Ezra And Dorothy Pound Letters In Captivity 1945 1946:

Ezra and Dorothy Pound Ezra Pound, Dorothy Pound, 1999 These fascinating letters capture the most traumatic experience of Ezra Pound's life when he was incarcerated at the end of World War II and indicted for treason Omar Pound and Robert Spoo have collected and edited the unpublished correspondence between the poet and his wife combining it with military and FBI documents previously unknown photographs and an extensive insightful introduction to create the definitive work on this period of Pound's life During his incarceration in a U S Army detention camp outside Pisa Pound was allowed to write only to his wife so these letters afford a unique look at a painful yet highly productive period when Pound wrote his acclaimed Pisan Cantos and worked on his translations of Confucius Readers will discover many fresh insights into the sources and contexts of the Cantos and the circumstances of their composition Here too are many moving passages testifying to Pound's partnership with Dorothy and her courageous efforts to help him her experiences no less than his come to life in this volume But perhaps the most moving are the harsh conditions Pound found himself in at one point in the Pisan camp he was confined for three weeks in an open air cage until the sixty year old poet suffered a breakdown and was moved to a tent in the medical compound The editors connect the anxious lyricism of the Pisan Cantos to these dramatic experiences as the poet alternated between savage indignation and suave serenity The book also covers Pound's return to the United States and his confinement in a federal mental institution there With more than 150 previously unpublished letters and documents all authoritatively annotated Ezra and Dorothy Pound Letters in Captivity 1945 1946 offers a rare glimpse into the life and work of one of our century's greatest literary figures

Hemingway and Pound John Cohassey, 2014-07-09 Unique individuals of fiery temperament Ernest Hemingway and Ezra Pound made an odd pair on the streets of 1920s Paris If the elder cane carrying Pound appeared the out of date poet Hemingway was the epitome of his generation's Flaming Youth Meeting on the high ground of art these two literary giants formed a friendship that survived until Hemingway's death During their short time together in Paris Pound edited Hemingway's early work Over decades Hemingway considered Pound a major poet and read The Cantos as they appeared in little magazines and published volumes

Eventually living in countries half a world apart Hemingway and Pound maintained a lively and sometimes contentious correspondence When Pound was incarcerated in America for his World War II broadcasts over Radio Rome Hemingway played a vital role in freeing his old poet friend the man who edited his early work the good game guy whose wit and brilliance he never forgot This narrative of a friendship lays bare the triumphs and tragedies of two giants of modern literature

Ezra Pound and 'Globe' Magazine: The Complete Correspondence Ezra Pound, 2015-11-19 In the summer of 1936 Ezra Pound agreed to take on the role of European Correspondent for a newly launched travel journal entitled Globe The International Magazine Ezra Pound and Globe Magazine The Complete Correspondence collects for the first time Pound's writings for the journal and his extensive correspondence with one of its editors James Taylor Dunn and the leading writers who Pound himself attempted to recruit for the magazine Numbering almost forty letters and twenty published and unpublished articles these writings represent a darkly significant time in Pound's thought as his infatuation with the rise of fascism took root Annotated throughout and supported by substantial explorations of the historical and cultural contexts of the writings the book also includes a substantial bibliography of related writings and a biographical glossary of the major figures discussed in the correspondence and writing Together these texts represent an important resource for anyone interested in an important phase of 20th Century literary modernism

Pound and Pasolini Sean Mark, 2022-11-17 In October 1967 Pier Paolo Pasolini travelled to Venice to interview Ezra Pound for broadcast on national television One a lifelong Marxist the other a former propagandist for the Fascist regime their encounter was billed as a clash of opposites But what do these poets share And what can they tell us about the poetics and politics of the twentieth century This book reads one by way of the other aligning their engagement with different temporalities and traditions politics and geographies languages and forms evoked as utopian alternatives to the cultural and political crises of capitalist modernity Part literary history part comparative study it offers a new and provocative perspective on these poets and the critical debates around them in particular on Pound's Italian years and Pasolini's use of Pound in his work Their connection helps to understand the implications and legacies of their work today

Ezra Pound's Early Verse and Lyric Tradition Robert Stark, 2012-10-15

Traces the lyricism and musicality in Pound's early verse through to his radical Modernist style Robert Stark argues that Pound learned how to write poetry more or less as if it was a foreign tongue or poetic jargon with a unique lexicon grammar and even morphology and that his most innovative poetry is the result of his ambivalent orientation towards different European literary traditions Stark contextualizes Pound's poetic craft by examining his relationship to the Mediaeval and Classical originators of the methods he employs and by considering the practice and criticism of his immediate Victorian and Romantic predecessors He explores the influence of poets such as Francois Villon Guido Cavalcanti Robert Burns Robert Browning Algernon Charles Swinburne and Walt Whitman on Pound's lyrical style For Stark Pound's multi vocalism arises out of his interest in dialect and the acoustic qualities of speech which leads to a modern barbarous language marked by polysemy and heterogeneity
