Mayer,2014-07-28 In recent years multimedia learning or learning from words and images has developed into a coherent discipline with a significant research base The Cambridge Handbook of Multimedia Learning is unique in offering a comprehensive up to date analysis of research and theory in the field with a focus on computer based learning Since the first edition appeared in 2005 it has shaped the field and become the primary reference work for multimedia learning Multimedia environments including online presentations e courses interactive lessons simulation games slideshows and even textbooks play a crucial role in education This revised second edition incorporates the latest developments in multimedia learning and contains new chapters on topics such as drawing video feedback working memory learner control and intelligent tutoring systems It examines research based principles to determine the most effective methods of multimedia instruction and considers research findings in the context of cognitive theory to explain how these methods work

Passive and Perspective Louise H. Cornelis,1997 The passive construction in Dutch represents a long standing problem both in linguistics and in written communications This book proposes a new analysis of the passive in Dutch integrating insights from theoretical especially cognitive linguistics and rhetoric composition The point of departure is the observation that the Dutch passive has a demonstrable perspective effect in texts the passive discourages identification with the agent and this in fact is the meaning of the Dutch passive construction This meaning forms the basis for a solution to a number of text problems including the problem of how to best use the passive in computer manuals We can also understand the passive s role in specific texts For example it becomes clear why policy paper writers use so many passives Finally in one of the case studies it is shown why passives were used differently in the NRC Handelsblad a Rotterdam daily newspaper and in the Parool from Amsterdam when they both reported that Ajax Amsterdam s football team became the national soccer champion
