Turkish Germans in the Federal Republic of Germany Sarah Thomsen Vierra, 2018-10-25 As the largest national group of guest workers in Germany the Turks became a visible presence in local neighbourhoods and schools and had diverse social cultural and religious needs Focussing on West Berlin Sarah Thomsen Vierra explores the history of Turkish immigrants and their children from the early days of their participation in the post war guest worker program to the formation of multi generational communities Both German and Turkish sources help to uncover how the first and second generations created spaces of belonging for themselves within and alongside West German society while also highlighting the factors that influenced that process from individual agency and community dynamics to larger institutional factors such as educational policy and city renovation projects By examining the significance of daily interactions at the workplace in the home in the neighbourhood and in places of worship we see that spatial belonging was profoundly linked to local level daily life and experiences

Art and Architecture of Migration and Discrimination Esra Akcan, Iftikhar Dadi, 2023-10-13 This book brings together essays by established and emerging scholars that discuss Pakistan Turkey and their diasporas in Europe Together the contributions show the scope of diverse artistic media including architecture painting postcards film music and literature that has responded to the partitions of the twentieth century and the Muslim diasporas in Europe Turkey and Pakistan have been subject to two of the largest compulsory population transfers of the twentieth century They have also been the sites for large magnitudes of emigration during the second half of the twentieth century creating influential diasporas in European cities such as London and Berlin Discrimination has been both the cause and result of migration while internal problems compelled citizens to emigrate from their countries blatant discriminatory and ideological constructs shaped their experiences in their countries of arrival Read together the Partition emerges from the essays in Part I not as a pathology specific to the Balkans Middle East or South Asia but as a central problematic of the new political realities of decolonization and nation formation The essays in Part II demonstrate the layered histories and multiple migration paths that have shaped the experiences of Berliners and Londoners This analysis furthers the study of modernism and migration across the borders of not only the nation state but also class race and gender As a result this book will be of interest to a broad multidisciplinary academic audience including students and faculty artists architects and planners as well as non specialist general public interested in visual arts architecture and urban literature

Cold War Spy Stories from Eastern Europe Valentina Glajar, Alison Lewis, Corina L. Petrescu, 2019-08-01 During the Cold War stories of espionage became popular on both sides of the Iron Curtain capturing the imagination of readers and filmgoers alike as secret police quietly engaged in surveillance under the shroud of impenetrable secrecy And curiously in the post Cold War period there are no signs of this enthusiasm diminishing The opening of secret police archives in many Eastern European countries has provided the opportunity to excavate and narrate for the first time forgotten spy stories Cold War Spy Stories from Eastern Europe brings together a wide range of accounts compiled from the East German Stasi the Romanian Securitate and the Ukrainian KGB files The stories are a complex amalgam of fact and fiction history and imagination past and present These stories of collusion and complicity betrayal and treason right and wrong and good and evil cast surprising new light on the question of Cold War certainties and divides Purchase the audio edition Being Jewish in 21st-Century Germany Olaf Glöckner,Haim Fireberg,2015-09-25

