The Grotius Society Publications Grotius Society,1921 Private Honour and Noble Masculine Image in Early Modern England Erika D'Souza,2022-11-04 Robert Sidney the first Earl of Leicester 1563 1626 serves as an exemplar of an Elizabethan nobleman who had in his collection a body of work pertinent to the subject of masculine honour in the private realm Understanding the nuances and evolution of the term private honour as it is represented in Sidney's artefacts as well as in the public discourse of the era is the work and contribution of this book. The permeability between the private and public spheres led to an emergence of new forms of masculine representation. In a time when manhood was intertwined with militaristic qualities such as courage, strength and fortitude, my investigation shows that in the domestic sphere a gentler version of masculinity encouraging humility, constancy and modesty was fostered amongst the nobility. While worries of effeminacy certainly existed, there also was a strong discourse that encouraged men to adopt so-called feminine virtues within the private sphere.

The Contemporary Review, 1922 Friendship among nations
 Evgeny Roshchin, 2017-11-17 This is the first book-length study of the role that friendship plays in diplomacy and international politics. Through an examination of a vast amount of sources ranging from diplomatic letters and bilateral treaties to poems and philosophical treatises, it analyses how friendship has been talked about and practised in pre-modern political orders and modern systems of international relations. The study highlights how instrumental friendship was for describing and legitimising a range of political and legal engagements with foreign countries and nations. It emphasises contractual and political aspects in diplomatic friendship based on the idea of utility. It is these functions of the concept that help the world stick together when collective institutions are either embryonic or no more.
