Erotism Georges Bataille, 1986-10 Reprint Originally published Death and sensuality New York Walker 1962

Eroticism Georges Bataille, 1987 Ranging from Freud to Sade this far reaching and controversial study of the underlying sexual basis of religion and philosophy especially in relation to death includes the results of research into taboo religious ecstasy and the erotic impulse Death and Sensuality Georges Bataille, 1962 Eroticism and Death in Theatre and Performance Karoline Gritzner, 2010-10 Eros and Death are the two central drives and compulsions of the human psyche and their dynamic interconnectedness has been pervasive in the formation of Western thought and culture The essays brought together in this collection offer new perspectives on the eros death relation in a wide selection of dramatic texts theatrical practices and cultural performances Topics explored range from Greek tragedy Shakespearean theatre the work of Georg Büchner Bertolt Brecht the kiss of death in opera the theatricality of Parisian culture to the performance of conjuring contemporary British Of the Presence of the Body André Lepecki, 2004-03-24 Writing at the dynamic intersection of dance and performance studies The Problem with Levinas Simon Critchley, 2015-07-16 Levinas's idea of ethics as a relation of responsibility to the other person has become a highly influential and recognizable position across a wide range of academic and non academic fields Simon Critchley's aim in this book is to provide a less familiar more troubling and hopefully truer account of Levinas's work A new dramatic method for reading Levinas is proposed where the fundamental problem of his work is seen as the attempt to escape from the tragedy of Heidegger's philosophy and the way in which that philosophy shaped political events in the last century Extensive and careful attention is paid to Levinas's fascinating but often overlooked work from the 1930s where the proximity to Heidegger becomes clearer Levinas's problem is very simple how to escape from the tragic fatality of being as described by Heidegger Levinas's later work is a series of attempts to answer that problem through claims about ethical selfhood and a series of phenomenological experiences especially erotic relations and the relation to the child These claims are analyzed in the book through close textual readings Critchley reveals the problem with Levinas's answer to his own philosophical question and suggests a number of criticisms particular concerning the question of gender In the final speculative part of the book another answer to Levinas's problem is explored through a reading of the Song of Songs and the lens of mystical love Death and Sensuality Georges Bataille, 1962 The Experience of Human Communication Frank J. Macke, 2014-12-24 This book deals with matters of embodiment and meaning in other words the essential components of what Continental thought since Heidegger has come to consider as communication A critical theme of this book concerns the basic tenet that consciousness of one's Self and one's body is only possible through human relationship This is of course the phenomenological concept of intersubjectivity But rather than let this concept remain an abstraction by discussing it as merely a function of language and signs this work attempts to explicate it empirically That is it discusses the manner in which from infancy to childhood and adolescence and the dawning of our sexual identities through physical maturity and old age we come to experience the ecstasy of what Merleau Ponty has so poetically termed flesh It is rarely clear what someone means when she or he uses the word communication An important objective of this book is thus to advance understanding of what communication is In academic discourse communication has come to be understood in a number of contexts some conflicting and overlapping as a process a strategy an event an ethic a mode or instance of information or even a technology In virtually all of these discussions the concept of communication is discussed as though the term's meaning is well known to the reader When communication is described as a process the meaning of the term is held at an operational level that is in the exchange of information between one person and another what must unambiguously be inferred is that communication is taking place In this context information exchange and communication become functionally synonymous But as a matter of embodied human psychological experience there is a world of difference between them As such this book attempts to fully consider the question of how we experience the event of human communication The author offers a pioneering study that advances the raison d'être of the emergent field of communicology while at the same time offering scholars of the human sciences a new way of thinking about embodiment and relational experience

Transgressive Womanhood: Investigating Vamps, Witches, Whores, Serial Killers and Monsters, 2019-02-26 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Despite the triumphs of the feminist movement the cultural stereotype of the evil woman remains Images of wanton treacherous malicious and monstrous females pervade art literature film mythology psychology and history This eBook is a compilation of some of the papers presented at the 5th Global Conference on Evil Women and the Feminine and provides a collection of fresh perspectives on the construction of transgressive femininities A core theme throughout many of the chapters is that the concept of evil is gendered and what appears as a sinister action is often contingent on the gender of the perpetrator While many behaviours are considered relatively unproblematic for a man they are seen as evil when executed by a woman The notion of female evil remains intimately tied to transgression and subversion of the norms regarding acceptable femininity

