Hargreaves, Charles Forsdick, David Murphy, 2012-01-01 The 2007 manifesto in favour of a Litterature monde en francais has generated new debates in both francophone and postcolonial studies Praised by some for breaking down the hierarchical division between French and Francophone literatures the manifesto has been criticized by others for recreating that division through an exoticizing vision that continues to privilege the publishing industry of the former colonial metropole Does the manifesto signal the advent of a new critical paradigm destined to render obsolescent those of francophone and or postcolonial studies Or is it simply a passing fad a glitzy but ephemeral publicity stunt generated and promoted by writers and publishing executives vis a vis whom scholars and critics should maintain a skeptical distance Does it offer an all embracing transnational vista leading beyond the confines of postcolonialism or reintroduce an incipient form of neocolonialism even while proclaiming the end of the centre periphery divide In addressing these questions leading scholars of French Francophone and postcolonial studies from around the globe help to assess the wider question of the evolving status of French Studies as a transnational field of study amid the challenges of globalization The Concept in Crisis Nick Nesbitt, 2017-07-20 The publication of Reading Capital by Louis Althusserienne Balibar Roger Establet Pierre Macherey and Jacques Rancière in 1965 marked a key intervention in Marxist philosophy and critical theory bringing forth a stunning array of concepts that continue to inspire philosophical reflection of the highest magnitude The Concept in Crisis reconsiders the volume's reading of Marx and renews its call for a critique of capitalism and culture for the twenty first century The contributors who include Alain Badiouienne Balibar and Fernanda Navarro interrogate Althusser's contributions in particular within the context of what is surely the most famous collective reading of Marx ever undertaken Among other topics they offer a symptomatic critique of Althusser consider his writing as a materialist production of knowledge analyze the volume's conceptualization of value and crisis examine how leftist Latin American leaders like Che Guevara and Subcomandante Marcos engaged with Althusser and Reading Capital and draw out the volume's implications and use for
