Justice and Socio-Economic Harm Huma Saeed, 2022-09-19 Maintaining the importance of socio economic issues in devising transitional justice mechanisms this book examines the widespread practice of land grabbing in Afghanistan On 3 September 2003 100 armed police officers bulldozed around 30 homes in the Sherpur neighborhood of Kabul Afghanistan evicting over 250 people Historically the land was part of the property of the Ministry of Defense of which a zone was allocated to the ministry s employees who had built homes and had lived there for nearly 30 years After the demolition however the land was distributed among 300 high ranking government officials including ministers deputy ministers governors and other powerful warlords Land grabbing in Afghanistan has become a widespread practice across the country Based on over 50 semi structured interviews with key informants and group discussions with war victims and local experts in Kabul the current book examines the relevance of transitional justice discourse and practice in response to this situation Following a critical criminological concern with social harm the book maintains that it is not enough to consider a country s political history of violent conflict and the violation of civil and political rights alone Rather to decide on appropriate transitional justice mechanisms it is crucial to consider a country s socio economic background and above all the socio economic harm inflicted on people during periods of violent conflict This original and detailed account of the socio economic challenges faced by transitional justice mechanisms will be of interest to those studying and working in this area in law politics development studies and criminology Second International Handbook of Urban Education William T.

Pink, George W. Noblit, 2017-01-06 This second handbook offers all new content in which readers will find a thoughtful and measured interrogation of significant contemporary thinking and practice in urban education Each chapter reflects contemporary cutting edge issues in urban education as defined by their local context One important theme that runs throughout this handbook is how urban is defined and under what conditions the marginalized are served by the schools they attend Schooling continues to hold a special place both as a means to achieve social mobility and as a mechanism for supporting the economy of nations This second handbook focuses on factors such as social stratification segmentation segregation racialization urbanization class formation and maintenance and patriarchy The central concern is to explore how equity plays out for those traditionally marginalized in urban schools in different locations around the globe Researchers will find an analysis framework that will make the current practice and outcomes of urban education and their alternatives more transparent and in turn this will lead to solutions that can help improve the life options for students historically underserved by urban schools Inequality in Asia and the Pacific Ravi Kanbur, Changyong Rhee, Juzhong Zhuang, 2014-02-24 Asia s rapid economic growth has led to a significant reduction in extreme poverty but accompanied by rising inequality This book deals with three questions What have been the trends of inequality in Asia and the Pacific What are the key drivers of rising inequality in the region How should Asian countries respond to the rising inequality Technological change globalization and market oriented reform have been the key drivers of Asia s remarkable growth and poverty reduction but they have also had significant distribution consequences These three drivers of growth cannot be hindered because they are the sources of productivity improvement and betterment of quality of life This book will be useful to those interested in policy options that could be deployed by Asian countries in confronting rising inequality

Adapt and Be Adept Terry L. Anderson,2021-04-01 How can markets help us adapt to the challenges of climate change Editor Terry L Anderson brings together this collection of essays featuring the work of nine leading policy analysts who argue that market forces are just as important as government regulation in shaping climate policy and should be at the heart of our response to helping societies adapt to climate change Anderson notes in his introduction that most current climate policies such as the Paris Agreement require hard to enforce collective action and focus on reducing or mitigating greenhouse gases rather than adapting to their negative effects Adaptive actions can typically deliver much more faster and more cheaply than any realistic climate policy The authors tackle a range of issues the hidden costs of renewable energy sources the political obstacles surrounding climate change policy insurance and financial instruments for pricing risk of exposure to the effects of climate change and more Reliance on emerging renewable energies and a carbon tax are not enough to prevent the effects of global warming they argue We must encourage more private action and market incentives to adapt to a rapidly changing climate

Revitalising Rural Communities Jessica M. Williams,Vivian Chu,Wai-Fung Lam,Winnie W.Y. Law,2021-10-08 This book highlights the challenges and opportunities of re constructing a sustainable rural community on the outskirts of the urban community Based on knowledge and experience accumulated through implementing a rural revitalisation project in Hong Kong since 2013 the book provides an in depth analysis of a case study along with related concepts from the literature In particular the concept of rural resilience is broken down and used to examine how communities at the urban rural interface can leverage their position and connections to re create vibrant sustainable communities The revitalisation project was showcased in the databases of the United Nations Development Programme UNDP s Equator Initiative and the International Partnership for the Satoyama Initiative IPSI as well as achieving Special Recognition for Sustainable Development in the UNESCO Asia Pacific Awards for Cultural Heritage Conservation in 2020 This book teases out the key issues in the process of revitalising a rural community in the peri urban context and examines the complexities embedded in each issue and how they can be addressed in the quest for rural sustainability

