Experimental Characterization of Advanced Composite Materials Leif A. Carlsson, Donald F. Adams, 2002-10-29 Over much of the last three decades the evolution of techniques for characterizing composite materials has struggled to keep up with the advances of composite materials themselves and their broadening areas of application In recent years however much work has been done to consolidate test methods and better understand those being used Finally Nuclear Medicine Instrumentation Jennifer Prekeges, 2010-10-25 Written at the technologist level Nuclear Medicine Instrumentation focuses on instruments essential to the practice of nuclear medicine Covering everything from Geiger counters to positron emission tomography systems this text provides students with an understanding of the practical aspects of these instruments and their uses in nuclear medicine Nuclear Medicine Instrumentation is made up of four parts Small Instruments Gamma Camera Single Photon Emission Computed Tomography SPECT and Positron Emission Tomography PET By concentrating on the operation of these instruments and the potential pitfalls that they are subject to students will be better prepared for what they may encounter during their career Chapters include Detectors Gas Filled Scintillation and Semiconductor Image Characteristics SPECT PET Collimators Radiation Measurements and more The Electrical Journal, 1929 Learning Through Teaching Mathematics Roza Leikin, Rina Zazkis, 2010-04-10 The idea of teachers Learning through Teaching LTT when presented to a naive bystander appears as an oxymoron Are we not supposed to learn before we teach After all under the usual circumstances learning is the task for those who are being taught not of those who teach However this book is about the learning of teachers not the learning of students It is an ancient wisdom that the best way to truly learn something is to teach it to others Nevertheless once a teacher has taught a particular topic or concept and consequently truly learned it what is left for this teacher to learn As evident in this book the experience of teaching presents teachers with an exciting opportunity for learning throughout their entire career This means acquiring a better understanding of what is being taught and moreover learning a variety of new things What these new things may be and how they are learned is addressed in the collection of chapters in this volume LTT is acknowledged by multiple researchers and mathematics educators In the first chapter Leikin and Zazkis review literature that recognizes this phenomenon and stress that only a small number of studies attend systematically to LTT processes The authors in this volume purposefully analyze the teaching of mathematics as a source for teachers own learning
