How People Change Rebecca C. Curtis, George Stricker, 2013-06-29 In the myth of Daphne and Apollo Cupid fired two arrows one causing flight from love the other passionate attraction Cupid aimed his first arrow at Daphne a beautiful nymph who loved her freedom the next struck Apollo who lusted after Daphne Daphne frightened and intent upon virginity fled Apollo but was unable to run fast enough When her strength was almost gone she sought protection in the familiar waters of her father's river He answered her prayers Her hair became leaves and her feet roots growing into the ground she was transformed into a laurel tree Apollo kissing the sprouting bark pledged to honor Daphne by placing a laurel wreath on the head of every hero who won a victory Unable to evade the consequences of the arrow that wounded her Daphne called upon the river the creative power of both nature and time a symbol of fertility but also of oblivion to help her survive when her strength was gone Daphne's inner triumph in the face of injury is an appropriate symbol for the types of transformation witnessed by psychologists In his book on symbols Circlot 1962 p 173 writes that the crowning of the poet artist or conqueror with laurel leaves presupposes a series of inner victories over the negative and dissipative influence of the basest forces Further the tree denotes the life of the cosmos its consistence growth proliferation generative and regenerative processes Circlot 1962 p 328 Clear Your Past Lynne D. Finney, 1997 Forgotten childhood experiences can lie behind the unsatisfactory relationships emotional turmoil and addictions that so many adults struggle with In Clear Your Past Change Your Future psychologist and award winning author Lynne D Finney provides a step by step guide to rediscovering negative or traumatic childhood experiences coming to terms with them and moving past them into a fuller life affirming future She includes a unique collection of over 60 self help techniques developed by therapists and spiritual teachers for transforming old beliefs and breaking free from destructive patterns of behaviour These include exercises for coping with feelings facing fears stopping self defeating thoughts relaxing visualizing new possibilities and asking for what you want

Social Justice and Counseling Cristelle Audet, David Paré, 2017-11-28 Social Justice and Counseling represents the intersection between therapy counseling and social justice The international roster of contributing researchers and practitioners demonstrate how social justice unfolds utterance by utterance in conversations that attend to social inequities power imbalances systemic discrimination and more Beginning with a critical interrogation of the concept of social justice itself subsequent sections cover training and supervising from a social justice perspective accessing local knowledge to privilege client voices justice and gender and anti pathologizing and the politics of practice Each chapter concludes with reflection questions for readers to engage experientially in what authors have offered Students and practitioners alike will benefit from the postmodern multicultural perspectives that underline each chapter Counseling the Terminally Ill George S. Lair, 1996 Placing a focus on the spiritual needs of death and dying the theme of this book is that the focus of counselling with people who are dying should be on the psychospiritual aspects of death and dying It is based on two assumptions that death and anxiety not pain are the most critical issues for the dying and that the time of dying is an opportunity for growth and transformation The author believes that it is imperative for counselling professionals to realize that at this time understanding and caring are primary
