China in Ethiopia Aaron Tesfaye, 2020-04-01 This comprehensive study of China Ethiopia relations examines why China an economic and emerging global power has built relations with Ethiopia and why Ethiopia has responded by singling out China as a partner in its quest for economic development Using middle range theory and field research Aaron Tesfaye focuses on three sets of phenomena political economic and strategic He explores the following questions Why are China and Ethiopia building relations at this juncture of globalization What motivates China s role in helping build Ethiopia s infrastructure and is Ethiopia s debt to China sustainable What can Ethiopia offer China in terms of strategic interest in the Horn of Africa and the Red Sea littoral which is now the most sought out area for military bases by regional and international forces Tesfaye argues that China s ability to meet Africa s tremendous demand for capital and technology is a reflection of its economic and military rise and evidence that the Asian Century has arrived ushering in a new global reality

Households' Food Insecurity and Coping Strategies in the Face of Vulnerability Mesay Kebede Duguma, 2015 This book draws attention to the livelihood and food security situation of women farmers a topic largely neglected by academic studies It elucidates in a detailed empirical examination the impact of informal social institutions on food security and coping strategies of these households in the Meskan district of southern Ethiopia The area is environmentally and socially challenged The results develop an understanding of the gender dimension of food in security and present important implications for public policy Series Spectrum Berlin Series on Society Economy and Politics in Developing Countries Spektrum Berliner Reihe zu Gesellschaft Wirtschaft und Politik in Entwicklungslandern Vol 110 Subject Sociology African Studies Women s Studies Gender Studies Agricultural Studies The Soils of Ethiopia Sheleme Beyene,Alemayehu Regassa,Bipin B. Mishra,Mitiku Haile,2023-01-05 This book addresses Ethiopia s extremely rich soil diversity and resources which have developed under various climatic conditions Featuring contributions by a group of respected experts on Ethiopian soils and agriculture it provides comprehensive information on the management approaches needed for sustainable soil utilization and conservation under such conditions and the attendant challenges It offers a valuable resource for anyone interested in soils and agriculture in Ethiopia but also in other African countries with similar climatic conditions The book contains 13 chapters which illustrate the long history of knowledge and soil research climate geology and geomorphology soil forming factors processes and classification major soil types their properties fertility status and management land evaluation and land use planning soils and society industry and future emerging soil issues The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy Fantu Cheru,Christopher Cramer,Arkebe Oqubay,2019-01-10 From a war torn and famine plagued country at the beginning of the 1990s Ethiopia is today emerging as one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Growth in Ethiopia has surpassed that of every other sub Saharan country over the past decade and is forecast by the International Monetary Fund to exceed 8 percent over the next two years The government has set its eyes on transforming the country into a middle income country by 2025 and into a leading manufacturing hub in Africa The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy studies this country s unique model of development where the state plays a central role and where a successful industrialization drive has challenged the long held erroneous assumption that industrial policy will never work in poor African countries While much of the volume is focused on post 1991 economic development policy and strategy the analysis is set against the background of the long history of Ethiopia and more specifically on the Imperial period that ended in 1974 the socialist development experiment of the Derg regime between 1974 and 1991 and the policies and strategies of the current EPRDF government that assumed power in 1991 Including a range of contributions from both academic and professional standpoints this volume is a key reference work on the economy of Ethiopia Economic Development under Climate Change Amsalu Woldie Yalew,2020-02-25 Amsalu Woldie Yalew attempts to address the direct and indirect economic effects of climate change adaptation costs and adaptation finance in developing countries with emphasis to Ethiopia using a static computable general equilibrium CGE model coupled with a regional module The results show that the economy wide effects of climate change are profound Planned public adaptation that aims to fully neutralize climate change induced agricultural productivity shocks may help to avert the aggregate effects but with residual effects The results also indicate that structural change underpins climate resilient development as it contributes to dampen the adverse consequences of climate change on aggregate GDP and households welfare Migration and Displacement in the IGAD

