Identified three major risk factors implicated in the development of CHD: smoking, elevated serum cholesterol, and high blood pressure. Castelli et al. (1978) This concept of biobehavioral collaboration (1986) Given that these factors account for less than 50% of the variance associated with CHD, scientists and clinicians of many disciplines to consider how they might more effectively address the problem. Jenkins (1976) it has become obvious that additional diagnostic, treatment, and prevention strategies must be identified if further progress is to be made in disease prevention and simultaneously among others behavioral psychology control
