Gendering The Master Narrative Gendering The Master Narrative:

Gendering the Master Narrative Mary C. Erler, Maryanne Kowaleski, 2018-08-06 Gendering the Master Narrative asks whether a female tradition of power might have existed distinct from the male one and how such a tradition might have been transmitted. It describes women's progress toward power as a push/pull movement showing how practices and institutions that ostensibly enabled women in the Middle Ages could sometimes erode their authority as well. This book provides a much needed theoretical and historical reassessment of medieval women's power. It updates the conclusions from the editors' essential volume on that topic, Women and Power in the Middle Ages, which was published in 1988 and altered the prevailing view of female subservience by correcting the nearly ubiquitous equation of power with public authority. Most scholars now accept a broader definition of power based on the interactions between men and women. In their Introduction, Mary C. Erler and Maryanne Kowaleski survey the directions in which the study of medieval women's agency has developed in the past fifteen years. Like its predecessor, this volume is richly interdisciplinary. It contains essays by highly regarded scholars of history, literature, and art history, and features seventeen black and white illustrations and two maps. Gendering Modern German History Karen Hagemann, Jean H. Quataert, 2008-08 To provide a critical overview in a comparative German/American perspective is the main aim of this volume, which brings together experts from both sides of the Atlantic. Through case studies, it demonstrates the extraordinary power of the gender perspective to challenge existing interpretations and rewrite mainstream arguments. The Oxford Handbook of Women and Gender in Medieval Europe Judith M.

Bennett, Ruth Mazo Karras, 2013-08-22 The Oxford Handbook of Women and Gender in Medieval Europe provides a comprehensive overview of the gender rules encountered in Europe in the period between approximately 500 and 1500 C.E. The essays collected in this volume speak to interpretative challenges common to all fields of women's and gender history: that is, how best to uncover the experiences of ordinary people from archives formed mainly by and about elite males; and how to combine social histories of lived experiences with cultural histories of gendered discourses and identities. The collection focuses on Western Europe in the Middle Ages but offers some consideration of medieval Islam and Byzantium. The Handbook is structured into seven sections: Christian, Jewish, and Muslim thought; law in theory and practice; domestic life and material culture; labour, land, and economy; bodies and sexualities; gender and holiness; and the interplay of continuity and change throughout the medieval period. It contains material from some of the foremost scholars in this field and it not only serves as the major reference text in medieval and gender studies but also provides an agenda for future new research.

Applied Narrative Psychology Nigel Hunt, 2023-11-16 A broad ranging introduction to narrative psychology and its applied techniques

Narratives of Nostalgia, Gender, and Nationalism Jean Pickering, Suzanne Kehde, 1996 Most Americans think of Betsy Ross as she was depicted in Charles Weisberger s popular painting The Birth of Our Nation s Flag a motherly figure sewing at the hearth In fact as Jo Ann Menezes s analysis in Nostalgia Gender and Nationalism points out Ross was a widowed businesswoman who ran an upholstery shop out of her house In Weisberger s painting all signs of economic industry are erased and Ross s house is transformed into a home rather than the site of cottage industry Ross is constructed as the perfect heroic mother worthy of sacred creation thus our flag was born Ross s transformation into an icon neatly illustrates the conjunction of soaring nationalism and the establishment of woman as a fixed domestic presence and serves as an excellent example of the master narratives revealed in Nostalgia Gender and Nationalism The essays in this provocative anthology explore the connections between nation and gender and the ways in which nostalgia functions to bind these two presumably unrelated constructions together Collectively they suggest that women pay a special fee on behalf of the nation even though it is traditionally represented as an honorarium given to them and that in fact the nation state takes as a foundational principle the subordination of women

Narratives of Nostalgia, Gender and Nationalism Suzanne Kehde, Jean Pickering, 1996-12-20 Using texts ranging from the writings of Schlegel to the speeches of the fiftieth anniversary commemoration of D Day these essays explore the ways in which nostalgia brokers the relations between the master narratives of gender and the master narratives of nationalism Although such narratives seem to present nation as an unchanging essence these essays all deal with texts that on analysis show nationalism in an evolving response to developments both political and cultural that destabilize the idea of nation

