Freefall Into Us Words Of Lust Love And Life:

A Ghost of Che Mauktik Kulkarni, 2009-08-07 The reader departs with the narrator from Louisville and accompanies him on his route which takes him from Peru through Argentina and Chile on his return through Peru and eventually on his return to Louisville Kentucky However the human side of the story that occurs with the narrator in fact the most outstanding part of the story does not follow as linear a path as the trip on which Kulkarni embarks through the areas of South America In fact what stands out most in the text is the mastery of narration that catches the reader from the first page and never lets go One continues reading because one wants to needs to in fact know what will happen next The plot contrasts the trip through geographic points the ponderings and reflections of Mauktik along his trip and his retrospective vision of his life The result is fascinating All of it awakens our attention The book is a cultural anthropological study that permits us access to the perspective of a person coming from another culture disparate from that of Latin America a non North American vision of our people and our customs What s fascinating is that the narrator does not speak Spanish fluently a reader that has a command of both languages quickly notes the linguistic errors However one immediately recognizes that the value and purpose of the book goes far beyond linguistic conventions A Ghost of Che explores the human condition as told by a narrator who travels thousands of kilometers in search of the unknown and who ends up finding himself in the process he discovers the goodness of people Probably the best tribute that one could make to the book would be to say that the reader wants to embark on a similar journey after reading it Dr Manuel F Medina Associate Professor Modern Languages Spanish University of Louisville in Al Da en Amrica Full review is available Here Moonshine & Mistletoe Glenna Maynard , Falling for a gorgeous stranger is the last thing an outlaw like Axel needs Ainsley is a distraction he can t afford He s sworn off relationships but when there is moonshine and mistletoe involved anything is possible like falling into bed with the cartel the RAW 2.0 Rodrigo Cardoso de Lima, In a place where my thoughts land on paper helped by what my shut eyes can see an abstract mind dances with shaky curves personal colors and entangled shadows Expression and chaos intertwine chaotically as the seeds of creativity I scatter around are nourished by the ways of lived experiences my own Mind World From all the places where I walked danced and have fallen I have discovered duality etched into each step and these steps have paved the path of an unbalanced soul times wandering free of weight times crawling within the darkness that keeps me dreaming Excerpt From the RAW 2 0 R C L <https://books.apple.com/us/book/the-raw-2-0/id6739454662> This material may be protected by copyright
