Gender Planning Development Practice Training:

Gender Planning and Development Caroline Moser, 2012-10-12 Gender planning is not an end in itself but a means by which women through a process of empowerment can emancipate themselves Ultimately its success depends on the capacity of women's organizations to confront subordination and create successful alliances which will provide constructive support in negotiating women's needs at the level of household civil society the state and the global system Gender Planning and Development provides an introduction to an issue of primary importance and constant debate It will be essential reading for academics practitioners undergraduates and trainees in anthropology development studies women's studies and social policy

Gender, Development, and Poverty Caroline Sweetman, 2002 This work examines how gender inequalities impact on men's women's and children's experiences of poverty and demonstrates the importance of integrating gender analysis into every aspect of development initiatives Gender Planning and Development Caroline O. N. Moser, 1993 Gender Planning in Development Agencies Oxfam, 1994 This work contains a collection of articles on gender planning which resulted from a conference sponsored by EUROSTEP a pan European consortium of development agencies and other European networks The book includes papers on theoretical and practical issues Mainstreaming Gender in Development Fenella Porter, Caroline Sweetman, 2005 Articles discuss how gender mainstreaming has been understood in different organisations provide examples of good work which supports the empowerment of women and look beyond gender mainstreaming to what new possibilities exist for transformation Gender Planning and Development Policies Mr. Rohit Manglik, 2024-04-10 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering learners with high quality study materials and resources Specializing in competitive exams and academic support EduGorilla provides comprehensive and well structured content tailored to meet the needs of students across various streams and levels Gender, Water and Development Anne Coles, Tina Wallace, 2020-05-12 There is a renewed global commitment to water for all Yet even though women are usually responsible for domestic water provision their needs and voices continue to be marginalized in the development process A close analysis of current policy and practice shows that organizations providing improved water supplies to poor communities typically neglect the gendered nature of access to and control over water resources The resulting gender bias causes inefficiencies and injustices in water provision and reduces the effectiveness of well meant efforts This book shows how in different environmental historical and cultural contexts gender has been an important element in water provision It draws on a wide range of first hand material analyzed from different disciplinary perspectives Case studies include analysis of the role of water in inhibiting the fight against HIV AIDS in southern Africa and the challenges of taking gender into account in large water projects in India and Nepal Gender in the Making, 2024-06-24 Gender, Power and Knowledge for Development Lata Narayanaswamy, 2016-12-08 Knowledge for development is under theorised and under researched within development studies but as a set of policy objectives it is thriving within development practice Donors and other agencies are striving to improve the flow of information within and between decision makers and so called poor and marginalized groups in order to promote economic and social development including the empowerment of women Gender Power and Knowledge for Development questions the assumptions and practice of the knowledge for development industry Using a qualitative multi site ethnographical study of a Northern based gender information service and its beneficiaries in India the book queries the utility of the knowledge paradigm itself and the underlying assumption that a knowledge deficit exists in the Global South It questions the value of practices designed to address this presumed deficit that seek to increase information without addressing the specific problems of the knowledge systems being targeted for support After reviewing the evidence the book recommends that international organisations governments and practitioners move away from the belief that information intermediaries can employ progressive correctives to tinker at the edges and thus resolve the shortcomings of on going attempts to use knowledge alone as a driver of development Gender Power and Knowledge for Development will be of great interest to researchers students in development studies gender studies and communication studies as well as INGOs donor agencies and groups engaged in information for development i4D ICT for development ICT4D Tech4Dev knowledge mobilization and knowledge for development K4D Women, Literacy, and Development Anna Robinson-Pant,2004 This book presents a new perspective on the assumed links between women s literacy and development and explores current innovative approaches to research and policy around women s literacy