Gender and Crime Sandra L. Browning, Leah C. Butler, Cheryl Lero Jonson, 2024-05-23 This volume takes stock of contemporary perspectives on gender and crime In 1975

Freda Adler published her pathbreaking book Sisters in Crime: The Rise of the New Female Criminal. She made the bold claim that changes in American society including changing attitudes and opportunities would allow for greater participation of women in criminal enterprises. Beyond her substantive thesis which turned out to be partially accurate, Adler opened up a vibrant new area within criminology: the study of gender and crime. Now nearly a half century later, the field of criminology is replete with women scholars who are making plentiful and important contributions. As a result, this volume explores cutting edge issues. Part I starts by laying out a theoretical foundation focusing on the origins of theories of female criminality and then providing an overview of more contemporary perspectives. Part II explores the role of race in shaping women's criminality, drawing on the novel approaches of Black Criminology and the study of intersectionality. Part III gives attention to issues that heretofore were male-centric: illuminating female desistance from crime, the effects of peer groups and gender differences in attitudes toward criminal justice policies. Finally, Part IV considers the explanation of three important realms of criminality: risky lifestyles, white collar crime, and terrorism. This volume will be of interest to a wide range of criminologists and is an ideal choice for use in graduate seminars and upper level undergraduate courses.

Narrative Deconstructions of Gender in Works by Audrey Thomas, Daphne Marlatt, and Louise Erdrich Caroline Rosenthal, 2003. Study of three North American women novelists combining the standpoints of gender studies and narratology. By analyzing the works of Thomas, Marlatt, and Erdrich through the lenses of subjectivity, gender studies, and narratology, Caroline Rosenthal brings to light new perspectives on their writings. Although all three authors write metafictional texts that challenge literary realism and dominant views of gender, the forms of their counter narratives vary. In her novel Intertidal Life, Thomas traces the disintegration of an identity through narrative devices that unearth ruptures and contradictions in stories of gender. In contrast, Marlatt in Ana Historic challenges the regulatory fiction of heterosexuality. She offers her protagonist a way out into a new order that breaks with the law of the father, creating a monstrous text that explores the possibilities of a lesbian identity. In her tetralogy of novels made up of Love Medicine, Tracks, The Beet Queen, and The Bingo Palace, Erdrich resists definite readings of femininity altogether. By drawing on trickster narratives, she creates an open system of gendered identities that is dynamic and unfinalizable, positing the most fragmented worldview as the most enduring. By applying gender and narrative theory to nuanced analysis of the texts, Rosenthal's study elucidates the correlation between gender identity formation and narrative.

Caroline Rosenthal is Professor and Chair of American Literature at the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena, Germany. Her book Narrative Deconstructions of Gender was published by Camden House in 2003.

Gender Stories Sonja K. Foss, Mary E. Domenico, Karen A. Foss, 2012-06-06 Essential for anyone who seeks to understand the contemporary gender landscape Gender Stories defines gender as the socially constructed meanings that are assigned to bodies The book helps readers navigate issues of gender by introducing them to the ubiquitous gender binary the problems with much of the research on gender differences and the variety of gender stories in popular culture At the heart of the book is a description of the process of becoming a gendered person through crafting and performing gender stories Because each gender performance is unique a virtually unlimited number of genders exists not just two as the gender binary would have us believe The same multiplicity that characterizes the gender landscape characterizes the individual who typically changes gender multiple times a day and across the lifespan In Gender Stories personal gender performances are framed within a philosophy of choice Readers are encouraged to become more conscious of the choices they have in constructing their gender identities and to allow others the same choice by respecting their gender performances Readers will easily find a place for themselves in the book regardless of their views on gender because one perspective on gender is not presented as the right one Gender Stories affirms and legitimizes diverse perspectives as providing more comprehensive knowledge about gender for everyone
