

Ap Government Chapter 12

- I. American media has much greater freedom and you only need a license from the government in England politicians can sue people who make fun of them and in France broadcasting is regulated by a national agency. Yellow journalism
- II. Yellow journalism- reporting which has no real thought out arguments or research. Muckrakers-people who wanted to expose the dirt and evil in society
- III. The characteristics allowed for a high degree of contact between candidate and the people and there was no longer a need for proxies or people to campaign and speak on your behalf
- IV. Although there are over 1000 TV channels, there are only five major stations, each one catering to a different set of beliefs
- V. The national press displays what it want the american population to see, and thus affects how they react. For example stories on the front page of the New York Times will be very influential on the main story that a local new channel will air. Gatekeeper- the role the press plays by influencing what subjects become national political issues and for how long. Scorekeeper -The role the press plays by keeping track of and helping make political reputations, note who is being mentioned as a presidential candidate, and help decide who is winning and losing in Washington politics. Watchdog- The role played by the national media in investigating political personalities and exposing scandals
- VI. Prior Restraint- judicial suppression of material that would be published or broadcast, on the grounds that it is libelous or harmful. In US law, the First Amendment severely limits the ability of the government to do this. Label- a published false statement that is damaging to a person's reputation; a written defamation. Confidentiality of sources-The protection of sources and is a right accorded to journalists under the laws of many countries, as well as under international law. FCC regulations- regulate interstate communications by radio, television, wire, satellite, and cable in all 50 states. Telecommunication Act (1996) - The law's main purpose was to stimulate competition in telecommunication services. Equal time rule-the equal-time rule specifies that U.S. radio and television broadcast stations must provide an equivalent opportunity to any opposing political candidates who request it.
- VII. Media is very influential to politics, news both in paper and on television show influence viewers with their bias views. Once citizens see these stories, they start to follow their views. Horse race journalism is political journalism of elections that resembles coverage of horse races because of the focus on polling data, public perception instead of candidate policy, and almost exclusive reporting on candidate differences rather than similarities.
- VIII. These days, politicians often complain of bias in the media, usually a liberal bias against the views of conservative politicians. They complain that the media's ability to decide which stories to report often reflects its partisanship. Although this is true to some extent, most major newspapers and television news stations report the same stories more or less objectively. Bias is often restricted to the media outlet's commentary and opinion pages.
- IX. Trial Balloon- Information leaked to the media to test public reaction to a possible policy. Loaded language-Words that imply a value judgement, used to persuade a reader without having made a serious argument.
- X. Some people will be influenced by what they read or hear, but others will not be. Its all due to selective attention, which means that people remember or believe only what they want to.