African Traditional Oral Literature and Visual cultures as Pedagogical Tools in Diverse Classroom Contexts Lewis Asimeng-Boahene, Michael Baffoe, 2018-06-01 This book the second in the series is a distinct exploration of how educational policy makers curriculum developers educators learners and social activists can utilize the hitherto untapped rich resource of African traditional oral literature and visual cultures These are epistemological reservoirs and invaluable pedagogical tools in the delivery of content in the classrooms of the present global village most of whom contain diverse student populations from varying backgrounds The content of the book is thus designed to help expand educators repertoire of understanding beyond the hitherto conventional wisdom most of which are either outdated or are colonial impositions on former colonial entities Our motivation for pulling together this anthology was due to the fact scholars educators and educational policy makers have hitherto paid little attention to the epistemological and pedagogical value of Traditional Indigenous Knowledge systems TIKS Our objective has been largely achieved by this anthology in the sense that the research perspectives of the contributors to this effort have enhanced the hitherto limited exposure and knowledge about traditional oral literature and visual cultures in Africa The torch that has been lighted from this endeavor heightens the epistemological and pedagogical implications of TIKS In launching this book we are extending a clarion call to researchers and disciples of Indigenous Knowledge systems in Africa and elsewhere to seize this opportunity and interest generated by this endeavor to undertake more studies in this area Our current efforts were focused mainly on Africa TIKS systems but we strongly believe that there are similar and equally powerful and important TIKS systems in other parts of the world Asia the Far East Central and Southern America as well as the Caribbean that are longing for exploration and exposition It is therefore our fervent hope that exploration and dissemination of knowledge in this field will continue with the flame lighted from this endeavor We believe that these efforts will greatly enhance awareness an otherwise neglected and almost forgotten but important aspects of knowledge creation and dissemination especially about traditional and hitherto unwritten histories and knowledge systems around the world These undertakings will help to broaden the conceptualization of what constitutes global knowledge within the current reality of globalization

Routledge Handbook of Cultural and Creative Industries in Asia Lorraine Lim, Hye-Kyung Lee, 2018-12-07 Recent years have witnessed the remarkable development of the cultural and creative industries CCIs in Asia from the global popularity of the Japanese games and anime industries to Korea's film and pop music successes. While CCIs in these Asian cultural powerhouses aspire to become key players in the global cultural economy, Southeast Asian countries such as Malaysia and Thailand are eager to make a strong mark in the region's cultural landscape. As the first handbook on CCIs in Asia, this book provides readers with a contextualized understanding of the conditions and operation of Asian CCIs. Both internationalising and de-Westernising our knowledge of CCIs, it offers a comprehensive contribution to the field from academics, practitioners and activists alike. Covering 12 different societies in Asia from Japan and China to Thailand, Indonesia and India, the themes include State policy in shaping CCIs, Cultural production inside and outside of institutional frameworks, Circulation of CCIs products and consumer culture, Cultural activism and independent culture, Cultural heritage as an industry. Presenting a detailed set of case studies, this book will be an essential companion for researchers and students in the field of cultural policy, cultural and creative industries, media and cultural studies and Asian studies in general.

Urban Governance in Southern Europe Abel Albet, 2016-02-11 The concept of governance has evolved into one of the most important but also controversial concepts in urban politics. While it encourages co-operation, participation and collective construction at the same time, it has brought about new forms of public demission, oligarchic regimes and less local democracy. The dilemmas accompanying these changes are particularly relevant when observing the cities of Southern Europe, whose socio-cultural specificities very much structure local political and policy materialisations. Bringing together a team of leading scholars from across the social sciences, this volume examines the issues of urban governance in the Southern European context. Illustrated by case studies of several main cities and metropolises on the North Mediterranean coast, it introduces and critically analyses the latest theories and approaches to urban governance. It questions how the real or socio-cultural notion of city seems to have been separated from that of the political city and explores how more integrated socio-political forms might be developed. It looks at current structures, dynamics and cultures of governance in urban development and questions whether they are well adapted to new realities and challenges or whether there are significant imbalances causing limited or fragmented political-administrative visions. By considering both the long Mediterranean history along with the recent but enduring global economic and political developments, this book argues that Southern European cities will have to depend greatly upon its own socio-cultural networks, dynamics and cosmopolitan evolution, making the most of the region's characteristic urban strengths as trading hubs with rich hinterlands and large and varied population.

The Democratic Dilemma of American Education Arnold Shober, 2018-04-19 This compelling new book asks How can American education policy be consistent with democratic ideals Robust democracy is the combination of participation self rule equality understanding and inclusion but these norms can produce contradictory policy Local control in education policy can undermine educational equality Participation in teachers unions can improve working conditions but thwart self rule by local taxpayers The Democratic Dilemma of American Education draws on contemporary research in political science and education policy to offer remarkably balanced insights into these challenging issues Expertly navigating through local state and federal layers of education policy Arnold Shober examines contemporary controversies over education governance teachers unions and collective bargaining school funding school choice academic accountability and desegregation Shober describes the inherent practical dilemmas of current policy and the difficulties policymakers face in overcoming them to produce lasting educational reform in a democratic federal system of government Timely engaging and accessible this is the ideal resource for courses in public policy as well as education and politics CentrePiece, 2005

Innovation and Small Business - Volume 1, Assets, Livelihoods, and Social Policy Anis A. Dani, Caroline Moser, 2008-05-14 Given the lack of adequate universal social welfare for those unable to find jobs in the salaried formal sector the livelihoods and well being of most poor people depends heavily on their asset base This includes their ability to access and accumulate assets obtain decent returns from these assets and use their asset base to manage risks Assets Livelihoods and Social Policy discusses the diverse strategies adopted by people in different contexts to accumulate assets through migration housing investments natural resources management and informal businesses An asset based social policy can strengthen asset accumulation strategies as well as help the poor overcome the constraints of unfavorable institutional environments To a considerable extent asset accumulation strategies depend on the agency exercised by people themselves through individual or collective action At the same time the status of policies and institutions can enable or hinder these strategies and affect livelihood outcomes In synthesis the case studies lead to the differentiation among three different types of policies policies that affect outcomes by directly influencing access to assets by the poor such as land housing natural resources or credit policies and public investments that change the nature of returns on assets such as investments in rural roads agricultural inputs and market development policies that transform the value of assets held by the poor by virtue of administrative decisions that increase or reduce value such as re classification of land from arable or pasture to protected lands land use regulations affecting resource use or modification in regulations governing labor rights or migration The chapters originally commissioned to re examine major gaps in knowledge and development practice ten years after the
