EBOOK: Entrepreneurialism in Universities and the Knowledge Economy: Diversification and Organizational Change in European Higher Education Michael Shattock,2008-12-16 How entrepreneurial are European universities Perhaps more than is generally realised What are the factors that encourage entrepreneurialism to flourish in research technology transfer teaching regional engagement and internationalization How do different kinds of HEIs comprehensive specialist regional or private address these issues What are the conditions which stimulate or inhibit the academic intrapreneur And in what forms does entrepreneurialism contribute to the knowledge economy This book which is the product of a major EU funded research programme and is based on twenty seven institutional case studies attempts to offer answers to these questions through a series of cross national thematic studies It considers how national systemic characteristics in financial arrangements human resource management and institutional governance impact on entrepreneurialism and suggests ways in which individual initiative can be released and universities freed up to make their contribution to the EU Lisbon Strategy

Climate Change Research at Universities Walter Leal Filho, 2017-06-02 This unique book provides a multidisciplinary review of current climate change research projects at universities around the globe offering perspectives from all of the natural and social sciences Numerous universities worldwide pursue state of the art research on climate change focussing on mitigation of its effects as well as human adaptation to it However the 2015 Paris 21st Conference of the Parties of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC COP 21 demonstrated that there is still much room for improvement in the role played by universities in international negotiations and decision making on climate change To date few scientific meetings have provided multidisciplinary perspectives on climate change in which researchers across the natural and social sciences could come together to exchange research findings and discuss methods relating to climate change mitigation and adaption studies As a result the published literature has also lacked a broad perspective This book fills that gap and is of interest to all researchers and policy makers concerned with global climate change regardless of their area of expertise

Universities and Climate Change Walter Leal Filho, 2010-09-30 Climate change is a matter of global concern and specific sectors of society such as universities need to engage and be active in the search for regional and local solutions for what is a global problem Despite the fact that many universities all around the world are undertaking remarkable efforts in tackling the challenges posed by climate change few of such works are widely documented and disseminated The book Universities and Climate Change addresses this gap The book pursues three aims Firstly it presents a review of the approaches and methods to inform communicate and educate university students and the public on climate change being used by universities around the world Secondly it introduces initiatives projects and communication strategies undertaken by universities with a view to informing students and other stakeholders in order to raise awareness on matters related to climate change Finally the book documents promotes and disseminates some of the on going initiatives

Disrupting Leadership in Entrepreneurial Universities Jill Blackmore, 2022-10-20 What is the future of the contemporary university and for those who lead them Considering leadership in the broadest sense including academic leadership teaching and research as well as leadership practices of those in formal management positions Jill Blackmore outlines how multiple pressures on universities have produced leadership practices in management and research which are more corporate than collegial and which discourage many academics from aspiring to leadership She uses a range of theoretical tools informed by critical and feminist organisational studies to unpack higher education and how it is being transformed in ways that undermine its core work of teaching and research Drawing from three Australian university case studies this book uses leadership as a lens through which to investigate the effects of restructuring of the higher education sector which have impacted differently on academic identities and careers

Universities, Disruptive Technologies, and Continuity in Higher Education Gavin Moodie, 2016-10-05 This book seeks to understand the effects of the current information revolution on universities by examining the effects of two previous information revolutions Gutenberg's invention and proof of printing in 1450 and the Scientific Revolution from the mid fifteenth to the end of the seventeenth century Moodie reviews significant changes since the early modern period in universities students libraries curriculum pedagogy lectures assessment research and the dissemination of these changes across the globe He argues that significant changes in the transmission and dissemination of disciplinary knowledge are shaped by the interaction of three factors financial technological and physical resources the nature structure and level of knowledge and the methods available for managing knowledge

Changing Universities in Europe and the "Bologna Process" Donatella Palomba, 2008 University Governance, Management and the Academic Profession Liudvika Leišytė, Mónica Marquina, Glen A. Jones, 2025-05-31 This volume investigates governance and management of higher education through the lens of the academic profession Drawing on data from the Academic Profession in the Knowledge based Society project an international collaborative research study involving the administration of a common survey to faculty in more than twenty countries this volume explores important issues of governance and management in relation to and frequently from the perspective of the academic profession It analyzes the complex inter relationships and intersections between decision processes and structures at both the system and institutional levels and the experiences and perceptions of the academics who play a central role in fulfilling the mission of higher education Theoretical chapters review key concepts that have grounded the analysis of external system level and internal institution level governance while the core chapters provide original empirical research many involving comparative studies exploring key challenges such as managerialism gender shifts in faculty perceptions of influence and the importance of communication and institutional leadership Chapter 4 10 11 and 12 of this book are available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link springer.com

Re-Purposing Universities for Sustainable Human Progress Iain Stewart, Victoria Hurth, Stephen Sterling, 2022-03-31 Knowledge Production in European Universities Kwiek Marek, 2012-11-23 The book studies transformations of European universities in the context of globalization and Europeanization the questioning of the foundations of the Golden Age of the Keynesian welfare state public sector reforms demographic changes the massification and diversification of higher education and the emergence of knowledge economies Such phenomena as academic entrepreneurialism and diversified channels of knowledge exchange in European universities are linked to transformations of the state and changes in public sector services The first contextual part of the book studies the changing state university relationships and the second empirically informed part draws from several recent large scale comparative European research projects
