explorations of Australia the Batavia shipwreck and the Baudin expedition by setting them in unexpected contexts and alongside unfamiliar texts and people The book will be of interest to among others intellectual and cultural historians literary scholars historians of cartography the visual arts women s and post colonial studies The Making and Remaking of Australasia Tony Ballantyne, 2022-11-03 This book explores the emergence of Australasia as a way of thinking about the culture and geography of this region Although it is frequently understood to apply only to Australia and New Zealand the concept has a longer and more complicated history Australasia emerged in the mid 18th century in both French and British writing as European empires extended their reach into Asia and the Pacific and initially held strong links to the Asian continent The book shows that interpretations and understandings of Australasia shifted away from Asia in light of British imperial interests in the 19th century and the concept was adapted by varying political agendas and cultural visions in order to reach into the Pacific or towards Antarctica The Making and Remaking of Australasia offers a number of rich case studies which highlight how the idea itself was adapted and moulded by people and texts both in the southern hemisphere and the imperial metropole where a range of competing actors articulated divergent visions of this part of the British Empire An important contribution to the cultural history of the British Empire Australia New Zealand and Pacific Studies this collection shows how Australasia has had multiple often contrasting meanings Topos in Utopia: A peregrination to early modern utopianism's space Sotirios Triantafyllos, 2021-09-07 Topos in Utopia examines early modern literary utopias and intentional communities social and cultural conception of space Starting from Thomas More s seminal work published in 1516 and covering a period of three centuries until the emergence of Enlightenment s eudaimonia this work provides a thorough yet concise examination of the way space was imagined and utilised in the early modern visions of a better society Dealing with an aspect usually ignored by the scholars of early modern utopianism this book asks us to consider if utopias imaginary lands are based not only on abstract ideas but also on concrete spaces Shedding new light on a period where reformation zeal humanism s optimism colonialism s greed and a proto scientific discourse were combined to produce a series of alternative social and political paradigms this work transports us from the shores of America to the search for the Terra Australis Incognita and the desire to find a new and better world for us Matthew Flinders, Maritime Explorer of Australia Kenneth Morgan, 2016-03-24 This book provides a thoroughly researched biography of the naval career of Matthew Flinders with particular emphasis on his importance for the maritime discovery of Australia Sailing in the wake of the 18th century voyages of exploration by Captain Cook and others Flinders was the first naval commander to circumnavigate Australia s coastline He contributed more to the mapping and naming of places in Australia than virtually any other single person His voyage to Australia on H M S Investigator expanded the scope of imperial geographical and scientific knowledge This biography places Flinders s career within the context of Pacific exploration and the early white settlement of Australia Flinders s connections with other explorers his use of patronage the dissemination of his findings and his posthumous reputation are also discussed in what is an important new scholarly work in the field Comparative Map History and “the History of Cartography” Matthew H. Edney, 2025-07-10 The apparently centuries old field of the history of cartography was invented after 1950 through incomplete historiographies by leading map historians This monograph uses an empirically grounded analysis of the ways in which early maps have been systematically studied since the early 1800s to offer an innovative account of the practices and institutions of comparative map history in support of Western imperialism and nationalism and of how the field was reconfigured as the core of a newly idealized discipline of the history of cartography

Tracing Private Conversations in Early Modern Europe Johannes Ljungberg, Natacha Klein Käfer, 2024-03-01 This open access book provides a multifold exploration of how people in early modern Europe understood conducted and actively used private conversations From sharing personal matters to discussing delicate secrets all layers of early modern society had their motives for wanting to keep certain exchanges out of public eyes and ears and ways of trying to achieve this Detecting such instances in historical sources typically becomes a complex pursuit full of subtle references that require creative approaches especially when it comes to more informal practices Yet in a reading against the grain different sources can offer us hints of how conversations took place in private The book consists of a historiographical and methodological introduction to the study of private conversations followed by ten case studies from a variety of cities villages and countryside across early modern Europe The concluding epilogue suggests some pathways to further explore the terrain of how people have talked in private in past societies IKUWA6.
