Stephan F. Miescher, Michele Mitchell, Naoko Shibusawa, 2014 Dispossessed Lives Marisa J. Fuentes, 2016-05-26 In the eighteenth century Bridgetown Barbados was heavily populated by both enslaved and free women Marisa J Fuentes creates a portrait of urban Caribbean slavery in this colonial town from the perspective of these women whose stories appear only briefly in historical records Fuentes takes us through the streets of Bridgetown with an enslaved runaway inside a brothel run by a freed woman of color in the midst of a white urban household in sexual chaos to the gallows where enslaved people were executed and within violent scenes of enslaved women's punishments In the process Fuentes interrogates the archive and its historical production to expose the ongoing effects of white colonial power that constrain what can be known about these women Combining fragmentary sources with interdisciplinary methodologies that include black feminist theory and critical studies of history and slavery Dispossessed Lives demonstrates how the construction of the archive marked enslaved women's bodies in life and in death By vividly recounting enslaved life through the experiences of individual women and illuminating their conditions of confinement through the legal sexual and representational power wielded by slave owners colonial authorities and the archive Fuentes challenges the way we write histories of vulnerable and often invisible subjects

Re-Mapping Centre and Periphery Tessa Hauswedell, Axel Körner, Ulrich Tiedau, 2019-03-25 Historians often assume a one directional transmission of knowledge and ideas leading to the establishment of spatial hierarchies defined as centres and peripheries In recent decades transnational and global history have contributed to a more inclusive understanding of intellectual and cultural exchanges that profoundly challenged the ways in which we draw our mental maps Covering the early modern and modern periods Re Mapping Centre and Periphery investigates the asymmetrical and multi directional structure of such encounters within Europe as well as in a global context Exploring subjects from the shores of the Russian Empire to nation making in Latin America the international team of contributors demonstrates how as products of human agency centre and periphery are conditioned by mutual dependencies rather than representing absolute categories of analysis they are subjective constructions determined by a constantly changing discursive context Through its analysis the volume develops and implements a conceptual framework for remapping centres and peripheries based on conceptual history and discourse history As such it will appeal to a wide variety of historians including transnational cultural and intellectual and historians of early modern and modern periods concepts Bernd Herzogenrath, 2022-12-01 This book foregrounds that English monolingualism reduces both our linguistic and conceptual resources presenting concepts from the cultures of 4 continents and 26 languages Concepts seem to work best when created in the interspace between theory and praxis and between philosophy art and science Deleuze himself had generated many concepts in this encounter between philosophy and non philosophy including his ideas of affects and percepts of becoming the stutter the rhizome movement image and time image the rhizome What happens if instead of other disciplines we take other cultures other languages other philosophies Does not the focus on English as a hegemonic language of academic discourse deny us a plethora of possibilities of possible Denkfiguren of possible concepts Each contributor explores ideas that are key to thinking in their language about sound and silence voice and image living and thinking the self and the world while simultaneously addressing the issue of translation Each chapter demonstrates that translation itself is a way of invention rather than just a rendering of concepts from one system in terms of another This collection acts as a travelogue The journey does not follow a particular trajectory some countries are not on the map some are visited twice So there is no claim to completeness involved here it is rather an invitation to answer to the call
