The Dawning Moon of the Mind Susan Brind Morrow, 2015-12-08 Includes bibliographical references pages 279 284 and index The Dawning Moon of the Mind Susan Brind Morrow, 2015-12-08 A stunning and original interpretation of an ancient system of poetic religious and philosophical thought Buried in the Egyptian desert some four thousand years ago the Pyramid Texts are among the world's oldest poetry Yet ever since the discovery of these hieroglyphs in 1881 they have been misconstrued by Western Egyptologists as a garbled collection of primitive myths and incantations relegating to obscurity their radiant fusion of philosophy scientific inquiry and religion Now in a seminal work the classicist and linguist Susan Brind Morrow has recast the Pyramid Texts as a coherent work of art arguing that they should be recognized as a formative event in the evolution of human thought In The Dawning Moon of the Mind she explains how to read hieroglyphs contextualizes their evocative imagery and interprets the entire poem The result is a magisterial religious and philosophical text revealing a profound consciousness of the world with astonishing parallels to Judeo Christian culture Buddhism and Tantra More than twenty years in the making The Dawning Moon of the Mind is a monumental achievement that locates one of the origins of poetic thought in Western culture Almost before science art and written language these texts set forth the relationship between time and eternity life and death history and ideas In The Dawning Moon of the Mind they emerge in their original luminosity and intelligence alongside a persuasive argument for their central importance to the history of language

Renewal and Ascension Wim van den Dungen, Inventing Afterlives Regina M. Janes, 2018-07-31 Why is belief in an afterlife so persistent across times and cultures And how can it coexist with disbelief in an afterlife Most modern thinkers hold that afterlife belief serves such important psychological and social purposes as consoling survivors enforcing morality dispensing justice or giving life meaning Yet the earliest and some more recent afterlives strikingly fail to satisfy those needs In Inventing Afterlives Regina M Janes proposes a new theory of the origins of the hereafter rooted in the question that a dead body raises where has the life gone Humans then and now in communities and as individuals ponder what they would want or experience were they in that body From this endlessly recurring situation afterlife narratives develop in all their complexity variety and ingenuity Exploring afterlives from Egypt to Sumer among Jews Greeks and Romans to Christianity's advent and Islam's rise Janes reveals how little concern ancient afterlives had with morality In south and east Asia karmic rebirth makes morality self-enforcing and raises a new problem how to stop re-dying The British enlightenment Janes argues invented the now widespread wish-fulfilling afterlife and illustrates how afterlives change She also considers the surprising afterlife of afterlives among modern artists and writers who no longer believe in worlds beyond this one Drawing on a variety of religious traditions contemporary literature and film primatology cognitive science and evolutionary psychology Janes shows that in asking what happens after we die we define the worlds we inhabit and the values by which we live