Region Michael Omondi Owiso, Fekadu Adugna Tufa, Abdi Mohamud Hersi, 2025-04-05 This book delves into the dynamics of human mobility and migration in the Intergovernmental Authority on Development IGAD region during the COVID 19 pandemic. It uses empirical sources from extensive fieldwork in the region to assess the impact of COVID 19 on conflict induced internally displaced persons (IDPs), vulnerable and disadvantaged groups, the response of the government and IDPs coping mechanisms. It traces migration governance from regional and national perspectives and shares the opportunities and challenges in the region. The book presents the lessons learned and shares a way forward for the region during future pandemics. Chapters cover topics such as the protection of migrant workers' rights, livelihoods of cross border traders and communities, and the gender dimension of COVID 19 impacts. It is a valuable read for students, policymakers, policy advisors, academics, and all those interested in studies on migration and migration related diversities. Ethiopian Journal of Education, 2014

Randomistas Andrew Leigh, 2018-07-24 A fascinating account of how radical researchers have used experiments to overturn conventional wisdom and shaped life as we know it. Experiments have consistently been used in the hard sciences but in recent decades social scientists have adopted the practice. Randomized trials have been used to design policies to increase educational attainment, lower crime rates, elevate employment rates, and improve living standards among the poor. This book tells the stories of radical researchers who have used experiments to overturn conventional wisdom. From finding the cure for scurvy to discovering what policies really improve literacy rates, Leigh shows how randomistas have shaped life as we know it. Written in a Gladwell-esque style, this book provides a fascinating account of key randomized control trial studies from across the globe and the challenges that randomistas have faced in getting their studies accepted and their findings implemented. In telling these stories, Leigh draws out key lessons learned and shows the most effective way to conduct these trials. Agriculture and Rural Development in a Globalizing World Prabhu Pingali, Gershon Feder, 2017-05-08 Rapid structural transformation and urbanization are transforming agriculture and food production in rural areas across the world. This textbook provides a comprehensive review and assessment of the multi-faceted nature of agriculture and rural development, particularly in the developing world where the greatest challenges occur. It is designed around five thematic parts: Agricultural Intensification and Technical Change, Political Economy of Agricultural Policies, Community and Rural Institutions, Agriculture, Nutrition and Health, and Future Relevance of International Institutions. Each chapter presents a detailed but accessible review of the literature on the specific topic and discusses the frontiers in research and institutional changes needed as societies adapt to the transformation processes. All authors are eminent scholars with international reputations who have been actively engaged in the contemporary debates around agricultural development and rural transformation. Modeling the economywide effects of water and energy interventions in the face of climate change Aragie, Emerta, Gebretsadik, Yohannes, 2024-01-16 The Ethiopian economy relies predominantly on rainfed agriculture for income generation, export earnings, and rural livelihoods. However, the frequency and intensity of extreme climatic events projected by climate scenarios suggest considerable and growing risks from climate change to the country's agricultural food systems and the overall economy. This study assesses the economic impacts of recurrent climate shocks on the Ethiopian economy to 2040. The results indicate that recurrent climate shocks will lead to a reduction in Ethiopia's cumulative GDP from 2020 to 2040 compared to a no climate change baseline. Specifically, extreme weather events could cumulatively cost Ethiopia up to 17 percent or US $34.3 billion in GDP between 2020 and 2040 compared to a no climate change baseline. The weight of the economic loss is concentrated in the agricultural production sector, with rural households and poorer households in urban areas being worst affected. Strategic investments in irrigation infrastructure and in hydroelectricity generation are found to be effective in mitigating some of the damage caused by recurrent climate variability.

