Five Roads To The Future Power In The Next Global Age:

Five Roads to the Future Paul Starobin, 2009 Five Roads to the Future Paul Starobin, 2009-05-28 Farsighted and fascinating predictions for a new world order Veteran international correspondent Paul Starobin masterfully mixes fresh reportage with rigorous historical analysis to envision a world in which the United States is no longer the dominant superpower Following an insightful study of America's global ascendancy Starobin provides the reasons for America's waning influence and explores five possible paths for the future each of which is already in the making A global chaos that could be dark or happy a multipolar order of nation states a global Chinese imperium an age of global city states or a universal civilization leading to world government Starobin's tone is somber but in the end hopeful the world after America need not be a disaster for America and may even be liberating

The Decision to employ Nuclear Weapons at Hiroshima and Nagasaki Joe Majerus, 2013-06-01 Throughout human history there may hardly be found any other single decision that still causes such high amounts of scholarly debate as does the dropping of Atomic Bombs upon the Japanese city of Hiroshima in August 6th 1945 and respectively three days later upon the city of Nagasaki These events have caused close to 100 000 casualties in the civilian population and yet it does not include all of those persons who would later succumb to radiation sickness or severe birth deformations Historians still debate the alleged plurality of motives underlying this momentous decision The debate's result is a polarized scholarly discord which by now virtually abounds in a multitude of different theories and competing suppositions On the one hand there are those scholars who argue that the decision rested solely on grounds of military expediency foremost on the necessity to shorten a gruelling war and to save the lives of American soldiers On the other hand historians offer the explanation that American policy makers above all wanted to exhibit their country's enormous military potency and therefore Hiroshima and Nagasaki should demonstrate the vast destructive potential which presently solely the United States had at its command and so counter post war ambitions of the Soviet Union The author of this study analyses the contextual circumstances in the spring and summer of 1945 and moreover the principal motives of the key American government officials Accordingly the author offers his own substantive and conclusive answer to the question that concerns the primary factors and or ostensibly ulterior motives that led American decision makers to issue the consequential order to detonate Atomic Bombs over Hiroshima and Nagasaki First and foremost the findings rest upon a critical and comprehensive engagement and are based on the available documentary evidence from this time

Chinese Migrant Entrepreneurship in Australia from the 1990s Jia Gao, 2015-08-08 For more than two decades Australia has not only prospered without a recession but has achieved a higher growth rate than any Western country This achievement has been credited to Australia's historic shift to Asia the transformation of the relationship between these two countries is one of the most important changes in the Asia Pacific region However the role of new Chinese migrants in transforming Sino Australian relations through their entrepreneurial activities has not been deeply explored Chinese Migrant Entrepreneurship in Australia from the 1990s adds new theoretical considerations and empirical evidence to a growing interest in entrepreneurship and presents an account of a group of new Chinese migrant entrepreneurs who have succeeded in their business ventures significantly contributing to both Australia and China The first chapter introduces the history between Australia and China followed by chapters focusing on post migration realities economic opportunities Chinese outbound tourism and the use of community media The final chapter concludes with a summary Focuses on the people whose entrepreneurial activities have spread across industries and facilitated trade and cultural contacts Analyses the experiences of the new migrants from China Offers evidence that challenges outdated but still widely held assumptions about ethnic Chinese entrepreneurs Presents longitudinal research on the new Chinese migrant community in Australia since the late 1980 s Demonstrates a dynamic process that challenges the overemphasis on the impact of globalisation on Chinese entrepreneurs

Connected Worlds Ludger Kühnhardt, 2024-06-10 The diary notes that Ludger Kühnhardt took while visiting or staying in 235 countries and territories around the world create a fascinating panorama reflected in the personal impressions encounters and experiences of a political scientist and journalist working all over the world The book reconstructs the connections between Europe's transformations and the emerging global era over six decades from 1960 to the threshold of the post Corona world of 2020

Emerging Powers in a Comparative Perspective Vidya Nadkarni, Norma C. Noonan, 2013-02-14 The book examines the rising influence of emerging powers in global politics with a special focus on the BRIC countries Brazil Russia India China Chapters contributed by international scholars first look at the changing status of the US in the 21st century and at the EU as both an emerging and innovative power China's rising power status India's regional and global influence Russia's re emergence and Brazil's growing regional and international role are then analyzed comparatively to explain how the BRIC states are poised to become vital players not only in politics and economy but also in key international concerns such as terrorism globalization and climate change The book provides a detailed analysis of political economic security and foreign policy trends in the BRIC countries to address such questions as to whether they will seek to revise the international order or work within it and how they will deal with transnational global problems Using a unique comparative approach the text will appeal to undergraduate students in world politics international relations and foreign policy

China's Quest for Global Order Rosita Dellios, R. James Ferguson, 2012-12-13 The rise of China has become a ubiquitous and often menacing term in global politics China's Quest for Global Order From Peaceful Rise to Harmonious World by Rosita Dellios PhD and R James Ferguson PhD examines how China's leadership has responded to this depiction and the strategic approaches that have been developed to ameliorate threat perceptions Rather than simply reassuring others that its rise is peaceful China has taken proactive steps to reduce possible conflicts Beijing seeks to shape the emerging global governance order as both non threatening to itself and productive in transnational problem solving Borrowing from its own Confucian heritage to promote a harmonious world policy China's contribution to world order is likely to be more robust than the responsible stakeholder epithet upon which the West has pinned its collective hopes The book interprets China's quest for global order from Chinese perspectives old and new and provides the relevant philosophical and historical background to engage the reader in the ensuing debates The authors also contextualize Chinese concepts with those from contemporary international relations strategic studies and systems thinking Their resultant contributions to existing analyses include the notion of Confucian geopolitics and the interplay between strategic theatres of cooperation and protection

Teaching in a Globally-Connected World Ervin F. Sparapani, Pamela L. Ross McClain, 2016-07-29 This book examines the current social political economic and religious climate of the world makes projections for the future and then makes suggestions for what the contributors believe educators need to think about in order to adequately prepare young people to successfully navigate that future We live in a globally connected world and young people as they move into the future need to be prepared to live in that future Schools and teachers tend to focus on the present which is okay however schools and teachers must decide what is important to know in the present in order for young people to be successful in the future The responsibility of education today must be to prepare learners to live in an unknown future that is global and not be so focused on an uncertain present