Living in Time Albert Gelpi, 1998 Albert Gelpi explores in three expansive sections the major periods of the poet's development beginning with the emergence of Day Lewis in the thirties as the most radical of the Oxford poets An artist who sought through poetry a way of living in time without traditional religious assurances Day Lewis went further than his friends in seeking to forge a revolutionary poetry out of his commitment to Marxism When Stalinism led to his resignation from the Communist Party Day Lewis in the forties went on to shape a rich fiercely perceptive poetry out of the convergence of the wartime crisis with the explosive events of his own inner life intensified by the erotics of a decade long affair

The Erotics of Grief Megan Moore, 2021-09-15 The Erotics of Grief considers how emotions propagate power by exploring whose lives are grieved and what kinds of grief are valuable within and eroticized by medieval narratives Megan Moore argues that grief is not only routinely eroticized in medieval literature but that it is a foundational emotion of medieval elite culture Focusing on the concept of grief as desire Moore builds on the history of the emotions and Georges Bataille's theory of the erotic as the conflict between desire and death one that perversely builds a sense of community organized around a desire for death The link between desire and death serves as an affirmation of living communities Moore incorporates literary visual and codicological evidence in sources from across the Mediterranean from Old French chansons de geste such as the Song of Roland and La mort le roi Artu and romances such as Erec et Enide Philomena and Floire et Blancheflor to Byzantine and ancient Greek novels to Middle English travel narratives such as Mandeville's Travels In her reading of the performance of grief as one of community and remembrance Moore assesses why some lives are imagined as mattering more than others and explores how a language of grief becomes a common language of status among the medieval Mediterranean elite Eros and Illness David B. Morris, 2017-02-27 When we or our loved ones fall ill our world is thrown into disarray our routines are interrupted our beliefs shaken David Morris offers an unconventional deeply human exploration of what it means to live with and live through disease He shows how desire emotions dreams stories romance even eroticism plays a crucial part in illness

John Eberly, 2004 Al Kimia The Mystical Islamic Essence of the Sacred Art Of Alchemy by John Eberly presents a condensed history of Alchemy told through concise biographies of early Sufi Masters Chapters examine occult areas of alchemical and spiritual interest such as jafr an exegetical Qur'anic science akin to Hebrew Qabala the Qiyamat or Great Resurrection of the heretical Ismaili sect the contrary path of the saintly Malamatiyya or blameworthy ones Hermetic color theory and hidden art history A glossary of transliterated terms is appended that will greatly help the beginner as well as the advanced student of these subjects The Fire Within

Elena Borelli, 2014-04-11 Desire for love desire for knowledge desire to possess desire to desire and to be desired our life is shaped by what we want and by our efforts to achieve it Hailed by philosophers and psychoanalysts as the core of human identity desire informs not only our actions but also our dreams and hopes and their sublimation into art and literature This collection of essays explores how desire is portrayed in modern and contemporary Italian literature by analysing some of the most interesting literary figures of the last two centuries The authors of this collection approach desire from various perspectives psychoanalytical sociological political and semiotic in order to show that desire albeit at times not explicitly mentioned pervades the literary works of modern and contemporary Italy either as a central theme or as the secret motor of the narrative Through the fil rouge of desire the essays of this collection highlight the international dimension of Italian literature establishing a connection between Italian authors and the major theoretical works of the last two centuries As the notion of desire as represented in literary texts is informed by psychoanalytical and philosophical concepts that operate across the boundaries of nationality and language modernists and scholars of Comparative Literature will find the papers in this book of considerable interest

Representing the Experience of War and Atrocity Ronnie Lippens, Emma Murray, 2019-04-26 This book explores how the experience of war and related atrocities tend to be visually expressed and how such articulations and representations are circulated and consumed Each chapter of this volume examines how an image can contribute to a richer understanding of the experience of war and atrocity and thus they contribute to the burgeoning field of the criminology of war Topics include the destruction of war in oppositional cultural forms comparing the Nazi period with the ISIS destruction of Palmyra and the visual aesthetics of violence deployed by Jihadi terrorism The contributors are a multi disciplinary team drawn mainly from criminology but also sociology international relations gender studies English and the visual arts This book will advance this field in new directions with refreshing original work

