Auld Lang Syne

All around the world there are unique and interesting traditions surrounding the celebration of a new year. Just after midnight in Scotland, many participate in the tradition of "first-footing" by visiting neighbors and friends with a small gift. The first-foot over the threshold of the house is supposed to set luck for the year. "Auld Lang Syne" is often sung at the end of the celebration, just like it is in other countries around the world. In Spain, it is the custom to eat 12 grapes, one with each toll of the clock at midnight, for 12 months of good luck. In the Philippines, many wear polka dots because the circle is a symbol of prosperity. The Dutch burn their Christmas trees in street bonfires, a banishing of the old and welcoming of the new. Eating a stew of black-eyed peas on New Year's Day is traditional in the American South, a custom meant to symbolize coins and economic prosperity in the new year. In countries all over the world, it is common to mark the new year with a kiss. Some believe that not doing so will bring a year of loneliness. What all these traditions have in common is this: we are all hoping for a great new year full of happiness.

When reading a timed passage, it's easy to think that speed is quality as possible. But fluent reading is not just about speed. Many adults can easily read about 300 words per minute, but the meaning is incomprehensible. It is not considered fluent reading. A child should have the same smoothness and rate as a fluent reader. Remember that reading should sound as much like talking as it can.
