Church Christ Corea Malcolm Fenwick:

The Church of Christ in Corea Malcolm C. Fenwick, 1911 American Missionaries, Korean Protestants, and the Changing Shape of World Christianity, 1884-1965 William Yoo, 2016-10-04 This book examines the partnerships and power struggles between American missionaries and Korean Protestant leaders in both nations from the late 19th century to the aftermath of the Korean War Yoo analyzes American and Korean sources including a plethora of unpublished archival materials to uncover the complicated histories of cooperation and contestation behind the evolving relationships between Americans and Koreans at the same time the majority of the world Christian population shifted from the Global North to the Global South American and Korean Protestants cultivated deep bonds with one another but they also clashed over essential matters of ecclesial authority cultural difference geopolitics and women's leadership This multifaceted approach incorporating the perspectives of missionaries migrants ministers diplomats and interracial couples casts new light on American and Korean Christianities and captures American and Korean Protestants mutually engaged in a global movement that helped give birth to new Christian traditions in Korea created new transnational religious and humanitarian partnerships such as the World Vision organization and transformed global Christian traditions ranging from Pentecostalism to Presbyterianism A History of Christianity in Asia, Vol. II Samuel Hugh Moffett, 2014-07-30 The story of Christianity in the West has often been told but the history of Christianity in the East is not as well known The seed was the same the good news of Jesus Christ for the whole world which Christians call the gospel But it was sown by different sowers it was planted in different soil it grew with a different flavor and it was gathered by different reapers It is too often forgotten that the faith moved east across Asia as early as it moved west into Europe Western church history tends to follow Paul to Philippi and to Rome and on across Europe to the conversion of Constantine and the barbarians With some outstanding exceptions only intermittently has the West looked beyond Constantinople as its center It was a Christianity that has for centuries remained unashamedly Asian A History of Christianity in Asia makes available immense amounts of research on religious pluralism of Asia and how Christianity spread long before the modern missionary movement went forth in the shelter of Western military might Invaluable for historians of Asia and scholars of mission it is stimulating for all readers interested in Christian history

The East and the West, 1911 Church Missionary Intelligencer and Record, 1912 Narratives of Nation-Building in Korea Sheila Miyoshi Jager, 2016-07-08 This book offers new insight on how key historical texts and events in Korea's history have contributed to the formation of the nation's collective consciousness The work is woven around the unifying premise that particular narrative texts events that extend back to the premodern period have remained important albeit transformed over the modern period and into the contemporary period The author explores the relationship between gender and nationalism by showing how key narrative topics such as tales of virtuous womanhood have been employed transformed and re-deployed to make sense of particular national events Connecting these narratives and historic events to contemporary Korean society Jager reveals how these sites or reference points were also successfully re deployed in the context of the division of Korea and the construction of Korea s modern consciousness A Selected Bibliography of Missionary Literature ,1912 Balancing Communities Paul S. Cha,2022-01-31 Starting in 1884 with the arrival of the first resident Protestant missionary in Korea and ending with the expulsion of missionaries from the peninsula by the Japanese colonial government in 1942 Balancing Communities examines how the competing demands of communal identities and memberships shaped the early history of Protestantism in Korea In so doing the author challenges the conventional history of Korean Protestantism in terms of its relationship to the South Korean nation state Conversion to Christianity granted Koreans membership in a faith based organization that at least in theory transcended national and political boundaries As a result Korean Christians possessed dual membership in a transnational religious community and an earthly political state Some strove to harmonize these two associations Others privileged one membership over the other Regardless the potential for conflict was always present Balancing competing demands was not simply a Korean issue Missionaries also struggled to reconcile their national allegiances political identities and religious partnerships with both Korean Christian leaders and government officials Improperly calibrated communal demands produced conflict and instability among missionaries Korean Christians and the state These demands led to struggles for control over social institutions such as hospitals and schools incited schisms and debates over church membership and challenged state power and social patterns When they were balanced differently these demands could lead to surprisingly stable and long lasting relations The price of this stability however was often the perpetuation of inequality for the language of community masked the hierarchy of power embedded in these associations Scholars of both Korea and World Christianity have identified South Korea as a prime example of the successful spread of Christianity outside Euro America in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Paul S Cha interrogates the construction of Korean Protestantism and successfully argues that frameworks anchored to nationalism or the nation state fail to capture the complexities of this religion s history in Korea and the relationships that formed among Korean Christians missionaries and government officials especially during the colonial period The Athenaeum ,1911

Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton Murry,1911 The Life of Dr. Arthur Jackson of Manchuria Alfred James Costain,1911 The Cross and the Rising Sun A.
