Gender Planning And Development Theory Practice And Training:

Gender Planning and Development Caroline Moser, 2012-10-12 Gender planning is not an end in itself but a means by which women through a process of empowerment can emancipate themselves Ultimately its success depends on the capacity of women s organizations to confront subordination and create successful alliances which will provide constructive support in negotiating women s needs at the level of household civil society the state and the global system Gender Planning and Development provides an introduction to an issue of primary importance and constant debate It will be essential reading for academics practitioners undergraduates and trainees in anthropology development studies women s studies and social policy

Gender Planning and Development Caroline O. N. Moser, 1993

Gender Planning and Development, 1993

Exploring the relationship between gender and development this looks at gender policy and planning practices based on creating gender awareness and negotiation for women s needs at household civil society state and global levels Gender, Development, and Poverty Caroline Sweetman, 2002 This work examines how gender inequalities impact on men s women s and children s experiences of poverty and demonstrates the importance of integrating gender analysis into every aspect of development initiatives Mainstreaming Gender in Development Fenella Porter, Caroline Sweetman, 2005 Articles discuss how gender mainstreaming has been understood in different organisations provide examples of good work which supports the empowerment of women and look beyond gender mainstreaming to what new possibilities exist for transformation

Minogue, 2001-10-30 This text provides a critical assessment of dominant features of development theory and practice in such areas as globalisation governance social development participation feminism and postcolonialism civil society environment and development management Each chapter addresses a particular approach within development by setting out the orthodoxy and critically evaluates this before engaging more constructively with the challenges presented by contemporary development This approach will give students a clearer understanding of the debates within development today Women and Gender Equity in Development Theory and Practice Jane S. Jaquette, Gale Summerfield, 2006-03-27 DIVCollection of essays on issues of women and development attempting to bridge theory and practice in the post 9 11 era to reflect debates in various realms from the environment land rights and identity to information technology employment and poverty div

Gender, Planning and Human Rights Tovi Fenster, 2002-09-11 Challenging the traditional treatment of human rights cast in purely legal frameworks the authors argue that in order to promote the notion of human rights its geographies and spatialities must be investigated and be made explicit A wealth of case studies examine the significance of these components in various countries with multi cultured societies and identify ways to integrate human rights issues in planning development and policy making The book uses case studies from UK Israel Canada Singapore USA Peru European Union Australia and the Czech Republic Advancing gender equality through agricultural and environmental research: Past, present, and future Pyburn, Rhiannon, ed., van Eerdewijk, Anouka, ed., 2021-11-02 Over the past decade interest in gender equality and women s empowerment has grown rapidly creating a unique opportunity to institutionalize gender research within agricultural research for development This book edited by researchers from the CGIAR Gender Platform reviews and reflects on the growing body of evidence from gender research It marks a shift a way from a traditional focus on how gender analysis can contribute to improved productivity flipping the question to ask How does agricultural and environmental research and development contribute to gender equality and women s empowerment Chapters synthesize the wide range of CGIAR and other research in this area covering breeding research and seed systems value chain participation nutrition sensitive agriculture natural resources climate adaptation and mitigation the feminization of agriculture women s role in agricultural research and emerging gender transformative approaches Men, Masculinities and Disaster Elaine Enarson, Bob Pease, 2016-06-17 In the examination of gender as a driving force in disasters too little attention has been paid to how women s or men s disaster experiences relate to the wider context of gender inequality or how gender just practice can help prevent disasters or address climate change at a structural level With a foreword from Kenneth Hewitt an afterword from Raewyn Connell and contributions from renowned international experts this book helps address the gap It explores disasters in diverse environmental hazard political and cultural contexts through original research and theoretical reflection building on the under utilized orientation of critical men s studies This body of thought not previously applied in disaster contexts explores how men gain maintain and use power to assert control over women Contributing authors examine the gender terrain of disasters through men s eyes considering how diverse forms of masculinities shape men s efforts to respond to and recover from disasters and other climate challenges The book highlights both the high costs paid by many men in disasters and the consequences of dominant masculinity practices for women and marginalized men It concludes by examining how disaster risk can be reduced through men s diverse efforts to challenge hierarchies around gender sexuality disability age and culture Localization in Development Aid Thorsten Bonacker, Judith von Heusinger, Kerstin Zimmer, 2016-11-25 This edited volume brings together the work of scholars from different disciplines including sociology political science and anthropology and analyses how global institutions are embedded in local contexts within development aid It examines theoretical and empirical implications of the diffusion and anchoring of world polity institutions at the local and global levels The volume furthers the understanding of the dynamics of norm negotiation and glocalization processes in culturally varied societies in an era of globalization Themes and topics covered include children and human rights gender mainstreaming multi level actor partnerships anti corruption programming local ownership land rights and corporate social responsibility

