

1 Overview

Intended Use

The DCA Vantage is a semi-automated, benchtop system. It is designed to quantitatively measure the percent of Hemoglobin A_{1c} in blood and low concentrations of albumin in urine (microalbuminuria), creatinine in urine, and the albumin/creatinine ratio in urine.

The DCA Vantage system is intended for professional use in a physician's office or hospital laboratory. Tests performed using the DCA Vantage system are intended for in vitro diagnostic use. As with all diagnostic tests, do not base a definitive diagnosis on the results of a single test. A physician should make a diagnosis after all clinical and laboratory findings are evaluated.

The system is a reflectance spectrophotometer that analyzes the color and intensity of the light reflected through the cartridge optical window and reports the results in clinically meaningful units. No calculations are required by the user. When an operator swipes a calibration card, the barcode reader reads the card and the system automatically performs the calibration.
