Epsrc Grant Proposal Guidelines:

Academic Writing Maggie Charles, Susan Hunston, Diane Pecorari, 2011-10-20 Contemporary research into written academic discourse has become increasingly polarised between two approaches corpus linguistics and discourse analysis This volume presents a selection of recent work by experts in academic written discourse and illustrates how corpus linguistics and discourse analysis can work as complementary approaches The overall introduction sets the volume against the backdrop of current work in English for Academic Purposes and introductions to the each section draw out connections between the chapters and put them into context The contributors are experts in the field and they cover both novice and expert examples of EAP The book ends with an afterword that provides an agenda setting closing perspective on the future of EAP research It will appeal to reserachers and postgrduates in applied linguistics corpus linguistics discourse analysis and EAP

A Practical Guide to Scientific Writing in Chemistry Andrew Terhemen Tyowua, 2023-03-31 Successful completion of postgraduate studies especially PhD and career advancement in academia strongly depend on the ability to publish scientific papers or books and attract research grants However many chemical scientists find preparing scientific papers and research grant and book proposals difficult partly because of insufficient training in writing and partly because there are few practical books to enable them to learn the art This step by step practical guide is intended mainly for postgraduate students and early career researchers in chemical science and the libraries that serve them but will also be useful to other scientists Key Features Improves the reader s chances of getting their manuscript published in chemistry journals Increases the likelihood of winning research grants in chemistry Takes a lead by the hand approach Contains chapters on the preparation of graphical abstracts and research highlights Uses sketches and other illustration styles to aid mental visualization of concepts Contains practical examples taken from published papers and successful research grant proposals

Images of Projects Mark C. Winter, Mark Winter, Tony Szczepanek, 2009 Based on real examples and the authors work over the last ten years Images of Projects presents seven pragmatic images for making sense of the complex realities of projects Illustrated using various models these images are presented in ways that allow you to reflect upon your own mental models in relation to the different perspectives in this book Along with the seven images the book contains numerous other frameworks enabling you create your own toolkit of models and tools This book will help practitioners and students develop or enrich crucial skills for working on projects and programmes in the 21st century

Pioneering Research Donald W. Braben, 2004-05-31 Ask questions not on the agenda Explore ideas wherever they lead Pursue goals because they re important Create options not yet perceived According to premier researcher Don Braben these are the vital intellectual processes that underlie all human achievement the kinds of risk taking activities that have made our civilization what it is today Yet warns Braben the same pioneer spirit that fueled our meteoric industrial and scientific growth is now being undermined by a growing climate of corporate caution and conformity In this groundbreaking manifesto on the importance of scientific freedom Braben asserts that the greatest long term risks facing humanity will not come from weapons of mass destruction prolonged global war devastating disease or famine or even from extinction by a huge wayward meteor Rather they will come from the debilitating attrition caused by the rising tides of bureaucracy and control that are steadily strangling human ingenuity and undermining our future Addressing this serious and growing problem Pioneering Research A Risk Worth Taking explains the urgent need to maintain both the originality and freedom of expression that is so vital to our economic growth and scientific development Citing global trends and attitudes that currently threaten these conditions Braben details some bold new initiatives that may offer a possible solution A compelling read for today's scientists policy makers and concerned laypeople Braben's book will change our understanding of the politics of scientific achievement and expose the threat to our future from bureaucracy paper trails political correctness lowest common denominator solutions and accountability the invisible chains that bind the imagination and damage our society irreparably The Guardian

Managing Research Data Graham Pryor, 2012-01-20 This title defines what is required to achieve a culture of effective data management offering advice on the skills required legal and contractual obligations strategies and management plans and the data management infrastructure of specialists and services Data management has become an essential requirement for information professionals over the last decade particularly for those supporting the higher education research community as more and more digital information is created and stored As budgets shrink and funders of research demand evidence of value for money and demonstrable benefits for society there is increasing pressure to provide plans for the sustainable management of data Ensuring that important data remains discoverable accessible and intelligible and is shared as part of a larger web of knowledge will mean that research has a life beyond its initial purpose and can offer real utility to the wider community This edited collection bringing together leading figures in the field from the UK and around the world provides an introduction to all the key data issues facing the HE and information management communities Each chapter covers a critical element of data management Why manage research data The lifecycle of data management Research data policies principles requirements and trends Sustainable research data Data management plans and planning Roles and responsibilities libraries librarians and data Research data management opportunities and challenges for HEIs The national data centres Contrasting national research data strategies Australia and the USA Emerging infrastructure and services for research data management and curation in the UK and Europe Readership This is essential reading for librarians and information professionals working in the higher education sector the research community policy makers and university managers It will also be a useful introduction for students taking courses in information management archivists and national library services

Philanthropy and the Future of Science and Technology Evan S.

