-se por um olhar que estimula a pluralidade teórica e metodológica ao apresentar distintos estudos que visam em sentidos contraditórios tanto delimitar a fronteira da disciplina do campo epistemológico de Administração quanto ampliar a dinâmica fronteira multidisciplinar com outras áreas. Em razão das discussões levantadas e dos resultados apresentados, após um marcante rigor metodológico e analítico.