Development Theory and Practice Uma Kothari,Martin Minogue,2001-10-30 This text provides a critical assessment of dominant features of development theory and practice in such areas as globalisation governance social development participation feminism and postcolonialism civil society environment and development management Each chapter addresses a particular approach within development by setting out the orthodoxy and critically evaluates this before engaging more constructively with the challenges presented by contemporary development This approach will give students a clearer understanding of the debates within development today Women's Participation in Social Development Karen Marie Mokate,2004 Gender Planning and Development ,1993 Exploring the relationship between gender and development this looks at gender policy and planning practices based on creating gender awareness and negotiation for women s needs at household civil society state and global levels Gender, Development, and Diversity Caroline Sweetman,2004 This collection focuses on implications for development goals of poverty alleviation and human rights In particular critiques from Southern women challenge development organisations for their inadequate and inappropriate policy and practice with gender inequality as a key concern Gender Training and Empowerment Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-04-18 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering learners with high quality study materials and resources Specializing in competitive exams and academic support EduGorilla provides comprehensive and well structured content tailored to meet the needs of students across various streams and levels Education, Gender and Development Mari-Anne Okkolin, 2016-10-14 This compelling book takes a novel approach to the complexities of girls and women's education in the global South. To unravel the critical issues and processes behind educational advancement and to identify the factors that support the construction of educational well-being and agency from a gender perspective, the book narrates the stories of women who have successfully built their educational careers to higher education. The book creatively applies the human development and capabilities approach to analyze and assess educational advancement and development. Mari Anne Okkolin offers a fresh voice to the field of education, gender and development. The book draws on rich in-depth evidence from Tanzanian women who have reached higher education, placing them amongst the very small percentage of women in the Tanzanian and sub-Saharan contexts. The book explores the women's school experiences, everyday life practices and familial arrangements, and the values, expectations and assumptions associated with education and the schooling of girls and women. Due to the multi-disciplinary nature of the book, it will be of great interest to multiple academic audiences: post-graduates, researchers and academics. It is of particular relevance for all those interested in education, sociology, development studies, gender, women's studies and qualitative research methodology. The book will appeal especially to scholars working with the capabilities approach. It will also be of value beyond academia for education practitioners in planning and implementing education and equality policies internationally.

A Basic Guide to Evaluation for Development Workers

Frances Rubin, 1995 Focuses on the principles underlying evaluation and deals with issues to be considered at the planning stage, the steps involved in carrying out evaluations and the importance of involving people in the evaluation process throughout.

Political Worlds of Women Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-04-19 Political Worlds of Women provides a comprehensive overview of women's political activism, comparing formal and informal channels of power from official institutions of state to grassroots mobilizations and Internet campaigns. Illuminating the politics of identity enmeshed in local, national and global gender orders, this book explores women's creation of new political spaces and innovative political strategies to secure full citizenship and equal access to political power. Incorporating case studies from Africa, Asia, Europe and the Americas, Mary Hawkesworth analyzes critical issues such as immigration and citizenship, the politics of representation, sexual regulation and gender mainstreaming in order to examine how women mobilize in this era of globalization. Political Worlds of Women deepens understandings of national and global citizenship and presents the formidable challenges facing racial and gender justice in the contemporary world. It is an essential resource for students and scholars of women's studies and gender politics.

Gender Responsive Budgeting in South Asia Pranab Kumar Panday, Shuvra Chowdhury, 2021-11-08 This book analyzes the practice of local level participatory planning and budgeting and its impact on gender responsive budgeting (GRB) in Bangladesh. The book offers a conceptual framework that brings into focus the contribution of successful participatory budgeting practice to ensure GRB, the examination of whether men and women fall under existing income and expenditure patterns differently. It suggests that the ideas of participatory budgeting and GRB should be evolving together to provide a concrete idea to address gender needs The book provides a theoretical explanation that contributes to the consolidation of the practice of GRB at the local government level through participatory budgeting Conceptualizing the process of participatory budgeting and GRB in the context of Bangladesh the book will be of interest to researchers in the field of Development Studies Political Science Public Administration and Gender as well as Asian Studies in particular South Asian Studies Reversed Realities Naila Kabeer,1994-07-17 A dynamic reassessment of development theory with a focus on gender this book examines alternative frameworks for analyzing gender hierarchies identifies the household as the primary site for the construction of power relations assesses the inadequacy of the poverty line as a measuring tool and provides a critical overview of population control
