Core Concepts in Health Brief with PowerWeb 2004 Update with HealthQuest, Learning to Go Paul M. Insel, Walton T. Roth, 2003-07-10 This proven text provides a concise introduction to health topics bringing students current information about health and wellness topics An affordable alternative to larger health texts it includes a built in study guide For the 2004 Update the overall content organization and features of the ninth edition remain in place but key topics and issues have been updated with the most recent information available

Environmental Science William P. Cunningham, Mary Ann Cunningham, Barbara Woodworth Saigo, 2003-03 This book is intended for use in a one or two semester course in environmental science human ecology or environmental studies at the college or advanced placement high school level Because most students who will use this book are freshman or sophomore nonscience majors the authors have tried to make the text readable and accessible without technical jargon or a presumption of prior science background At the same time enough data and depth are presented to make this book suitable for many upper division classes and a valuable resource for students who will keep it in their personal libraries after their formal studies are completed The goal of this book is to provide an up to date introductory view of essential themes in environmental science along with emphasis on details and case studies that will help students process and retain the general principles

The Molecular and Cellular Biology of Wound Repair R.A.F. Clark, P.M. Henson, 2012-12-06 Editing a book of this nature was a simultaneously exhilarating and frightening experience It was exhilarating to draw from cell biologists biochemists and molecular biologists as well as those dermatologists pathologists and pul monologists who are cell biologists at heart to author chapters At the same time it was frightening to ask such busy investigators to devote their precious time to writing chapters that summarize not just their own endeavors but their entire area of expertise However the authors assuaged our fears by enthusiastically accepting the proposal to write on specific topics despite the time burden and to update and willingly accept our editorial comments In the editors view the authors have captured the important scientific data in their respective fields have organized the data into an understandable outline and have applied the information to elucidating wound repair processes The explosion of new important discoveries in the field of wound repair and related areas as our book was developing has been very unsettling This observation predicts obsolescence In response to this possibility the authors and the editors have attempted to build fundamental concepts upon existing data Hopefully these concepts will help provoke further experimentation to unravel the complex interwoven processes of wound repair The book has been organized into three parts Inflammation Granulation Tissue Formation and Extracellular Matrix Production and Remodeling
