Moceris, 2015-12-14 To better serve the whole child look at the whole report card Although parents and teachers spend more time in conferences talking about behavior than they do about rubrics and test scores too many teachers are still guessing when it comes to using outdated behavior ratings and comments to describe the whole child With this book you ll take report cards to the next level integrating social emotional learning and character development into any grading system Resources include Guided exercises for analyzing existing report cards Suggested report card designs Tips on improving teacher parent communication Case studies Testimonials from teachers and students The Children in Our Lives Jane Adan, 1991-11-01 I was born at midnight That means I can see ghosts when they want to be invisible writes fourth grader David demonstrating a child s capacity for making sense of personal experience The Children in Our Lives explores this capacity as well as how adult misperceptions of children s experiences affect those children It invites dialogue between teachers parents other caregivers and the general public who value children for their own sakes Adan looks for disparities between a child s experience and the adult s interpretation of that experience In questioning middle class nurturance she focuses on connections between experience and interpretation based on dominant traditional or mainstream values She argues that force of habit as well as a preoccupation with public image predisposes adults to embrace the abstractions that distort perception Consequently children are impaired as adults are in their ability to generate communities that are grounded in a creative concern for all human beings Just the Right Words Inc. accountability and performativity which are pervading early childhood education in many countries the opportunities for parents and other family members to be part of the development of respectful collaborative relationships with their children s early childhood educators are becoming more and more restricted Many educators feel forced to choose between curriculum outcomes and parental engagement as both involve their time There is a danger that the voices of parents and families in their children s early learning and development will not always be heard seen or fully understood This volume addresses this important issue Researchers educators and families will all benefit from this book to the ultimate benefit of the young children who are the future This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal Reporting Pupil Progress Linda H.
