

Chapter 7 Cell Structure and Function*Summary*7-1 Life Is Cellular

Since the 1900s, scientists have made many discoveries about the cells of living things. These discoveries are summarized in the cell theory. The cell theory states:

- All living things are made up of cells.
- Cells are the basic units of structure and function in living things.
- New cells are produced from existing cells.

All cells share two characteristics:

- a barrier called a cell membrane that surrounds the cell, and
- at some point in their lives they contain DNA. DNA is the molecule that carries biological information.

Cells fall into two broad groups, based on whether they have a nucleus. A nucleus is a membrane-enclosed structure that holds the cell's genetic material (DNA). The nucleus controls many of the cell's activities.

- Prokaryotes do not have nuclei. They have genetic material that is not contained in a nucleus. Bacteria are prokaryotes.
- Eukaryotes are cells that have nuclei. Eukaryotes have a nucleus in which their genetic material is separated from the rest of the cell. Plants, animals, fungi, and protists are eukaryotes.

7-2 Eukaryotic Cell Structure

Cell biologists divide the eukaryotic cell into two main parts: the nucleus and the cytoplasm. The cytoplasm is the part of the cell outside the nucleus.

In the Nucleus

The nucleus contains most of a cell's DNA. The DNA contains the coded instructions for making proteins and other important molecules.

- The nucleus is surrounded by a double membrane called a nuclear envelope.
- Inside the nucleus is granular material called chromatin. Chromatin is made up of DNA bound to proteins. When the cell divides, this chromatin condenses into chromosomes. Chromosomes are threadlike structures. They contain the genetic information that is passed from one generation of cells to the next.
- Most nuclei also have a small, dense region known as the nucleolus where the assembly of ribosomes begins.