Michelson, 2020-06-14 An increasingly important and often overlooked issue in science and technology policy is recognizing the role that philanthropies play in setting the direction of research In an era where public and private resources for science are strained the practices that foundations adopt to advance basic and applied research needs to be better understood This first of its kind study provides a detailed assessment of the current state of science philanthropy This examination is particularly timely given that science philanthropies will have an increasingly important and outsized role to play in advancing responsible innovation and in shaping how research is conducted Philanthropy and the Future of Science and Technology surveys the landscape of contemporary philanthropic involvement in science and technology by combining theoretical insights drawn from the responsible research and innovation RRI framework with empirical analysis investigating an array of detailed examples and case studies Insights from interviews conducted with foundation representatives scholars and practitioners from a variety of sectors add real world perspective A wide range of philanthropic interventions are explored focusing on support for individuals institutions and networks with attention paid to the role that science philanthropies play in helping to establish and coordinate multi sectoral funding partnerships Novel approaches to science philanthropy are also considered including the emergence of crowdfunding and the development of new institutional mechanisms to advance scientific research The discussion concludes with an imaginative look into the future outlining a series of lessons learned that can guide how new and established science philanthropies operate and envisioning alternative scenarios for the future that can inform how science philanthropy progresses over the coming decades This book offers a major contribution to the advancement of philanthropic investment in science and technology Thus it will be of considerable interest to researchers and students in public policy public administration political science science and technology studies sociology of science and related disciplines University Audit Cultures and Feminist Praxis Órla Meadhbh

Murray,2025-04-23 Being REF able The impact agenda The student experience University audit culture has infiltrated academic life but how should we respond Drawing on a five year Institutional Ethnography of UK universities the author provides a feminist take on the neoliberal university and abolitionist reflections on audit culture For feminist and other critical academics the interpretative power involved in audit processes provides an opportunity to collectively challenge and subvert re read and re write institutions This book challenges the myths and misinterpretations around how academic audit processes work arguing that if we are complicit then we have agency to do them differently New Scientist ,2000

The Chemical Engineer ,2009 How to Succeed as a Scientist Barbara J. Gabrys,Jane A. Langdale,2011-11-03 This unique practical guide for postdoctoral researchers and graduate students explains how to build and perfect the necessary research tools and working skills to build a career in academia and beyond It is based on successful training workshops run by the authors first it describes the tools needed for independent research from writing papers to applying for academic jobs it then introduces skills to thrive in a new job including managing and interacting with others designing a taught course and giving a good lecture and it concludes with a section on managing your career from how to manage stress to understanding the higher education system Packed with helpful features encouraging readers to apply the theory to their individual situation the book is also illustrated throughout with real world case studies to enable readers to learn from others experience It is a vital handbook for everyone seeking to make a successful scientific career Becoming a Successful

Early Career Researcher Adrian Eley,Jerry Wellington,Stephanie Pitts,Catherine Biggs,2012-08-21 Not that long ago there were fairly clear divisions between researchers at different stages throughout their career starting with doctoral students then progressing to postdoctoral workers and finishing with academic staff However more recently the term Early Career Researcher ECR has been introduced partly as a response to their growing importance which has been reflected by their increased respect and status shown by national international and funding bodies There are several common features of an ECR s job including the need to establish a professional identity and develop into an independent researcher competing for grants and increasing one s output of research publications this book offers proven practical advice to help ECRs kick start a successful academic career With advice on Choosing research topics Making best use of a Research Supervisor Mentor Developing your research writing Getting published journals and books Writing a research grant fellowship Becoming a supervisor Becoming a teacher and Developing your career This guide will help academics at the start of their career no matter what discipline they are engaged in Arts Humanities Sciences or Social Sciences For example in sciences and engineering ECRs are commonly part of a large research team and often have to work in collaborative groups requiring strong interpersonal skills but can lead to tension in the interaction with one s supervisor or mentor In contrast in the arts and humanities and perhaps the social sciences an ECR is more likely to be an independent scholar with a requirement to work alone leading to a different type of relationship but not necessarily any less stressful with one s supervisor or mentor Using case studies from across the subject areas to illustrate key points and give suitable examples this vital guide will help all early career academics     Mathematics Today ,2004
