McDougal Littell the Americans Gerald A. Danzer, 1999-07-23 The Americans , 2003 Ate Wh Holt Rinehart & Winston, 2000 Prologue , 1996 Politics in Pacific Asia Xiaoming Huang, Jason Young, 2017-09-16 This lively and accessible new edition provides a uniquely broad ranging introduction to the governance and politics of Pacific Asia Thematically structured around the key institutions and issues it is genuinely comparative in its approach to the whole region A range of representative countries China Japan Korea Taiwan Singapore Malaysia Thailand Indonesia Vietnam and the Philippines are used as key case examples throughout and each of them is subject to a detailed full page country profile This diverse region is a fascinating area for study Politics in Pacific Asia provides a framework to form a coherent understanding of the region s politics it balances persistent patterns with the latest developments and general characteristics with the differing cultures histories and institutions of individual countries The New Cold War Gilbert Achcar, 2023-02-14 One of the world s most seasoned international relations experts updates and revises his far sighted 1999 book arguing that the Cold War did not in fact end with the collapse of the USSR and that the US Russia and China today are locked anew in a spiral of hostilities Writing Security David Campbell, 1992 Approach , 1985 The naval aviation safety review Resources in Education , 1998 Presidential Crisis Rhetoric and the Press in the Post-Cold War World Jim A. Kuypers, 1997-08-26 Kuypers combines rhetorical theory and framing analysis in an examination of the interaction of the press and the president during international crisis situations in the post Cold War world Three crises are examined Bosnia Haiti and the North Korean nuclear capability issue Kuypers effectively demonstrates the changed nature of presidential crisis rhetoric since the end of the Cold War Kuypers employs a new historical critical approach to analyze both the press and the Clinton administration s handling of three international crisis situations Using case studies of Bosnia Haiti and the alleged North Korean nuclear buildup in 1993 he examines contemporary presidential crisis communication and the agenda setting and agenda extension functions of the press The importance of this study lies in its timeliness President Clinton is the first atomic age president not to have the Cold War meta narrative to use in legitimating international crises Prior studies in presidential crisis rhetoric found that the president received broad and consistent support during times of crisis Kuypers found that the press often advanced an oppositional frame to that used by the Clinton administration The press frames were found to limit the options of the President even when the press supported a particular presidential strategy This is a major study that will be of interest to scholars and researchers of the press the modern presidency and American foreign policy Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea, 1946-1958 Elizabeth Schmidt, 2007-09-25 In September 1958 Guinea claimed its independence rejecting a constitution that would have relegated it to junior partnership in the French Community In all the French empire Guinea was the only territory to vote No Orchestrating the No vote was the Guinean branch of the Rassemblement D mocratique Africain RDA an alliance of political parties with affiliates in French West and Equatorial Africa and the United Nations trusts of Togo and Cameroon Although Guinea's stance vis vis the 1958 constitution has been recognized as unique until now the historical roots of this phenomenon have not been adequately explained Clearly written and free of jargon Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea argues that Guinea's vote for independence was the culmination of a decade long struggle between local militants and political leaders for control of the political agenda Since 1950 when RDA representatives in the French parliament severed their ties to the French Communist Party conservative elements had dominated the RDA In Guinea local cadres had opposed the break Victimized by the administration and sidelined by their own leaders they quietly rebuilt the party from the base Leftist militants their voices muted throughout most of the decade gained preeminence in 1958 when trade unionists students the party's women's and youth wings and other grassroots actors pushed the Guinean RDA to endorse a No vote Thus Guinea's rejection of the proposed constitution in favor of immediate independence was not an isolated aberration Rather it was the outcome of years of political mobilization by activists who despite Cold War repression ultimately pushed the Guinean RDA to the left The significance of this highly original book based on previously unexamined archival records and oral interviews with grassroots activists extends far beyond its primary subject In illuminating the Guinean case Elizabeth Schmidt helps us understand the dynamics of decolonization and its legacy for postindependence nation building in many parts of the developing world Examining Guinean history from the bottom up Schmidt considers local politics within the larger context of the Cold War making her book suitable for courses in African history and politics diplomatic history and Cold War history

Out of Many John Mack Faragher, 1999 This work weaves together the complex interaction of social political and historical forces that have shaped the United States and from which the American people have evolved by telling stories of people and of the nation

Edward Thomas and World Literary Studies Andrew Webb, 2013-07-15 This book uses models of world literature to present this quintessentially English writer as a pioneering figure in an Anglophone Welsh literary tradition a controversial reading that contributes to the present day reconfiguration of cultural relations between Wales England Scotland
