Entrepreneurs: Key Characteristics and Skills

Are All Entrepreneurs Alike?

While entrepreneurs have in common certain characteristics and skills, there is a wide range of individuality among them. In sports, some athletes do well because they love a sport and are trained to play it. They have developed their skills. Others are full of natural talent and require much less special training. Still others simply find their own successful approach to playing a sport even though they may not have been trained.

Entrepreneurs are the same way. Some receive formal training and skill development. Others have a natural flair for it. Still others break every rule or devise very unusual approaches, but still succeed. Which do you think would be your style?

While there is no recipe for becoming a successful entrepreneur, certain characteristics are associated with entrepreneurial success. Here are several important ones.

Do What You Love

According to research, one of the most important qualities associated with successful entrepreneurship is passion. When people feel committed to what they are doing and when they care deeply about it, they stand the best chance of being successful at it. The heart must become an ally of the mind. Think about this popular business saying:

*If your mind can conceive it,
and your heart can believe it,
then you can achieve it!*

Entrepreneurs typically care more about what they are doing than how much money they might make. They must earn an income, of course, or they cannot continue to be entrepreneurs; however, the amount they earn often is secondary to achieving their goals.

If your mind can conceive it,
and your heart
can believe it,
then you can
achieve it!