Abadan-Unat,2011-05 One of the foremost scholars on Turkish migration the author offers in this work the summary of her experiences and research on Turkish migration since 1963 During these forty years her aim has been threefold to explain the journeys made by thousands of Turkish men and women to foreign lands out of choice necessity or invitation to shed light on the difficulties they faced and to elaborate on how their lives were affected by the legal political social and economic measures in the countries where they settled The extensive research done both in Turkey and in Europe into the lives of individuals directly and indirectly affected by the migration phenomenon and the examination of these research results further enhances the value of this wide ranging study as a definitive reference work Muslim Citizens in the West Samina Yasmeen,Nina Markovic,2016-04-29 Drawing upon original case studies spanning North America Europe and Australia Muslim Citizens in the West explores how Muslims have been both the excluded and the excluders within the wider societies in which they live The book extends debates on the inclusion and exclusion of Muslim minorities beyond ideas of marginalisation to show that while there have undoubtedly been increased incidences of Islamophobia since September 2001 some Muslim groups have played their own part in separating themselves from the wider society The cases examined show how these tendencies span geographical ethnic and gender divides and can be encouraged by a combination of international and national developments prompting some groups to identify wider society as the other Muslim and non Muslim scholars and practitioners in political science social work history and law also highlight positive outcomes in terms of Muslim activism with relationship to their respective countries and suggest ways in which increasing tensions felt perceived or assumed can be eased and greater emphasis given to the role Muslims can play in shaping their place in the wider communities where they live     Jews and Muslims in South Asia Yulia Egorova,2018-09-05 In this book Yulia Egorova explores how South Asian Jews and Muslims relate to each other outside of a Western and Christian context and reveals that despite some important differences the relationship is still intrinsically connected to global narratives about Jews and Muslims She also shows how the Hindu right have turned the South Asian Jewish experience into a rhetorical tool to deny the existence of discrimination against religious minorities and how this ostensible celebration of Jewishness masks both anti Muslim and anti Jewish prejudice Jews and Muslims in South Asia is a fascinating new contribution to the academic discussion of anti-Semitism Islamophobia and their overlapping histories     Arrival City Doug Saunders,2011-03-22 Look around the largest migration in human history is under way For the first time ever more people are living in cities than in rural areas Between 2007 and 2050 the world's cities will have absorbed 3.1 billion people Urbanization is the mass movement that will change our world during the twenty-first century and the arrival city is where it is taking place The arrival city exists on the outskirts of the metropolis in the slums or in the suburbs the American version is New York's Lower East Side of a century ago or today's Herndon County Virginia These are the places where newcomers try to establish new lives and to integrate themselves socially and economically Their goal is to build communities to save and invest and hopefully move out making room for the next wave of migrants For some success is years away for others it will never come at all As vibrant places of exchange arrival cities have long been indicators of social health Whether it's Paris in 1789 or Tehran in 1978 whenever migrant populations are systematically ignored we should expect violence and extremism But as the award-winning journalist Doug Saunders demonstrates when we make proper investments in our arrival cities through transportation education security and citizenship a prosperous middle class develops Saunders takes us on a tour of these vital centers from Maryland to Shenzhen from the favelas of Rio to the shantytowns of Mumbai from Los Angeles to Nairobi He uncovers the stories both inspiring and heartbreaking of the people who live there and he shows us how the life or death of our arrival cities will determine the shape of our future     Visitors to the House of Memory Victoria Bishop Kendzia,2017-12-29 As one of the most visited museums in Germany's capital city the Jewish Museum Berlin is a key site for understanding not only German Jewish history but also German identity in an era of unprecedented ethnic and religious diversity Visitors to the House of Memory is an intimate exploration of how young Berliners experience the Museum How do modern students relate to the museum's evocative architecture its cultural political context and its narrative of Jewish history By accompanying a range of high school history students before during and after their visits to the museum this book offers an illuminating exploration of political education affect remembrance and belonging     Everyday Europe Recchi, Ettore,Favell, Adrian,2019-02-13 Drawing on unique research and rich data on cross-border practices this book offers an empirically based view on Europeans interconnections in everyday life It looks at the ways in which EU residents have been getting closer across national frontiers in their everyday experiences of foreign countries work travel personal networks but also their knowledge consumption of foreign products and attitudes towards foreign culture These evolving European dimensions have been enabled by the EU backed legal opening to transnational economic and cultural transactions while also differing according to national contexts The book considers how people reconcile their increasing cross border interconnections and a politically separating Europe of nation states and national interests

Alevis in Europe Tözün Issa, 2016-07-22 The Alevis are a significant minority in Turkey and now also in the countries of Western Europe Over the past century many of them have migrated from rural enclaves on the Anatolian plateau to the great cities of Istanbul and Ankara and from there to the countries of the European Union This book asks who are they How do they construct their identities now and in the past in Turkey and in Europe A range of scholars writing from sociological historical socio psychological and political perspectives present analysis and research that shows the Alevi communities grouping and regrouping defining and redefining sometimes as an ethnic minority sometimes as religious groups sometimes around a political philosophy contingently responding to circumstances of the Turkish Republic s political position and to the immigration policies of Western Europe Contributors consider Alevi roots and cultural practices in their villages of origin the changes in identity following the migration to the gecekondu shanty towns surrounding the cities of Turkey the changes consequent on their second diaspora to Germany the UK Sweden and other European countries and the implications of European citizenship for their identity This collection offers a new and significant contribution to the study of migration and minorities in the wider European context

The Unsettling of Europe Peter Gatrell, 2019-08-27 An acclaimed historian examines postwar migration's fundamental role in shaping modern Europe Migration is perhaps the most pressing issue of our time and it has completely decentered European politics in recent years But as we consider the current refugee crisis acclaimed historian Peter Gatrell reminds us that the history of Europe has always been one of people on the move The end of World War II left Europe in a state of confusion with many Europeans virtually stateless Later as former colonial states gained national independence colonists and their supporters migrated to often unwelcoming metropolises The collapse of communism in 1989 marked another fundamental turning point Gatrell places migration at the center of post war European history and the aspirations of migrants themselves at the center of the story of migration This is an urgent history that will reshape our understanding of modern Europe

Localizing Islam in Europe Ahmet Yükleven, 2012-02-13 In the twentieth century Muslim minorities emerged in Europe seeking work a refuge from conflict and higher life standards As a result there are now more than 12 million Muslims in Western Europe As these immigrants became permanent residents the Islamic communities they developed had to respond to their European context reinterpreting Islam in accordance with local conditions In Localizing Islam in Europe Yükleven brings this adaptation to light demonstrating how Islam and Europe have shaped one another and challenging the idea that Islamic beliefs are inherently antithetical to European secular democratic and pluralist values Yükleven compares five different religious communities among Muslim immigrants in the Netherlands and Germany that represent a spectrum from moderate to revolutionary Islamic opinions Drawing on extensive fieldwork he finds that despite differences in goals and beliefs these communities play an intermediary role negotiating between the social and religious needs of Muslims and the socioeconomic legal and political context of Europe Yükleven's rich ethnography shows that there is no single form of assimilated and privatized European Islam but rather Islamic communities and their interpretations and practices that localize Islam in Europe