Queer cinema in contemporary France Todd W. Reeser, 2022-08-09 Jacques Martineau Olivier Ducastel Alain Guiraudie S bastien Lifshitz and C line Sciamma The films of these five major French directors exemplify queer cinema in the twenty first century Comprehensive in scope Queer cinema in contemporary France traces the development of the meaning of queer across these directors careers from their earliest often unknown films to their later major films with wide international release Whether having sex on the beach or kissing in the high school swimming pool these cinematic characters create or embody forward looking open ended and optimistic forms of queerness and modes of living loving and desiring Whether they are white beur or black whether they are lesbian gay trans or queer they open up hetero and cisnormativity to new ways of being a gendered subject

Communal Nude Robert Gluck, 2016-05-13 The collected essays of the cofounder of the New Narrative movement on theory identity poetry and muses from Kathy Acker to Georges Bataille I read and wrote to invoke what seemed impossible relation itself in order to take part in a world that ceaselessly makes itself up to wake up to the world to recognize the world to be convinced that the world exists to take revenge on the world for not existing from Communal Nude Since cofounding San Francisco s influential New Narrative circle in 1979 Robert Gluck has been one of America s finest prose stylists of innovative fiction bending narrative into the service of autobiography politics and gay writing This collection brings together for the first time Gluck s nonfiction a revelatory body of work that anchors his writing practice Gluck s essays explore the ways that storytelling and selfhood are mutually embedded cultural forms cohering a fractured social reality where generating narrative means generating identity means generating community I d laugh at make art from any version of self Gluck writes I write about these forms that are myself to dispense with them to demonstrate how they disintegrate before the world the body For any body or text to know itself it must first see how it sees the world and understand itself as writing Gluck s essays affirm this radical narratorial precept in rich spirals of reading self reflection anecdote escapade and metatext These texts span the author s career and his creative affinities from lost manifestos theorizing the poetics of New Narrative to encomia for literary and philosophic muses Kathy Acker the HOW ever poets Frank O'Hara Georges Bataille and others to narrative journalism book reviews criticism and public talks Many of the texts are culled from obscure little magazines and ephemeral online sources others have never been published As lucid as story as lush as theory and as irresistible as gossip Gluck's essays are the quintessence of New Narrative theory in practice

García Lorca at the Edge of Surrealism David F. Richter, 2014-10-15 García Lorca at the Edge of Surrealism The Aesthetics of Anguish examines the variations of surrealism and surrealist theories in the Spanish context studied through the poetry drama and drawings of Federico García Lorca 1898-1936 In contrast to the idealist and subconscious tenets espoused by surrealist leader André Breton which focus on the marvelous automatic creative processes and sublimated depictions of reality Lorca's surrealist impulse follows a trajectory more in line with the theories of French intellectuals such as Georges Bataille 1897-1962 who was expelled from Breton's authoritative group Bataille critiques the lofty goals and ideals of Bretonian surrealism in the pages of the cultural and anthropological review Documents 1929-1930 in terms of a dissident surrealist ethno-poetics This brand of the surreal underscores the prevalence of the bleak or darker aspects of reality crisis primitive sacrifice the death drive and the violent representation of existence portrayed through formless base matter such as blood excrement and fragmented bodies The present study demonstrates that Bataille's theoretical and poetic expositions including those dealing with inform the formless and the somber emptiness of the void engage the trauma and anxiety of surrealist expression in Spain particularly with reference to the anguish desire and death that figure so prominently in Spanish texts of the 1920s and 1930s often qualified as surrealist Drawing extensively on the theoretical cultural and poetic texts of the period García Lorca at the Edge of Surrealism offers the first book-length consideration of Bataille's thinking within the Spanish context examined through the work of Lorca a singular proponent of what is here referred to as a dissident Spanish surrealism By reading Lorca's surrealist texts including Poeta en Nueva York Viaje a la luna and El público through the Bataillean lens this volume both amplifies our understanding of the poetry and drama of one of the most important Spanish writers of the twentieth century and expands our perspective of what surrealism in Spain means

Media Technologies and Posthuman Intimacy Jan Stasienko, 2021-12-16 Constructing a theory of intimacy describing processes occurring between a human subject and information creations Jan Stasienko shows in what way and in what phases that relationship is built and what its nature is He discusses technologies and genres related to the construction of a new television message teleprompter interactive television forms appearing both in the analogue and digital eras composition of the film image and specificity of cinematic technologies peep show hybrid animation digital visual effects Also new media technologies and genres will be discussed for example aspects relating to computer games and Web portals making video materials available This diversity is prompted by the desire to show that the building of intimacy protocols is not the domain of the digital era and on the other hand that the posthumanism of media apparatus is a wide-ranging problem

The novel begins with Richard Pape, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