Governing Natural Resources for Africa's Development Hany Besada, 2016-09-13. Bringing together some of the world's leading thinkers and policy experts in the area of natural resource governance and management in Africa, this volume addresses the most critical policy issues affecting the continent's ability to manage and govern its precious resources. The narrative of the book is solutions driven, as experts weigh in on specific issues within the context of Africa's natural resource governance and offer appropriate policy recommendations on how to best manage the continent's resources. This is a must read for government policy makers in industrialized economies and more importantly in Africa and emerging economies as well as for academic researchers working in the field, extractive companies operating on the continent, extractive industry and trade associations and multilateral and donor aid institutions.

Tourism Management, Marketing, and Development Marcello M. Mariani, Dimitrios Buhalis, Wojciech Czakon, Ourania Vitouladiti, 2016-04-29. Companies and destinations in the tourism sector are confronted with increasing managerial challenges and have to deal with a competitive, turbulent and fast changing environment. The understanding that both tourism companies and destinations endowed with the best assets, natural and cultural, cannot survive the escalating international competition without good managerial practices has provided significant momentum for the development of the disciplinary field of tourism management in the last three decades. This volume recognizes the relevance of travel tourism and tourism activities as major economic drivers in the contemporary global economy with a specific focus on performance strategies and sustainability. It is the collective intellectual effort of a number of international scholars who cultivate original research on tourism management from a variety of theoretical perspectives. Together they outline the importance for tourism companies and destinations to achieve and maintain a sustained competitive advantage by embracing sustainability and a Triple Bottom Line (TBL) approach to performance.

Bandung, Global History, and International Law Luis Eslava, Michael Fakhri, Vasuki Nesiah, 2017-11-30. In 1955 a conference was held in Bandung, Indonesia, that was attended by representatives from twenty-nine developing nations. Against the backdrop of crumbling European colonies, Asian and African leaders forged a new alliance and established anti-imperial principles for a new world order. The conference captured the popular imagination across the Global South. Bandung's larger significance as counterpoint to the dominant world order was both an act of collective imagination and a practical political project for decolonization that inspired a range of social movements diplomatic efforts institutional experiments and heterodox visions of the history and future of the world This book explores what the spirit of Bandung has meant to people across the world over the past decades and what it means today Experts from a wide range of fields show how despite the complicated legacy of the conference international law was never the same after Bandung

Cities of Change - Addis Ababa Marc Angélil, Dirk Hebel, 2016-05-24 Addis Ababa is one of the fastest transforming environments on the globe and a prototype of an emerging territory What can architecture and urban design as disciplines contribute to such transformation According to which criteria can processes of the kind encountered in Addis Ababa be evaluated And how can all of this be steered Aiming to identify sustainable strategies rather than upholding an a priori vision of an ideal city the publication acknowledges the heterogeneous conditions of urban territories The book highlights questions of method and procedure that can be transferred to other cities of change This revised edition covers recent developments such as the increasing influence of China in African countries or the chances of high density low rise developments

The short-term impact of COVID-19 on Ethiopia's economy through external sector channels: An economywide multiplier model analysis Aragie, Emerta, Taffesse, Alemayehu Seyoum, Tamru, Seneshaw, 2020-12-09 The COVID 19 pandemic is expected to considerably affect the Ethiopian economy directly and indirectly due to global shocks and to the different restrictive preventative measures the country is taking We analyze these economic effects using multisector economywide income multiplier models built on the two latest Social Accounting Matrices SAMs developed for Ethiopia Three external sector channels are the focus of the analysis commodity exports strategic imports and remittances Results indicate that in the absence of any policy responses the Ethiopian economy is expected to experience a loss of approximately 4.3 to 5.5 percent of its annual GDP due to exports strategic imports and remittances that are one third lower relative to the no COVID situation over a period of six months This translates into estimated reductions in labor income of between 4.2 and 5.2 percent The SAM multiplier model estimates also imply that these negative shocks lead to household income losses that amount to between 3.9 and 6.4 percent In particular the urban poor will be the most affected as they lose real incomes in the range of 6.6 to 8.5 percent These income losses are estimated to result in a 3.5 percentage point rise in the national poverty headcount
