Cathedral Of The World Sailing Notes For A Blue Planet:

Cathedral of the World Myron Arms, 2000-04-18 The curved lines of a sailing ship resemble the inverted dome of a great cathedral surrounded not by soot covered buildings and crowded streets but by a vast liquid wilderness This physical and symbolic connection is at the thematic heart of Cathedral of the World a collection of essays in which writer and professional small boat sailor Myron Arms sets out on a journey both physical and spiritual seeking to explore what he calls the primal spaces and to articulate the sailor's age old quest to understand his world and himself Arms author of the Boston Globe bestseller Riddle of the Ice weaves the experiences of four decades at sea into a series of reflections that range across half a lifetime and thousands of ocean miles During these journeys he takes readers to some of the last wild places on Earth climbing the hills of the North Atlantic in a full gale watching the flight of seabirds listening to the night breath of whales and pondering the questions that all such encounters inspire What John Muir did for western forests what Edward Abbey did for the desert Arms now does for the ocean In a voice that is reverent impassioned and clear sighted he celebrates the wilderness he has come to love mourns its wounds and demonstrates for all of us its power to heal Servants of the Fish

Myron Arms, 2004 As the last of the northern cod disappeared from the fishing banks of eastern North America during the waning years of the 20th century more than just fish faced the threat of extinction In communities all around the island of Newfoundland thousands of fishermen and their families suddenly found themselves confronted by a similar threat Servants of the Fish is the story of these people who are at once the perpetrators and the victims of this event As he did in his bestselling Riddle of the Ice Arms employs the drama of the voyage to bring readers face to face with the people and the geography of the tale he tells It is the tale of a particular time and place Yet it is also an allegory of sorts about predators and prey about greed and denial and about our collective ability as human beings to destroy natural systems once thought to be infinite Dealing Creatively with Death Ernest Morgan, 2001 This manual on death education is a must for any involved in hospice care or work with the terminally ill It covers everything from living with terminally ill individuals to the right to die memorial societies and death ceremonies Its focus on the emotional and economic costs of death is unparalleled Midwest Book Review True North Myron Arms, 2021-07-27 A collection of sixteen personal essays that chronicle two and a half decades of voyaging into remote destinations from the fiords of northern Labrador to the ice fields of western Greenland from the outports of Newfoundland to the fishing villages of Iceland and the Faroe Isles Cruising World , 2000-01

Deep Blue Sylvie Shaw, Andrew Francis, 2014-12-05 Nature religions look to rivers lakes and oceans for inspiration and spiritual transformation Deep Blue brings together the work of influential scholars in the field of nature religion ranging across anthropology mythology sociology and psychology The essays examine the interrelationship between spiritual practice critical thinking and environmental concern Tracing the ancient history of humanity's close relationship with both salt and fresh water the book calls for a sustainable relationship with water in contemporary western culture Deep Blue will be of