Bringing together expert contributors this comprehensive volume will be an invaluable resource for all scholars of localization and globalization studies as well as those in the field of international relations Feminists Doing Development Marilyn Porter, Ellen R. Judd, 1999 Has feminism transformed development studies What happens to feminist theory and practice within the development industry This book brings together a variety of feminist activists and academics from both North and South engaged in development to answer these questions Each describes her project and its feminist rationale and analyses it through three fundamental challenges the problem of making a feminist agenda work within development agencies including the difficulties of finding funding and the constraints imposed by funders the ethical and methodological issues raised by feminism including the differences between women and the legitimacy of studying the Other the challenge of international feminism looking for new ways to work together for global change without imposing Western feminism on Southern women Including feminist projects from the South in the North the book explores how global feminism actually works in a variety of ways through both activism and academic research It is a fascinating insight into the challenges and rewards of feminist theory in practice As such it is necessary reading for practitioners policy makers activists and academics in gender and development as well as all students and academics of women's studies Social Work as Community Development Stephen Clarke, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2000 The second edition of Social Work as Community Development is thoroughly revised and updated taking into account lessons from community development and international experiences applicable in developed economies The application of system theory to the problems of managing change is the core theme The book will be essential reading for the UK DipSW MScEcon in Applied Social Studies and MScEcon in Community Care Studies as well as for students of community development and social work in the USA Asia and Australia It will also be useful for practitioners and policy makers across social work social welfare and social policy

Sustainable Development: National Aspirations, Local Implementation Alan Terry, 2016-04-01 Using case studies from Africa South America Asia and the Caribbean this book examines the progress made in uniting national aspirations of sustainable development strategies with their local implementation Comparing the situation on the ground with formal national environmental action plans the book compares progress or the lack of progress between different sectors cultures regions and resources throughout the developing world It examines whether local knowledge and actions are undermining national aspirations or whether they are being ignored at the national level with detrimental consequences to sustainable development The measurement of sustainable development the role of formal and informal education in sustainable development and the significance of diverse voices in the practice of sustainable development are considered The book draws lessons from those cases which appear to be experiencing positive moves towards sustainability and examines whether common frameworks exist which suggest that good practice may be transferable from one milieu to another Community Planning for Intervention for Victims of Domestic Violence Debjani Pal Choudhuri, 2007 Gender, Power and Knowledge for Development Lata Narayanaswamy, 2016-12-08 Knowledge for development is under theorised and under researched within development studies but as a set of policy objectives it is thriving within development practice Donors and other agencies are striving to improve the flow of information within and between decision makers and so called poor and marginalized groups in order to promote economic and social development including the empowerment of women Gender Power and Knowledge for Development questions the assumptions and practice of the knowledge for development industry Using a qualitative multi site ethnographical study of a Northern based gender information service and its beneficiaries in India the book queries the utility of the knowledge paradigm itself and the underlying assumption that a knowledge deficit exists in the Global South It questions the value of practices designed to address this presumed deficit that seek to increase information without addressing the specific problems of the knowledge systems being targeted for support After reviewing the evidence the book recommends that international organisations governments and practitioners move away from the belief that information intermediaries can employ progressive correctives to tinker at the edges and thus resolve the shortcomings of on going attempts to use knowledge alone as a driver of development Gender Power and Knowledge for Development will be of great interest to researchers students in development studies gender studies and communication studies as well as INGOs donor agencies and groups engaged in information for development i4D ICT for development ICT4D Tech4Dev knowledge mobilization and knowledge for development K4D

Theorising Cultures of Equality Suzanne Clisby, Mark Johnson, Jimmy Turner, 2020-05-17 This book sets out a theoretical framework for thinking about equality as a cultural artefact and process drawing on work from the GRACE Gender and Cultures of Equality in Europe project In revisiting and reframing conventional questions about equality it considers the processes through which inequalities have come to be regarded as issues of public concern the various ways that inequalities have been historically defined and how those ideas and imaginings of inequalities are produced embodied objectified recognized and contested in and through a variety of cultural practices and sites Bringing together an international and interdisciplinary group of contributors the book will be of interest to scholars from across the humanities and social sciences including anthropology sociology and women's and gender studies

Gender and Religion in the City Clara Greed, 2019-11-07 This book provides a conceptual historical and contemporary context to the relationships between gender religion and cities It draws together these three components to provide an innovative view of how religion and gender interact and affect urban form and city planning While there have been many books that deal with religion and cities gender and cities and gender and religion this book is unique in bringing these three subjects together This trio of inter relationships is first explored within Western Christianity in Roman Catholicism Protestantism Eastern Orthodoxy and in the Pentecostal and Charismatic movements A wider perspective is then provided in chapters on the ways in which Islam shapes urban development and influences the position of Muslim women in urban space While official religions have declined in the West there is still a desire for new forms of spirituality and this is discussed in chapters on municipal spirituality and on the rise of paganism and the links to both environmentalism and feminism Finally ways of taking into account both gender and religion within the statutory urban planning system are presented This book will be of great interest to those researching environment and gender urban planning and sustainability human geography and religion Encompassing Gender Mary M. Lay, Janice J. Monk, Deborah Rosenfelt, 2002 From Beijing to Seattle women s movements within academe and in local global communities are growing at an unprecedented rate raising pointed questions about paradigms of Western feminism development global trade and scholarship Despite this growing visibility the perspectives of far too many women especially from the Global South are still excluded from mainstream U S scholarship Presented with the task of preparing students for life in this new and rapidly shrinking world many scholars have found themselves overwhelmed by the need to cross disciplinary and geographic borders But some faculty are leading the way often in defiance of academic traditions and prejudices to a curriculum that reflects consequences of globalization Encompassing Gender is the long awaited anthology of more than 40 essays by 60 scholars many of them working in curriculum transformation groups that cut across the humanities the sciences and the social sciences all of them committed to an interdisciplinary approach to internationalizing the curriculum
